FALL SURVIVAL COURSE OFFERED — To the average spectator, football consists of a quarterback, a running back, and a receiver playing the game almost totally by themselves. The work of the other players and the intricate team strategy often go unnoticed by the casual football fan. The members of the Duke University Football Coaching staff, in conjunction with the Office of Continuing Education, have prepared a one-evening seminar which will better prepare participants for the coming season of America's favorite spectator sport.

The Seminar will be held on Wednesday, August 12, 7:30-9:30 p.m., in the air-conditioned Football Squad Room of Cameron Indoor Stadium. A $5 fee will be charged. Registration may be completed by mailing the fee, along with your name, address and telephone number to: Ms. Marilyn Hartman, Office of Continuing Education, Duke University, 107 Bivins Building, Durham, NC 27708. Registrations will also be accepted at the door, space permitting.

FREE FEATURE MOVIES are shown each Saturday at 3 p.m., in the auditorium of the Durham County Public Library. Plan to see "I Heard The Owl Call My Name" August 8; "The King And I" August 15; and "King Kong" August 22.

THE PAINTINGS AND DRAWINGS of Janet Burgess representing the theme of "Landscapes of the Mind" will be on display August 7-31 at Center/Gallery, 118-A E. Main St., Carrboro. Hours are Fri. & Sat., 11-5, Sun. 2-5. An opening reception will be held Friday, August 7, 8-10 p.m. For more information, call 967-1316 or 919/944-1735.
