

Garden Club Holds Monthly Meeting

On Tuesday evening, April 21, Mrs. Mary Love hosted the West Durham Blossom Garden Club at her home on Rosedale Avenue. Her beautiful house plants and spring flowers brought in by the members, decorated the house throughout.

The 'Garden Gate' was opened by Mrs. Naomi Parker which included a poem entitled, "In A Friendly Sort of Way." The president presided over the business session which included committee reports; a "Thank You" note from Pine Knoll Rest Home for the gifts given them; Mrs. Gertrude Gibson finalized plans for the flower show on Sunday, May 3; and, April being clean-up and preserving energy month, each member told what she had done toward these.

A delicious buffet dinner was enjoyed by the following members: Mmes. Mary Allison, Aleese Bynum, Anna Duke, Beulah Coley Edwards, Margaret Fuller, Gertrude Gibson, Daisy Gunn, Mary P. Jarman, Mary McClary, Naomi Parker, Doris Reddrick, Georgia Taylor and Misses Ruth and Mary Louise Stephens.

The May 19 meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Parker and Mrs. McClary at their home, 1023 Cornell Street, at which time a consultant will speak to the group.

Mrs. Edwards thanked the hostess for a very enjoyable evening.

A Salute To Black Cultural Arts

By Donald Marable
Stanley Baird & the Triangle Jazz Band set the table for an evening that paid tribute to famous black Durhamites with medleys. Mrs. Wanda J. Garrett and H.M. "Mickey" Michaux, hosts, prepared a meal of entertainment that at least 400 enjoyed thoroughly on Tuesday night in McDougald Gymnasium on the campus of North Carolina Central University.

The occasion was a part of black Durham's contribution to the week-long Durham County Centennial celebration which started on Sunday, April 26.

With elaborate pageantry, the honorees were paid tribute with short films on four video screens that depicted the artists' lifestyles, contributions to the Arts, and philosophies of life.

The list of honorees included:

Charles J. Harris, 96, former professional piano accompanist, described as a "walking history book of music," who once taught at NCCU. He played with Scott Joplin and accompanied the late world renown tenor, Roland Hayes. Harris is still active in Durham;

Samuel Hill, choral musician, who directed the choir at Central that sang the impressive rendition of "Jesus Walked that Lonesome Valley";

John H. Gattis, music and drama, who has influenced so many through his famous "Mr. G's Swing School" at Hillside High School and his masterful performances at the organ, principally of White Rock Baptist Church;

Mrs. Margaret Spaulding Shearin, piano instructor and founder of Durham's Chamberlin Studio of Music, whose arrangements of four Negro Spirituals were performed by the Fisk (University) Quintet during their European tour;

Philmore Hall, band choreographer, who is credited with the creation of the famous Hillside High School Marching Band that has received so much praise for the proud steps and sounds it produces;

Miss Mary Bohanon, drama and poetry, who became a mentor for Ivan Dixon, Billy Eaton, Grady

Tate, Martin Golar and Barbara Massey who were all her students. Dixon said, "It was her insistence upon quality that I will always have. I'll remember everything about her." Dixon starred in the television series, "Hogan's Heroes", directs "Palmerstown USA", "Righteous Aples" on public television and other shows. He is a member of The Director's Guild of America, and the Black Filmmaker's Hall of Fame.

There were performances by Michael "Mickey" Tucker on the piano, Ella Eura-Eaton, soprano with the Metropolitan Opera, who received a standing ovation; Ivan Dixon with a tribute to Martin Luther King, who moved the gym with "I Have A Dream", after which the choir sang "Precious Lord" to receive a standing ovation.

Shirley Caesar, incomparable two-time Grammy winner, paid tribute to the Lord first, and the honorees, then transformed McDougald Gym into a temple overflowing with gospel melodies.

All of the female honorees' and performers' arms were filled with roses. There were two short periods of silence for the children of Atlanta that hushed the entire gym.

Grady Tate was the only performer who did not appear because of a pressing engagement for a show in New York for Lena Horn. The whole house stood with Miss Caesar and joined hands in topping off the evening as she sang "Reach Out and Touch Somebody's Hand". Then, as the house lights were brought up, there were handshakes, hugs, kisses, pictures and thanks for such a wonderful evening.

DURHAM NAACP TO HOLD ELECTIONS

The Durham Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will hold a new election of officers Tuesday evening, May 5, at White Rock Baptist Church.

The new election was ordered February 7 by the Executive Committee of the National Board of Directors following a complaint filed against the Branch for not following the National constitution as it relates to elections.

According to the order dated February 9, 1981, the Branch was advised that the Executive Committee voted to order the new elections because the Branch failed to comply with Article V of the Constitution and By-laws for Branches of the Association as it relates to the sending out of notices to all members at least seven days prior to the October meeting, November meeting and December election.

The Durham Branch consolidated all of the notices and sent them prior to the October election of the nominating committee. The notices outlined the purposes of the three meetings.

However, according to the Director of Branches and Field Services, William Penn, Sr., the Branch needed to make a separate mailing for each of the three notices in order to comply with the Constitution.

The order further stated that the Article V stipulates that when a new election is ordered by the National Board of Directors, such election must be held within thirty days, or as soon as possible thereafter, and the National Office shall appoint the presiding individual to supervise the election and nominating process. The National Office appointed Mrs. Carolyn Q. Coleman, N.C. Field Director, to conduct the election.

"At most banks you're talking to an institution. My customers talk to me."

"I'm a Personal Banker" at Wachovia, and one of the most satisfying aspects of my job is that I can give my customers the kind of personal attention that's lacking at so many institutions.

"First, my customers know the telephone number where I can be reached during business hours. They know I have the training and experience to help them with a complete range of banking needs, from opening a checking account to arranging a loan. And finally, they know I have the authority to make decisions.

"If that sounds like the kind of banking relationship you'd like, call me and let's talk about it. Or stop by and see me this week."
