Holy Convocation Held In Memphis

MEMPHIS, TN. — The 3.7 million-member Church of God in Christ whose world headquarters is located in Memphis, has just completed a successful ten-day Holy Convocation in Memphis. The church celebrated its Diamond Jubilee with more than 45,000 delegates in the headquarters city during the ten day convocation. Presiding Bishop J.O. Patterson, Sr., presided over the convention along with the General Board of Twelve.

Ministerial workshops, Christian education seminars, pastoral counseling and mission outreach sessions were conducted by the various departments of the church and worship services witnessed capacity crowds. The highlight of the Holy Convocation was the official sermon (annual address) by the presiding bishop. The Cook Convention Center held better than 24,000 worshippers during the presiding Bishop's address and Monday, November 15, was the International Holy Communion Service.

A new general board member was elected in the general assembly of the church. Bishop Jacob Cohen of Miami, Florida was re-elected to the general board to complete the unexpired term of Bishop O.M. Kelly who recently died in New York City.

The late Bishop Kelly left vacant two other positions and they were filled as follows: Bishop Frederick Douglass Washington of Brooklyn, New York, was appointed by Presiding Bishop Patterson to the jurisdictional Bishopric of Eastern New York. Bishop Washington will preside over all of the Churches of God in Christ in the eastern territory of New York State which has approximately 150 congregations.

Bishop Washington served Bishop Kelly as assistant prelate for many years and the church felt that his faithfulness in service and diligence in ministry qualified him for service as senior pastor of the churches in New York.

The final vacancy left by the death of Bishop Kelly was that of the assistant Presiding Bishopric of the international church. Bishop Kelly served as First Assistant Presiding Bishop, First Vice President and First Vice Chairman of the General Board.

In the recent general assembly session, the church ratified the appointment of Bishop Louis Henry Ford, of Chicago, Illinois, for the office, Bishop Junious Augustus Black of San Diego, was ratified as second assistant Presiding Bishop, second vice president and second vice chairman of the General Board of the denomination.

In another surprise move, Presiding Bishop Patterson elevated a young man from Lafayette, Louisiana to the Bishopric. Dr. Roy Lawrence Hailey Winbush of the western jurisdiction of Louisiana was elevated to the rank of Auxiliary Bishop to assist Bishop John Walter White who is prelate of the jurisdiction. The installation and consecration of the new Bishops will take place in January of 1983 in their cities of residence.

One of the major thrusts of the convocation was the rally for the opening of the church's new university which is scheduled to hold registration in August 1984. The All Saints University (A.S.U.) will be located in Memphis, on Tennessee on the 26 acres of downtown properties presently owned by the church. The administration building, dorms and first classrooms will be ready for use in late-summer 1984. Construction is actively planning curriculum and facility for the target date.

The church took firm stands against the arms race, immorality in all forms, and reasserted its position and commitment to the poor. Evangelism took on a new thrust with the newly appointed president of the department of evangelism, Dr. E.L. Battles of Dallas, Texas and his "Gospel In The Market-Place Ministry."

Fayetteville Happenings

By Mrs. T.H. Kinney

Hopefully, each family member considered Thanksgiving to be a time of praising and thanking, and that it will become a part of our daily lives. Thousands in our city gathered to give thanks during the holiday period.

On Saturday, the Christmas shoppers made their rounds.

There is an interesting Carolina Christmas Calendar. You might want to check out the schedule and make plans to see and visit some of the places.

Olde Fayetteville offers an annual Candlelight Tour of the city.

Enjoy all of the wish book catalogs during the holiday — it's an entertaining exercise or activity.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Clarietta Adams in the death of her son, eight-year-old Adrian Adams.

Funeral services for Miss Yvonne Denise McMillan, 17, of 1035 University Avenue, were conducted on Saturday afternoon at St. James Holy Church. Sympathy is extended to the members of her family.

Cumberland County, Fayetteville City and Fort Bragg students were entertained with "The Nutcracker" on Dec. 2-3.

Dr. E.B. Turner, president of the General Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, reflected upon his new position. He pledged to stress the spiritual during his four-year term.

Mrs. Betty Davis, Mrs. Carrie Garner and Mrs. Geneva Foushee were among those who attended the joint fall conference of the North Carolina Association of Counselor Education and Supervision and the North Carolina School Counselors Association in Raleigh.

Ms. Cynthia Whitted has been named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" at Winston-Salem State University.

The Archonian Club enjoyed an evening Saturday. After the program and a songfest, a repast was served.

FSU held its second annual WFSS Bazaar Saturday at the J.W. Seabrook Auditorium.

Pre-registration for the spring semester at the Shaw University Educational Center on Murchison Road is now in progress. Registration for classes will be held January 6, from 6 to 9 p.m., at the center. Classes will begin on January 12.

The Cross Creek Reading Council will sponsor a conference Friday and Saturday, Dec. 3-4, at Douglas Byrd Junior High School on Ireland Drive. The Friday conference will run from 3:30 to 8 p.m., and the Saturday conference will be held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The keynote speaker will be Jacque Wuerenberg, an author and consultant.

Alpha Fraternity members and their guests enjoyed Friday night past at Lakeside Country Club.

Teacher of the Year honors for Cumberland County Schools go to Ms. Nina Williams Corders, a Cape Fear High English and drama teacher, who was named during a Wednesday morning breakfast at Douglas Byrd Senior High School. The selection was based on a scrapbook submitted by Ms. Corders, an interview with the eleven-member selection committee and a classroom visitation. Congratulations, Ms. Corders.

Parents For the Advancement of Gifted Children held its monthly meeting on Monday evening at Anne Chestnut Junior High School.

Think! Coffee bags are on their way. According to the food experts, single-serving tea bags will soon be introduced.

More people are enjoying art in the museums.
Send your Christmas mail early.
Amount of heat in wood varies.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Faison of Colonial, New Jersey; Mrs. Mildred Cook, Mrs. Doris Russ, and Mrs. Mary Hines of East Orange, N.J., visited their North Carolina relatives and friends.

Also, Mrs. Jean Frederick Pearson and children of Ocala, Florida.

We hope all college and university students enjoyed their visit home with parents, relatives and friends. We also hope you had a safe return.

Come and see the Christmas parade in Fayetteville on Dec. 11.
