

Tom Gilmore Speaker For Black Caucus

GOLDSBORO—Tom Gilmore, Deputy Secretary of the North Carolina Department of Human Resources, challenged members of The Third Congressional District Black Leadership Caucus in Goldsboro on Saturday, October 17, to "dare to dream together for a better future."

Speaking to the caucus at the First African Baptist Church, Gilmore told the members to ask themselves two questions: 1) What problems do we have in common in the Third Congressional District? Analyze the strengths as well as the weaknesses, and then ask, 2) What can be done to make the region what we want it to be?

Gilmore told the group that our children are our most valuable resource and that the strength of our state and nation lies in the investment we are willing to make in their future.

He said the goals of our state should be to provide opportunity for good health, good education, and good jobs for all of our citizens. Education, of necessity, must be our primary concern. Education develops human resources, and human resources, in turn, determine the quality of life.

Gilmore said that the Reagan administration through across the board cuts is hurting the working poor — those very families which are making the greatest effort to help themselves.

He urged those in attendance to renew their commitment for a better North Carolina for all citizens.

Second People's Market Day A Success

On Saturday, October 3, the Durham Chapter of the National Black Independent Political Party held its second People's Market Day on Fayetteville Street, in the parking lot of Charles Dunham's Food Service.

The winners of the raffle drawing at the site were Brother "Ya Ya" and M. Annie Blake who were winners of a basket of fruit and vegetables and a six- and three-month membership, respectively, to the Chapter.

According to Arnold Dennis, co-convenor of the Durham Chapter, the affair was very successful. Most of those who came to the Fair said that they wished the Party would sponsor this kind of Fair every week. The primary purpose of the Fair was to provide the community with fresh farm grown vegetables at very low cost to low income and other budget conscious individuals.

The Party believes in independence and self-reliance among black people. The produce was purchased from black farmers from the surrounding counties.

Future community activities sponsored by the Party will be announced in black newspapers and over black-oriented radio stations.

Monthly meetings of the Durham Chapter are held every third Sunday at 4 p.m. at Union Baptist Church. The total black community is invited to participate. This is a party for the people.
