

Coach, Five Players Picked For A&T Hall Of Fame

by Drexel B. Ball
Five former outstanding athletes and a coach who never suffered a losing season, have been selected for induction into the North Carolina A&T State University Hall of Fame.

This illustrious group includes Cal Irvin, former A&T head basketball coach, Marvin Graeber, Ernest Canada and Joe Grier, former baseball stars; and former football standouts, Clifton Howell and Matthew Atkins Shute.

W. Edward Jenkins, a Greensboro architect, will be honored as an honorary member of the Hall of Fame.

The induction ceremony will be held on Saturday, September 18 at 7 p.m. in the Cosmos 11, 817 W. Florida Street.

In virtually every avenue of pursuit, Irvin has enjoyed tremendous success. He has been the recipient of a number of awards as an athlete, coach and administrator. His selection for induction comes as no surprise.

Irvin compiled a 401-132 record in more than two decades of coaching at A&T, Johnson C. Smith and Winston-Salem's Atkins High School. In his 18 seasons at A&T, his team won five CIAA Tournament championships and the same number of visitation titles.

A native of Orange, N.J., Irvin was an outstanding student and athlete at Orange High School. He enrolled at Morgan State and earned varsity letters in basketball and football. He was co-captain of the 1945

Bear championship basketball team and was named to the All-CIAA squad as a wingback.

Irvin later transferred to the University of Illinois and earned his bachelor of science degree. He also holds a master's degree from Columbia University.

Irvin has been inducted into the Mid-Eastern Athletic Hall of Fame and the National Association Collegiate Directors Hall of Fame.

Having retired as a basketball coach in 1972 and as athletic director four years ago, Irvin currently is chairman of the A&T's Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

A native of Kanapolis, N.C., Marvin Graeber was an outstanding baseball player, and he played on CIAA championship squads in 1946 and 1947. The Kanapolis native batted .400 both seasons as well as earning All-CIAA honors. After leaving A&T, he played semi-pro baseball with the Campaign (Ill.) Eagles.

He came to A&T as a non-scholarship player, but made the team and became one of the finest third basemen in the history of A&T. He holds a master's degree in microbiology from the University of Illinois and currently is associate director of Physical Plant at A&T.

Ernest Canada was also a standout baseball performer who lettered four years at A&T from 1948-1952. In four years of pitching, Canada lost only one conference game. He averaged 15 strikeouts per game his senior year and was named All-CIAA in 1949, 1950 and 1951. He played on championship teams in 1950 and 1951. He played on three CIAA Championship teams.

Canada is distinguished as being the first black player in the Coastal Plain Conference, an affiliate with the then Boston Braves. He also was the first black to play for the Winston-Salem Twins; Canada operates a successful contracting business in Greensboro and also has business interests in North Myrtle Beach, S.C. He is a founder and director of Greensboro National Bank.

A native of Charlotte, Joe Grier compiled impressive statistics while playing second base on Aggie teams for four seasons, earning letters in three of them. He has a lifetime batting average of .467, a fielding average of .980 and captained the 1948 team which captured the CIAA title.

Grier lives in Greensboro and has served on the faculty of A&T for the past 29 years in the Animal Science Department. He is a member of the university's board-in-control of athletics, faculty grievance committee and chairman of the School of Agriculture promotion and tenure committee. He holds the M.S. degree from the University of Illinois.

A native of Charlotte, Matthew Shute is a graduate of Second Ward High School. He was an outstanding football player at A&T from 1932-1935, and he also lettered in track, his specialty being the 100-yard dash. He played guard on some of the Aggie's finest early football teams.

Shute was an outstanding guard on offense and defense. Weighing only 168 pounds at the time, he was a rugged player, achieving 60 minutes of playing time in some games. His outstanding defensive game against the championship Morgan State team in 1934 is still widely discussed. In track, Shute ran the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds, an excellent speed for that day. A noted civic and religious leader in Charlotte, he is retired after serving for 35 years as a quality control officer for Thompson Burke Fibers. His is a longtime supporter of the Queen City Alumni Chapter.

Howell is a native of Surry, Va., and graduated from A&T in 1924. A fullback on the Aggie team which defeated Virginia Union, 3-0, in 1922, Howell, was a standout on offense and defense. He was also president of the student body at A&T. After graduation, Howell taught eight years in Nansmond County, Virginia. He then became a principal of the Columbus County Training School in Whiteville, was employed at Brown Summit, Stokesdale, and spent ten years as principal of the high school in Gibsonville, N.C. He served with distinction as President of the National College Alumni Association.

Eagles-Panthers Clash In CIAA Championship Rematch

by C. T. Fisher
The North Carolina Central Eagles look for their second straight win of the young season when they host the defending CIAA Champion Virginia Union Panthers on Saturday, September 11. Game time will be 1:30 p.m. at O'Kelly Stadium.

The Eagles destroyed the Livingstone Bears 42-19 last Saturday in Salisbury. They have dropped five games to the Panthers since 1977.

Two of the top three Division II defense of last year will battle in Durham. The 1982 encounter should be a most exciting one. The Eagles' 406 yards total offense is the most potent opening game show by a Henry Lattimore-coached NCCU squad. Benny Tate and Gerald Fraylon are two threats that the Panthers must contain. Tate racked up 132 yards and 3 tds against the Livingstone Bears while Fraylon, Offensive Player of the Year, completed 9 of 21 passes for 123 yards and rushed for 47 more yards and a pair of scores. Victor Hunter continues his quest for the All-Time receiving mark of 112 receptions. He has 69 and caught 8 for 134 yards in the '81 championship game against the Panthers.

Defensively the Eagles are led by a pair of ALL-CIAA performers—defensive end Lorenzo Ingram and cornerback Andrew Riddick. Curtis Woods and Stacy Ross have been bright spots at inside linebacker. They spearhead a unit that looks to lower its 218 yards total defensive outage of last week.

The Panthers, a NCAA Division II participant for the past three years, are led by two-time Little All-American safety William Dillon. Dillon picked off 11 passes for 123 yards and 1 touchdown last year in sparking the Panthers to a No. 2 defensive ranking in the nation. Dwayne Drew, the 5-11 240 junior mainstay on the defensive wall, looks to sharpen his talents.

The Panthers offense will be led by junior quarterback Troy Cauthorn, brother of former NCCU outstanding quarterback Alvin Cauthorn. Senior All-CIAA tight end William Wall will be Va. Union's favorite receiver. Wall had 19 catches for 350 yards and three tds. last year.

Tackle Larry Barringer and center Robert Collier are All-CIAA performers for the Panthers on the offensive unit.

Central outgained the Panthers in the Championship Game 335-296 but were guilty of 7 turnovers to the Panthers 1. Can the Eagles rack up another 400 yards against the nationally ranked Panthers defense?

You can find out Saturday by being one of the anticipated 11,500 spectators at O'Kelly Stadium.
