League Of Women Voters
To Attend
State Meet

Two delegates and one observer from the Durham League of Women Voters will attend the Fifteenth Biennial Council of the League of Women Voters of North Carolina at Winston-Salem April 17.

The delegation will participate in the business functions of the State League, including the determination of legislative priorities for the short session of the General Assembly in June and the regular 1983 session.

Special events at the one-day meeting will include an address by Ms. Lois Harrison of Lakeland, Florida, ERA Director for the League of Women Voters of the United States.

The State Council functions as an advisory body in alternate years between state conventions. Delegates from twenty local leagues will be advising the State Board on program, policy, and budget. The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization which promotes informed and active participation in government.

The travel price war may be escalating, and that could be good news for us all, since it means that travel prices are getting lower. Now one bus industry giant has announced that it will "meet or beat" any bus fare anywhere, nationwide, spelling even more savings for the traveling consumer.

The new lowest-price policy applies to all one-way and round-trip schedules to the thousands of cities, towns and communities serviced by Trailways, Inc. According to the company's vice president, passenger sales, Robert Buschner, the new fare policy will simplify things for the consumer.

"Many people see advertisements offering discount travel," notes Buschner. "Invariably, there's all kinds of fine print that restricts the traveler. Our new systemwide policy—not to be undersold—is simple, convenient, and has no fine print. We're out there with some of the lowest fares in the travel industry now."

One bus industry giant offers savings of over $170 over air fare rates between Jacksonville and Boston.

The guarantee applies to any form of transportation. If you find a lower fare existed at the time you purchased your ticket, the company will refund the difference between the two fares.

More information about the "meet or beat" fare policy is available at Trailways terminals.
