Gov. Robert Graham (D-Fla.), the main speaker for the affair told the group that when the Democratic Party was first established that only white male property owners over 25 could join.

"Now the Party has changed so that equality can be realized by all people in the United States. We are Democrats; we are committed to the future," Graham said.

Criticizing the Republicans, Graham said, "This willingness to sacrifice the future for short term gain is endangering our future. As Democrats, we cannot allow this to happen. We must make sure that we have clean air and that our children have a future."

"We must invest in people in the Democratic Party. It is time for Democrats to say, 'I am mad as Hell and I am not

of interest to VETERANS

Ex-service people separated from service during 1975 after 18 months or more of active duty had better hurry to benefit from their full GI Bill education entitlements. They're eligible for 45 months of educational assistance, but it must be completed within 10 years of honorable discharge.

Veterans who received less-than-honorable discharges prior to 1966 have until this April 1 to apply for review and possible correction of their records. After that, the 15-year deadline on applying for review takes effect.

Nearly 4 million vets of World War I, II and Korea who kept their GI life insurance in force will share in a record $619.7 million dividend this year. No application is necessary—the dividends will be paid automatically on the 1981 anniversary date of the individual policy.

Reminder: If your marital status or other circumstances have changed since you designated the beneficiary of your GI policy, contact your nearest Veterans Administration regional office to bring your records up to date.

The veterans reemployment law is not limited to the period immediately after discharge. The U.S. Labor Department has before the Supreme Court the case of an Ohio Army reservist who lost pay because his employer would not arrange his schedule to avoid conflict with his military obligation. The law says no employee should be denied "any promotion or advantage of employment" because of service connection.
