

Calendar and Announcements

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS should reach us NO LATER THAN FRIDAY before the desired publication week. Two to three weeks prior is even better! No charge. Mail to:

Calendar
The Carolina Times
P.O. Box 3825
Durham, NC 27702.
*****

Coming Events

FALL CARNIVAL — The C.C. Spaulding School PTA invites you to its Annual Fall Carnival, Nov. 5, 6-9 p.m. There is fun for everyone. C.C. Spaulding School is located on South Roxboro St.

ENRICHING YOUR LIFE IN THE 80'S Head Coach Mike Krzyzewski leads the community in "A Spectator's Guide to the Basketball Season" in three sessions, including an exhibition game, November 15, 17, and 18. Sessions will meet in Cameron Indoor Stadium from 7:30-9 p.m. excepting for the game.

Preregistration is necessary. Phone the Office of Continuing Education, 684-6259, for fee information.

ANNUAL FALL FEAST BARBECUE — Pork or chicken. Sat. Nov. 6, 11 a.m.-7 p.m. Stoney Hill Volunteer Fire Dept. (Hwy 98, 6 miles west of Wake Forest on SR 1917). Drawing for 1954 Willis Jeep to donation ticket holders. You do not have to be present to win. To help pay for and maintain fire equipment.

FLEA MARKET — The Durham Parks and Recreation Departments, Senior Citizens Clubs will sponsor a Flea Market on Nov. 4 at the Durham Civic Center, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. For further information, contact Antonio Coor at 683-455 or Veronica Williams at 683-4270 or Joan Miller at 683-4292.

ALTERNATIVE JOBS FOR MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS is the title of a one-day workshop to be held Sat., Nov. 6, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., at the Office of Continuing Education on Duke's East Campus. Open to any mental health professionals who are dissatisfied in their present jobs or want to expand job options, the workshop will emphasize creative approaches to using skills and practical planning techniques. For further information on fees and registration, contact Darlene Wells, 684-6259, or write Counseling Service, Duke Office of Continuing Education, 107 Bivins Bldg. Durham 27708.

25TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION of the East Winston Branch Library, Winston-Salem, will be held on Sunday, Nov. 14, 4 p.m., with a poetry reading honoring Winston-Salem native, Mrs. Mildred Martin Hill. [Mrs. Hill taught in the public schools of Durham for many years.] Poems will be read by Mrs. Mary McCurry. For more information call (919) 727-2202.

THE NEW NEGRO RENAISSANCE — A series of lectures, films and seminars entitled "The 'New Negro' Renaissance: Harlem in the 'Twenties'" is being offered at the Durham County Library through November. This series is co-sponsored by the Duke University Office of Continuing Education and the Durham County Library and is assisted by the North Carolina Humanities Committee. The lectures and films are open free of charge to the public; the seminars are offered for a nominal fee.

Remaining in the series: The Harlem Church (November 3). Dr. C. Eric Lincoln, professor of Religion at Duke University and a renowned authority on black religious and political movements, will be the speaker. He will discuss the place of Christianity and the clergy in the formation and fostering of the Harlem Renaissance.

Noted writer and actress Maya Angelou will put in a special appearance at N.C. Central University on November 11, speaking on female writers of the Harlem Renaissance.

Remaining films include an award-winning archival documentary entitled "I Remember Harlem" (November 21), and the 1929 silent melodrama "Scar of Shame" (October 31).

"Scar of Shame" will be shown free of charge in the Durham County Library at 2 p.m. Sunday. The film, produced by the Colored Players Film Corporation with an all-black cast, tells the story of a concert pianist who rescues a poor working girl, marries her out of pity, and soon grows unable to accept her as one of his own social class. Live piano music will accompany this silent film, and a discussion led by Thomas Evans of NCCU will follow.

For more information call 684-6259.

PANCAKE SALE — The 21st Annual Kiwanis Club of Tobaccoland Pancake Sale is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 2, 4:30-8 p.m., and Wednesday, Nov. 3, 6:30 a.m.-8 p.m., at the Civic Center, Downtown Durham. Tickets are $2.50 per person, children under 6 with adult, free.

All you can eat of pancakes and sausage, butter and syrup, beverage.

Tickets are available from club members or at the door on sale days. All proceeds go to community projects.

10K RACE — The first Carrboro 10K race will be held on Sunday, Nov. 7. The course is TAC certified and is basically flat, fast and scenic with one short hill. Starting point will be from Carr Mill Mall.

Age categories will be 12 and under, 13-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60 and over in male and female divisions. Prizes: $7 pre-registration fee (includes long sleeve T-shirt). Race day registration will be $8. Refreshments will be available at the finish line. For more information, contact Carrboro Recreation and Parks Department, 942-8541, ext. 203.

FOUNDER'S DAY — Join faculty, students, alumni and friends of North Carolina Central University at 11 a.m., Friday, November 5, at B.N. Duke Auditorium, for Founder's Day exercises in memory of Dr. James E. Shepard. The speaker is Dr. Samuel D. Proctor. Call 683-6105 for information.

COME SEE DEVO LIVE on a stage-size screen in 3-D. The Carolina Union in cooperation with the Campus Entertainment Network will present Devo, one of today's hottest New Wave bands, live on close circuit television, Oct. 30 at 10 p.m. in Memorial Hall on the UNC campus. Admission. Call 962-1449.

FOR SENIORS — "The Teller of Tales: From Homer's Ithaca to Durham County's Rougemont" is the title of a course in progress at the Methodist Church, Red Mountain Road and Highway 501 in Rougemont, 15 miles north of Durham.

Editor-writer Judy Hogan of Chapel Hill is teaching the course, which aims to bring alive some of the great stories of the past in the hope of stirring the tale-telling impulse in Durham County seniors. Ms. Hogan will be available before and after the talks to write down stories told to her. Authors covered also include Flaubert, Chaucer, Jane Austen, Zora Neale Hurston, and James Agee.

The course is free and anyone may come to any of the talks. Next week's (Nov. 3 at noon) lecture by Ms. Hogan will be: "Chaucer's Canterbury Tales: The Wife of Bath: Who Rules the Roost, and How". The course is funded by the N.C. Humanities Committee, the Durham County Public Library, and the Carolina Wren Press of Chapel Hill. For more information call the Library 683-2626, ext. 31.

HILLSIDE HIGH SCHOOL'S FAMOUS MARCHING BAND, under the direction of Clarke A. Egerton, Jr., will perform at:

Eastern N.C. Band Festival, Roanoke Rapids, Oct. 30;

Half time shows: Hillside v. Henderson Vance, Durham County Stadium, Oct. 28, 7:30 p.m.

TOY WORKSHOPS — Buying safe toys that teach and making inexpensive toys are two November workshops for Parents Involved in Education.

Dr. Shary Maskel is coordinating these free workshops for all interested parents on Nov. 9, 7-8:30 p.m. and Nov. 13, 10 a.m.-1 p.m., at Lakeview Community Education Center, 3507 Dearborn Drive. Childcare and materials for the Saturday toy-making session will be provided. Call Dr. Maskel at 477-2197 for more information.

FALL FILM SERIES — Chapel Hill Public Library. Wednesday evening only at 7 p.m. Nov. 10: Mark Twain, Woody Allen Kurt Vonegut, Jr. These three American writers have a comic style of writing in common although the reasons for their comedy, and the effects they achieve are quite different. 117

min. No film on Nov. 3.

JANN PARKER returns Thursday, Nov. 4, to her alma mater, North Carolina Central University, to display the jazz vocalizations that have made her a hit in New York City's supper clubs and cabarets. She will appear at NCCU's B.N. Duke Auditorium at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 4. For ticket information, call 683-6026.

DURHAM CITY SCHOOLS will offer tours at all its 19 campuses on Election Day, Nov. 2. Brief tours will be available during regular school hours and are open to the public.

YARD SALE FOR TRIANGLE HOSPICE, 3605 Shannon Road, Durham. Saturday, October 30, from 9 a.m. on. Telephone 493-1492 or 942-8597.

MEET THE CANDIDATES — Thursday, October 28, 7 p.m., Durham County Public Library auditorium. Candidates who have been invited are those running for the following: Second Congressional District, N.C. House of Representatives, and Durham County Commissioners. The public is invited. Sponsored by Durham Chamber of Commerce, Durham Business and Professional Chain, League of Women Voters of Durham.

GEOGRAPHY DEPARTMENT REUNION — This homecoming, the NCCU geography alumni are celebrating the department's 20th anniversary. Activities will begin Nov. 5, 6 p.m., at the Downtowner Motor Inn.

Resources

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CATALOG — The North Carolina Foreign Language Center microfiche card catalog is available at Durham County Library. Patrons wishing to borrow books in over 80 foreign languages can use this catalog to learn exactly what books, records, and tapes the Foreign Language Center has (as of April 30, 1982). The reference staff at the Main Library can look up the correct call number and title of any item(s) the patron wishes to borrow and request them on "interlibrary loan".

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY CENTER — Are you an adult seeking educational choices, career opportunities or financial aid for school? EOC (Educational Opportunity Center) has the latest information and a counselor available to assist you. Call Liz Davis, at Project LIFT in the Durham County Library: 11 a.m.-3 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday.

CALL FOR ACTION — Persons who have consumer, housing utilities, educational, welfare or any other problems for which they need a referral may call 688-9306 in Durham or 832-7578 in Raleigh every week on Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

NEW ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES — Do you want to finish your high school education or brush up on your reading skills? Public TV and Durham Technical Institute are offering new adult education classes that you can take at home using special courses shown on public television. Don't let transportation, day care, age or fear of the classroom keep you from a brighter future. Put your TV to work by calling Durham Tech for more information.

CHANGE will help men discover ways to deal with problems and stress without using violence against wives and women friends. Weekly group counseling sessions. Confidential. Call the Durham HELPLINE, 683-8628, and ask for a CHANGE counselor. He will get back in touch with you as soon as possible.

MALE VOLUNTEERS are needed to train as group/individual counselors to counsel men who use violence against their wives or womenfriends. A great opportunity to learn or improve your counseling skills and to help confront the problem of domestic violence in our community. The training begins Nov. 1. To register or for more information, call the CHANGE program at 688-4396.

WORKING TOWARD A DEGREE on a part-time basis is possible at Duke University. Adult learners are welcome to explore Duke's programs at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Call the office of Continuing Education at 684-6259 to receive information.