

"Love Is Ageless" Hillhaven Orange Observes National Nursing Home Week

"Love is Ageless" and "Visit Someone Special" were the themes which characterized Hillhaven Orange's observance of National Nursing Home Week, May 9-14.

On May 9, open house was held along with a balloon liftoff and essay poster contest. Students from area schools participated.

Winners in the essay contest were Kelvin Fearington, a first grader; Thomas Fearnerton, Jr., a third grader; Candi Johnson, seventh grade, of Shepard Junior High, first place; Terri Rowland, seventh grade, of Shepard Junior High, second place; David Johnson, seventh grade, Shepard Junior High, third place.

Poster contest winners were Kristie McCall, first place; Jeffrey Newman, second place; Brian Phillips, third place; and, Angela Whitehead, fourth place — all first graders at St. Mark's Nursery.

An appreciation day for staff and nurses was also held. A show patterned after television's Gong Show featured Cash Michaels as master at the Econo-Travel Motel shows that a person, who gave the name T. Nelson, checked into Room 33 of that motel at 6:05 p.m., that Monday. The name Pat Reams is also on the register, assigned to the same room. Ms. Reid said that T. Nelson, a black man, is an old school chum from Vance County.

Another example: Ms. Reid says that after spending several hours in the motel room together, she and Reams walked over to his job at DeHaven's Motor Lines (North American Van Lines) just off Guess Road. This is confirmed by the company president, Mrs. Ruth Long. Later, on the way back to the motel, they asked someone to take them to the ABC store on Ninth Street. Hayes Best, manager of the Wellons Village McDonald's, confirms that he took them to the whiskey store, and later dropped them off at the Econo-Travel.

After this, Ms. Reid says she and Reams went back to the motel room for awhile, and later decided to walk to Rinaldi's for some chicken. As they walked north on Guess Road, she said, a rust-colored truck with a 2 x 4 swinging off the side, swung along the street. The plank hit Reams in the chest. An argument ensued.

"It was Grimes driving the rust-colored truck," Ms. Reid said, "and a few minutes later, another truck — a green one — drove up.

Friends of Edgemont-Few Gardens Center Ministers Popularity Contest

Rev. J.C. Cheek Takes The Lead This Week

With a bold stroke this week, REV. J.C. CHEEK, pastor of Mount Calvary United Church of Christ, Durham, has jumped out to a commanding lead as the Ministers Popularity Contest sponsored by Friends of Edgemont-Few Gardens Community Center heads toward the middle of the balloting race.

The winner will be sent on a trip to the Bahamas, according to the Friends of Edgemont-Few Gardens.

REV. L.H. WHEELCHEL, who held the lead for two weeks, has dropped to third place, according to May 15 reports from the contest sponsors. REV. GRADY DAVIS, pastor of Union Baptist Church, has edged into second place, just slightly above REV. WHEELCHEL. REV. EARL THORPE, who held second place, has been pushed to fourth place. REV. DAVID BELL follows closely in fifth place. REV. JOHN MONROE now holds the sixth place slot.

According to a spokesman for the Edgemont Center, the purpose of the contest, in addition to raising money for the center, is to "boost the black church and the black press, locally and nationally".

The Carolina Times is cooperating with the contest by publishing the official ballot each week. To vote for your favorite minister, simply clip the ballot from an issue of The Carolina Times, complete it, and mail it to the Center. A $1 donation must accompany each ballot in order that it be included in the official count.

The center spokesman said the first prize for the contest is a trip to the Bahamas for the winning minister. Other prizes will be announced.
