Six Seminars In Art Scheduled For Summer

During July and August of 1981, the N.C. Museum of Art will sponsor six seminars for classroom teachers of kindergarten through sixth grade who wish to use art as a teaching tool. All areas of art will be explored — visual arts, dance, creative writing and drama.

One seminar will be held at the N.C. Museum of Art at Raleigh. The remaining five will be hosted by affiliate galleries — Asheville Art Museum, Fayetteville Museum of Art, Hickory Museum of Art, The Mint Museum of Art and Wilkes Art Gallery.

The seminars will offer slide show lectures, participatory workshops, and trips into the local community, all over a five-day period (Monday-Friday). The seminars also will provide thirty hours of contact time and information about arts resources around the state, including the teachers' own communities.

The teachers completing the five-day seminar will qualify for three units of renewal credit through N.C. State University. NCSU charges $5 to cover the cost of adding the renewal information to the University's computer program. Teachers who do not wish to receive the renewal credit may register for the seminars free of charge.

There may be an additional charge (a maximum of $10 per person) to help pay for a chartered bus on field trips. Information about the field trip may be obtained from the local museum involved.

Generally, a maximum of forty participants per museum may enroll on a first-come basis. Teachers should check with local museums to confirm the enrollment number.

No prior art education or experience is required. Applications are due on or before June 10.

For details, call Richard Craven at NCMA in Raleigh, 733-7568, or contact the local museum.
