National Barristers' Wives, Inc. Celebrates 30th Anniversary

National Barristers' Wives, Inc., observed its Thirtieth Anniversary during the annual meeting held July 25-August 1, at the Detroit Plaza, Renaissance Center, Detroit, Michigan, in conjunction with the Fifty-Sixth Annual Convention of the National Bar Association. The NBA is the predominately black association of lawyers and judges within the United States and abroad. The Detroit Barristers' Wives, with Mrs. Alex Allen as president, were hostesses. Mrs. Dalton Roberson and Mrs. Raymond Sewell were co-chairmen of the national convention.

With more than 3,000 members of the NBA, the NBW and their families in attendance, informative, educational and enriching seminars, tours and general meetings were effectively carried out by all segments.

The National Barristers' Wives, Inc., is noted for its unique program begun in 1969 — the Dorothy Atkinson Legal Education Scholarships — which has assisted many students to receive a legal education.

With its theme of Family Survival in the 80's and with special emphases on the black family, Dr. Lena Wright Myers, noted professor at Jackson State University, led the informative discussion on black family members, and especially black women. The discussion centered on research done by her on black women of varying statuses from Michigan and Mississippi. These black women had risen to heights of achievement in spite of family handicaps. Dr. Wright is also author of Black Women — Do they Cope Better?

The Board of Governors of NBA and the Executive Board of the NBW, Inc., were tendered a reception and tour of "Manoogian Mansion", the official home of Mayor Coleman Young on Lake Michigan. Mayor Young and his official hosts greeted the guests. The Edsel Ford Mansion on Lake Michigan was also the site for tours and a reception sponsored by the NBA presidents. The Judicial Council tendered a reception and tour of some of the notable homes of blacks in Palmer Park.

Other highlights of the annual NBW convention included a Detroit and Canadian Exchange tour with a discussion on the Black Heritage Museum by Mrs. Anita Travis, native black Canadian. It will be remembered that Detroit, Michigan was the last stop for slaves who had escaped the southern plantations for freedom after crossing the Detroit River. Many markers attest to the fact as well as historic churches (black) which helped them in their quest for freedom.

Mrs. Robert Archie, second vice president, presented the Regional Directors program which centered on Chapter Experience Sharing, Exhibits from chapters and other interesting facts.

National historian, Mrs. Melton Lewis, focused on founders and past national presidents and honored them for their contributions to the NBW.

National president, Mrs. June Lott, presented plaques for services rendered to Attorney DeLong Harris, certificates of appreciation to NBA president William E. Borders and some members for outstanding services.

Mrs. Harvey E. Wilbekin, Cincinnati, Ohio, was elected president of the NBW. Mrs. Robert Archie, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania was elected president-elect.

Several Dorothy Atkinson Legal Education Scholarships were awarded. Atty. Acie L. Ward and Sheila Parrish, former legal education scholarship awardees, were noted for the continuing successes in the legal arena during the annual fashion show luncheon.

Durham chapter members of the NBW in attendance included Mrs. LeMarquis DeJarmon, a founder and past president, and Mrs. C.C. Spaulding, Jr., a past president.

Atlanta, Georgia will host the 1982 annual meetings of the National Bar Association and the National Barristers' Wives, Inc.

items were made for home use. There were several very helpful handouts available to the parents.

There was also a brief discussion on available resources for children at the Learning Center at the Stanford L. Warren Library. Parents were encouraged to use the facility and to check out the many educational, but fun materials available. At present, the Center is open on Wednesday from 9 to 5 o'clock.

The general purpose of Kiddie Kollege is to provide a warm atmosphere that is safe and healthy for pre-school age children so they can develop desirable attitudes, habits, skills and an interest and joy in learning.
