Jack & Jill Holds Regional Meet In Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE — Jack and Jill of America, Inc., held its Mid-Atlantic Region Cluster meeting here at Fayetteville State University recently. The theme for the meeting was "Family Values in the Decade of the 80's".

Dr. Marye J. Jeffries, local chapter president, presided over the session.

Dr. Charles "A" Lyons, Jr., chancellor of FSU, welcomed the visitors to the university campus.

Further greetings were given by Mrs. Emma Jackson, regional director; Mrs. Rosa Perry, national editor of the organization's magazine, and Mrs. Mary Eldridge, a member of the Fayetteville City Schools Board of Education.

Separate workshops were held for the parents and teens. Mrs. Jeanette Council, a supervisor in the Fayetteville City School system, spoke on "Political Values" in the parents workshop. Judge Arthur Lane of the N.C. Superior Court made a presentation on "Social Values" and Dr. Ender Nijhawan of FSU discussed "Financial Values". Jill Lorraine Wheeler was moderator for the parents workshop.

The Teen workshop had the same topics. Dr.

Wilma Henry, Moses Walker of FSU and Attorney Elvis Lewis, Jr., were the panelists. Jill Annette Tatum moderated the teen's session. Teen president Wendell Carter of the Salisbury chapter gave remarks during the meeting.

Parents and teens had lunch on the university campus. Musical selections were presented by Wendell Carter and by the local teen chapter during lunch. The parents held a business session following lunch while the teens toured the campus. The tour included a show in the planetarium.

Dr. Valeria Fleming was chairman of the steering committee for the Cluster Meeting. Jills Alice Bonner, Martha Colvin, Ruth Goodwin, Andrea Hardiman, Marye Jeffries, Claudine Lewis and Cassandra Miller were members of the committee.

Business Hints

The Word 'Small'

By Luanna C. Blagrove

Author and Business Consultant

The word 'small' is killing many businesses today because we put a fence around our business by the usage of this word. We see our business as small. We think our business as small. We even think of ourselves as small.

We are all aware that if we have a dog, fence him in and do not let him out, he will stay there. We are also aware that if we let that dog out of the yard, without a leash, he is gone. There is no stopping him. Perhaps this is what we need to do with our businesses — let the word 'small' drop from our minds, usage and association — and grow.

Sizes of businesses are just like people. Some are large, some are small, some are fat and some are thin. Everyone is unique in his own way. It is the same with businesses. Just as people cannot all be the same size, neither can businesses. We should let growth of our business be natural, according to the efforts that we each put into our own business and not put on any limitations.

There is a big difference in purposely wanting to limit one's business size and carelessly limiting one's business size by thinking it so. Furthermore, people in business who purposely limit their size never refer to themselves as 'small'. They are in business and that is all there is to it.

We must learn to be in business — not small business.

The sun's heat can damage summer clothing in unexpected ways. Printing on dry cleaning bags can transfer a garment left in direct sunlight and synthetics left in an oven-like car trunk may develop hard-to-remove wrinkles.

Touch-A-Teen Foundation, Inc.

Ninth Annual

Miss Black Teenage World of North Carolina Pageant

The Touch-A-Teen Foundation, Inc., a non-profit organization, is seeking young ladies throughout the State to compete for the title Miss Black Teenage World of North Carolina.

It is not a beauty pageant but is designed to provide avenues for young ladies 15-17 years of age to display their inner qualities of beauty, talent, poise, personality, intellect, dignity and pride.

Contestants will compete in five segments of competition: creative expression, talent, sportswear (no swimsuits), projection and evening wear.

In addition to trophies and other gifts and awards, the winner will receive a Scholarship. Interested persons should send inquiries to:
