The Richardsons Go Abroad

Mrs. Sylvia Richardson and her sons, William and Rodney, visited West Berlin, Germany April 12-26. They traveled via World Airways with the North Carolina Triangle Chapter of the Friendship Force. They were a part of 384 ambassadors who traveled to Germany.

The Friendship Force grew out of a project sponsored by former President and Mrs. Jimmy Carter in 1973. At the time, he was Governor of Georgia. In March of 1977, President Carter announced at a meeting of the National Governors Conference the establishment of the office and it was chartered at that time. The international office is located in Atlanta. There are branches of the Friendship Force in many states, including North Carolina. The primary purpose of the exchange is to establish friendships between nations.

The Richardson Family lived with Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang Blume and their children, Thomas and Sylvia, in the Reinickendorf district of West Berlin for one of their two weeks.

While in Europe, the Richardsons also traveled independently through Northern West Germany, spending two days in Copenhagen, Denmark and one day in Malmo, Sweden. While in Copenhagen they visited Queen Margarita's Palace and saw the changing of the guards.

Another highlight of the trip was an afternoon spent shopping, sightseeing and dining in East Berlin.

Mrs. Richardson is the Unit Nurse Director of Medical Services at John Umstead Hospital. William and Rodney are students at Pearsons Elementary School, sixth and fourth grade, respectively.

Unbeatable Strawberry Treat!

According to legend, one of England's favorite sweets was created when a housewife didn't have a dessert, so she put together bits and pieces of leftover cake, fruit, custard, fruit preserves and whipped cream with liqueur for flavoring.

When her husband praised the result, she modestly said "Oh, it's just a trifle." And the name has stuck.

For a fine trifle, you can use any fruit, preserve, liqueur or juice with a pound cake and custard or vanilla pudding.

But when you combine fresh, homegrown strawberries with a rich, buttery frozen Sara Lee Original All Butter Pound Cake, the result is an unbeatable strawberry treat.

Pound Cake Trifle

1 frozen Sara Lee Original All Butter Pound Cake (10 3/4 oz.) thawed	2 cups pudding or custard
1/4 cup sherry or orange juice	2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
1/2 cup strawberry preserves	Whipped cream, optional

Slice pound cake into 10 slices. Place half of pound cake slices in 2 1/2 quart glass bowl; sprinkle with half of sherry. Spoon half of preserves over pound cake slices, then layer on half of pudding and half of strawberries. Repeat layers. Refrigerate covered 2 hours before serving to blend flavors. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 10-12 servings.
