Awards in all categories will be at the discretion of accredited judges from outside of the Chapel Hill area.

NEGRO ENSEMBLE COMPANY - America's foremost black theatre company, the Negro Ensemble Company, will appear in Stewart Theatre, located on the N.C. State University campus, March 21. The company will present two performances of the Broadway hit "Home", one at 3 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m.

"Home" was written by North Carolina native Samm-Art Williams. The play is the story of Cephus Miles, a black farmer and spinner of tall tales in North Carolina. In a series of events, the play describes how he loses his childhood sweetheart, goes to jail for draft resistance, loses his farm while in jail, and goes to the North to pursue the good life. "Home" was nominated for a Tony Award as Best Play of 1980.

There are still a limited number of tickets available for the 3 p.m. show, but the 8 p.m. performance has sold out. Tickets are on sale at the Stewart Theatre box office for $7 for the public, $5 for senior citizens and children, and $4.50 for N.C. State University Students. For more information, please call the box office at 737-3105.

CRAFTSMEN TO TELL "HOW-TO" - Authentic early American crafts as practiced in Colonial Williamsburg will be demonstrated in Raleigh and Durham this spring.

Four Colonial Williamsburg craftsmen will present a series of lectures and crafts demonstrations through June 14 at Durham's Stagville Preservation Center with identical sessions in the Archives/Library Building in Raleigh.

A gunsmith, a cabinetmaker, a woodwright and a bookbinder will demonstrate their specialties and offer lectures on the subjects during an eight-part series sponsored by Stagville Preservation Center and the Department of Cultural Resources' archaeology and historic preservation section. The programs are free of charge and open to the public and interested professionals.
