

NEW YORK—And...Rickey Henderson is on his way. He dashes along the basepath in a bid to steal second during a recent game. UPI Photo

NEW YORK—Base stealing wizard Rickey Henderson is up to his old tricks on the basepath. He looks as if he's daring the Yankees to pick him off. UPI Photo

NEW YORK—...that isn't easy. Henderson makes it back to first as Yanks' John Mayerry covers the sack during a pickoff attempt. Lou Brock, who set a record of 118 stolen bases in 1974, expects Henderson to break his record. Says

Brock: "He runs almost all the time, sometimes from a big lead, sometimes from a short one. That's what confuses the pitcher. He has a runner's arrogance." UPI Photo

NEW YORK—There is no reason to gk. Henderson, as the record indicates, is an accomplished "thief". As Henderson holds onto the bag, Yanks' Rox

Smalley takes the throw from catcher Butch Wynegar. Chalk a stolen base for Henderson. UPI Photo

Help Wanted

ATTENTION

Serious Job Seekers!

Would you like to set your own hours with practically no limit on earnings and have vacations as desired? If so, then why not conveniently work with us sorting/bundling mail. Receive work and payments by mail. Start immediately! For information, a self-addressed, stamped envelope assures a prompt reply.

Mail Marketing Services, P. O. Box 2590, Ocala, Florida 32678

Attorney Coordinator
Land Loss
Prevention Project

The North Carolina Association of Black Lawyers and the School of Law of North Carolina Central University are seeking a highly skilled and experienced person to become the attorney coordinator of a new private bar delivery land loss prevention project. The project will have an intake and lawyer referral system; limited judicare component; training; community education; and research services. Location of the project will be at the N.C. School of Law. The attorney coordinator will be the chief administrator and is responsible for coordinating and monitoring all the components of the project including coordinating the lawyer referral system; conducting a seminar for law students on land loss prevention law; supervising a core of law students in providing telephone advice and legal research; fund raising; designing and coordinating the community education and training components; and establishing a list of surveyors and appraisers. Applicants must be admitted to the N.C. State Bar; engaged in the practice of law for 2-3 years; handled real property matters; be familiar with land loss problems; be trained in the use of, or willing to work with, computerized legal research systems. Preference will be given to persons with fund raising and supervisory or management experiences. Salary $20,000-25,000 DOE, and fringe benefits. We are an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities, women, the elderly and the handicapped are encouraged to apply. Please submit a detailed resume and writing sample by August 23, 1982 to:

Ms. Angela Bryant, Esquire
P.O. Box 26832
Raleigh, N.C. 27611

Anatomy Department, School of Medicine, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill has opening effective 10-1-82 for Research Associate to participate in research project on sperm membrane autoantigens and fertilization. Employee will assist in the area of teaching reproductive biology and training graduate students, faculty and post doctoral fellows in in vitro fertilization cell culture techniques in the immunology of reproduction. Employee must be recent Ph.D., and have proven research capabilities and experience in in vitro fertilization cell culture techniques and immunoreproduction. A strong background in biochemistry and electron microscopy is required. Submit application to: Dr. Michael G. O'Rand, Laboratories for Cell Biology, Department of Anatomy, University of N. C. at Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, N. C. 27514. An AA/EO Employer; applications by women and members of minorities welcomed.