Second runner-up in the Miss Alumni of Winston-Salem State University homecoming activities was Mrs. Ernestine Williams, 1212 Rosewood Avenue, Durham. She was crowned during the halftime of the WSSU-JSU football game on October 30.

Mrs. Williams is a public school teacher in Durham. In addition to membership in several educational organizations, she is a member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Rosewood St. Community Club and White Rock Baptist Church.

La Petite Holds November Meeting

La Petite Gardeners held their November meeting in the home of Mrs. Lela Smith on Bacon St. The home was beautiful with lovely fall flowers.

Mrs. Genevieve McCrae, president, presided. Mrs. Smith opened the Garden Gate. After a formal opening, members made plans for the Christmas Party at the Sunshine Rest Home. Committees were appointed to serve for the Christmas Decoration Show which will be held Sunday, December 6, in the auditorium of the J.J. Henderson Towers on Duke Street.

The Gardeners will end the season with a Christmas brunch in the home of Mrs. McCrae on Nelson St. She and Mrs. Josephine Robinson will be hostesses for this affair.

The members thanked Mrs. Smith for her hostessing.

Iotas Meet With Mrs. Cooper

Rho Chapter, Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc., held its regular monthly meeting Sunday, Nov. 22, at the home of Mrs. Juliette Cooper. The president, Mrs. Otelia Stewart, presided.

Sorors contributed food to provide a basket for a family in need at Thanksgiving. Other sorors will be inviting foreign students from North Carolina Central University into their homes for Thanksgiving dinner.

The Country Squire Restaurant will be the setting for Rho's annual Christmas party on December 13. Members and their guests are invited to attend.

In observance of National Education Week, Mrs. Norma Royal, media specialist at Eno Valley Elementary School, presented an informal talk on "The National Education Week theme, 'Parents and Teachers: Partners in Our Children's Future.'" Mrs. Royal said, "Education is like a puzzle with missing parts. The missing parts are teachers, principals, administrative staff, parents, legislators, custodians, cafeteria staff, etc. All of these parts are necessary for a well-rounded education." Mrs. Royal challenged the members of Rho Chapter to become one of the partners in the puzzle by making an investment in a school of their choice and becoming a school volunteer so that knowledge and skills can be shared with boys and girls.

The hostesses of the month, Sorors Juliette Cooper, Ernestine Bynum, Josephine DeNard and Ruth Bolden, served a lovely repast to the following members: Sorors Laura Bruce, Barbara Avant, Emily Cogwell, DeNina Austin, Vivian Gates, Ruby Bolden, Barbara Minor, Helen Jones, Margaret Coleman, Hazeline Rempson, Marion Spaulding, Ruth Lyon, Mable Butler, Julia Henderson, Nezzie C.
