The War in Brief

SUMMARY OF THE EUROPEAN WAR

FOR ONE WEEK READ AT A GLANCE

November 1—Turkey has definitely broken her lot with Austria and Germany, and if Portugal is counted there now are eleven powers at war with prospects of three more—Greece, Bulgaria and Rumania—being drawn in.

The fighting in the last few days in Flanders and France has been but a repetition of what has been going on for days past. The Germans have continued to push their attack, aimed ultimately at French coast ports, but as before, it has been a ding-dong affair, one side making progress only to lose the ground gained the next night or day.

The German armies are said by the Russians to have been defeated before Warsaw and Lvograd. They continue to fall back and the new Russian front now extends in a semi-circle from Plock, northwest of Warsaw, through Ledz and Piotrow and Ostrow to southwest of Romena.

In Galicia the Russians are having more difficulty in dislodging the Austrians from their positions on the San. "As showing the huge German losses in the Ypres region it is stated the British soldiers have buried more than 25,000 Germans," says a message to the Weekly Dispatch.

November 2.—The renewed assaults of the Germans, which have led in the last few days to the most violent fighting of the war, still are progressing with fury almost unparallel, but there have been no changes of importance at any point along the 300 mile line of battle.

The German and Austrian forces in the east, compelled to retire before the Russian advance, have taken up new positions, and a renewal of general fighting is expected. Austrian successes on the Russian left flank are claimed in Berlin.

Heavy fighting has been resumed along the Austro-Serbian border. According to official advice from Vienna, the Austrians crossed the Save and Drina rivers, drove back the enemy and occupied several towns. This is disputed by Serbians, who state that the Austrian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

All accounts agree that the loss of life of the last fortnight has been tremendous, owing presumably to the fact that the fighting has been largely in the open.

The long dispute over the indemnity which the city of Brussels is to pay the Germans has been settled, Berlin reports. The amount is said to have been fixed at $2,000,000.

November 3.—The German warships Gneisenau, Scharnhorst, Nürnberg, Leipzig and Dresden attacked the British fleet off Coronel, Chile. The British cruiser Monmouth was sunk. The cruiser Goodhope was very badly damaged and she was on fire and is supposed to have been lost.

The British cruiser Glasgow took refuge in the harbor of Coronel and is now bottled up. The German battleships Scharnhorst, Nürnberg and Gneisenau anchored at midday today in Valparaiso harbor unharmed.

Emperor Nicholas left Petrograd for the front, accompanied by General Soukhomlino, the minister of war. The British submarine D-4 was sunk in the North Sea, early this morning by a mine which was thrown out by a German cruiser retreating before British cruisers.

The French official announcement says the Germans would appear to have completely abandoned the left bank of the Yser below Dixmude and that troops of the allies have occupied points on the river without any great difficulty.

Russia has apparently welcomed the war and will not give the Turks a chance to draw back. The British cruiser Minerva has smashed the Turkish base of operations against the English at the head of the Gulf of Akabah. The Turkish ambassador in London has as yet made no arrangements to leave and the embassy still maintains a conciliatory attitude.

The closing of the North sea to all shipping except that which places itself under the protection of the British fleet is recognized as the first stroke of Admiral Baron Fisher, the new first sea lord of the admiralty, and as one of the most important events of the war.

November 4—Turkey has definitely broken off diplomatic relations with Great Britain, France, Russia and Serbia. Her diplomatic representatives in the capitals of those countries, acting on orders from the Porte, demanded and received their passports. Some already have left.

Official reports of the fighting on land as issued recorded only advances at various points and repulses of the enemy's attacks at others. There is, in fact, no great change in the situation, according to these reports.

A large German trawler has been destroyed by a mine south of the Danish island of Langeland in the great belt. The fate of her crew is not known.

"The situation in Galicia is unaltered. Until now 2,500 Russian prisoners have been brought in from recent engagements. Our Hussars surprised a Russian ammunition col-
