ENO PARENTS OF VISUALLY IMPAIRED CHILDREN - At the organization's February 24 meeting, Ms. Karen Sindelar, attorney for the Gover-nor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities, spoke on the legal process aimed at insuring a free and appropriate education for children with special needs such as visual impairment. The process involves fact-finding about the child's abilities, planning the use of resources, implementing the plan, and reviewing the child's progress.

The Eno Group has invited professionals for the next meeting on March 26 who are familiar with assessing abilities and developing resources for schooling visually impaired children. These resources would include the least restrictive setting, an appropriate curriculum, qualified personnel, and such equipment and aids as might be necessary to help with the learning process.

The professionals who have agreed to be present for the meeting are Ms. Rachel Rawls, developmental psychologist, N.C. State University; Paul Roland, developmental psychologist, N.C. Division of Services for the Blind; Attorney Sindelar; Ms. Kathy Spence, consultant for the Severely Handicapped, Department of Public Instruction; Ms. Helen Spielman, resource teacher for the Visually Impaired, Wake County Schools; and, Michael Woodard, parent advocate, Technical Advisory Development Systems.

The meeting will be held at Watts Street Baptist Church at 7 p.m.

For further information, call Ms. Jean or Tony Mulvihill at 919/682-1045 in Durham.
