

Hour Of Triumph

MRS. MCCOY

We wish to thank everyone who remembered us at the Homegoing of our beloved relative, Mrs. Willie Eaton McCoy.

Life is so wonderful, life such as thine; Death cannot end it, Loved One of mine.

This is not dying brave Loved One dear, Thou art but climbing up out of here;

So, then, goodnight Loved One, only goodnight, Turn thy dear face to the mansions of light.

Philadelphia Minister Moves To Durham

The Rev. Dorothy L. Glover, a native of Florida, has been pastoring in Philadelphia for the past eleven years at Mount Herman Baptist Church, has relocated in the Durham area.

I LOOKED AND I SAW

The Power of Sin By Rev. C. R. Stone

Whether a man chooses to obey the evil or good spirits which he encounters daily, he is not the primary master of his own destiny.

It becomes the everyday duty of Satan to fill the minds of all his believers with what seems to be sound promises based on delivrance.

Sin has a turning effect on man; one which causes him to do an "about-face" to the righteousness of God.

He who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

REV. GLOVER

apart from the African government is an example of U.S. hypocrisy.

Mrs. Abzug said the Reagan administration is collaborating with the Moral Majority, conservative congressmen, corporate executives, Nazi Party, and Klansmen to conspire to wedge groups and individuals who support human rights, human services, and human freedoms.

"The real threat to world peace is the Reagan government," Mrs. Abzug said, while citing Reagan's proposal to slash $48 billion from human needs and services while adding $38 billion to the defense budget.

Several other speakers were critical of current conditions at home and abroad. They blamed the conservative movement for creating the violent climate that presently exists within the U.S. and for supporting reactionary violence against freedom fighters abroad.

The rally, although not as emotional as some held here during the 1960's, represented a clear warning signal to the American right; the liberal element is "more than capable of rallying its troops," said Larry Holmes, rally organizer.

He explained that today's movement is stronger than those of the sixties, because the questions of war, racism, and all forms of discrimination have been linked.

From a historical perspective, the significance of the crowd diversity here Sunday was astounding and profound.

Both Malcolm X and Martin Luther King, Jr., shortly before their deaths, were attempting to link workers everywhere into a people's movement.

Sunday's rally, according to Holmes, marks the beginning of the people's movement.

Several "Moonies", a conservative, right-wing group, attempted unsuccessfully to disrupt the rally.

Budget Cuts To Be Aired

State legislator Patricia Hunt and representatives of eleven federally funded children's programs in the Orange/Chatham area will describe the probable effects on local children of new state legislation and federal budget cuts if they are passed.

WIC, food stamps, school feeding programs, Title XX Day Care funds; education for the handicapped children, AFDC, adoption assistance, and health programs are among the federal cuts that will be discussed.

"Children's Services News, a publication of the Inter Faith Council for Social Services, is a quarterly publication with the goal of informing the community of service providers, child advocates, and governmental decision makers about all services and issues that affect young children in the Orange/Chatham community.

"We can see that there is a great deal of stress and concern in our community about what is going to happen to services for children if these changes take place," said Ms. Sue Baker of CSN's advisory board.

All those attend the May 11 meeting will be given legislative checklists that describe state and federal bills as they stand on May 11, to which they can add their own notes.

A separate march and rally were held simultaneously by the Progressive Labor Party. They are seeking the same ends, but by revolutionary means.

Several "Moonies", a conservative, right-wing group, attempted unsuccessfully to disrupt the rally.

Mortician Earns Certification For Tissue Bank

Ernest Carlton Terry, licensed mortician and assistant manager of Garnes Funeral Home, has been certified by the School of Medicine at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill in eye enucleation and sterile techniques.

The course was directed by Dr. Kenneth Cohen of the Department of Ophthalmology at the school.

There is a shortage of eyes available for this type of surgery, and anyone wishing to become a donor should contact Terry, the Henderson Lions Club, or the N.C. Eye and Human Tissue Bank Inc., Terry said.

The service is provided without charge. The North Carolina Eye

NEWS OF ART

Recorded Account of Life In America

When the first blacks came to America, they brought with them a culture enriched with concepts of traditional Africa and its art.

Years passed. Subject matter changed. But the concept of black artists remained the same: celebration of the experiences of a people.

The Barnett-Aden Gallery collection in Washington, D.C., which presents works of black artists, serves as an inspirational and an educational resource for those wanting to learn more about black history. Working in conjunction with McDonald's, a special educational kit—BLACK HISTORY THROUGH ART: A where praised. "No draft, no war, U.S. out of El Salvador; Starve the Pentagon, not the poor, Victory to El Salvador," was one of the chants of the paraders as they trekked the two and one-half miles.

The march required over two hours to complete. Organizers said rally size represented an American people's mandate to President Reagan: "no military involvement in El Salvador and no human services reductions."

A diverse group of speakers addressed the crowd, blasting Reaganism and the neo-conservative movement. Among them were Rev. Herbert Daughtry, chairman, National Black United Front and Mrs. Bella Abzug of Women, USA.

Daughtry described Reagan's policies as "madness." "There is madness in the White House — how else can the nation's present course be characterized," he said. He was critical of the administration's "love affair" with South Africa, saying recognition of the

The Durhamites To Present Fourth Annual Scholarship Award

THE DURHAMITES of the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Area proudly announce the presentation of the organization's FOURTH ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP AWARD which will be made on Saturday evening, May 23, at the International Inn, No. 10 Thomas Circle, NW, Washington, D.C. (conveniently located in the downtown area - 14th Street and Massachusetts Avenue, NW).

The support and contributions received from fellow DURHAMITES have enabled THE DURHAMITES to donate a $1,000 scholarship to a worthy student of Durham, North Carolina for three consecutive years. Last year's recipient is nearing completion of his freshman year at the University of Florida. Appreciation is extended to each contributor for the success of making an aspiration a reality.

This year, THE DURHAMITES plan to donate a fourth scholarship to another deserving senior high school student in the city or county of Durham, North Carolina, to provide financial assistance during the first year of college. In addition, concerted efforts will be made to continue the trend of responding to local community emergencies and individual needs. The loyalty and support of the many friends of THE DURHAMITES, not only provide funds so sorely needed to carry out the programs of the organization, but serve as an incentive for the organization to strive for the accomplishment of greater objectives.

Individuals, small groups and organizations: for further information/tickets, write: THE DURHAMITES, c/o Mr. James Turner, Chairman, Ways & Means Committee, 1800 Sycamore Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20012.
