Our good friend Mr. W. H. Miller is always on time when it comes to renewing his subscription. He called at the Herald office Wednesday and said he wanted to renew his subscription before it expired. He not only renewed his, but that of a friend also. We wish there was more Miller's on our list. There is room for others to profit by this experience.

Young People Entertained by Round Dozen Club.

The Round Dozen Club entertained the young people of the town on Tuesday evening, December 29, at the home of Miss Blanche Gerock on Church Street.

On entering the beautifully decorated hall the guests were ushered upstairs to the dressing rooms. Downstairs at the rear of the reception hall Prof. and Mrs. J. L. White presided at the punch bowl, who, after serving each couple, showed them to the parlor where the crowd was gathering.

The parlor was decorated in red, white, and blue Christmas bells, all leading to one large bell suspended from the center of the ceiling. After about an hour of conversation, a progressive game was engaged in. Six tables, each providing for two couples, were placed in the parlor and hall, and the couple that excelled in the work at their table, at the top of the bell, progressed to another table. The losing couple was presented with a booby prize, which was to be pinned on the young man in a conspicuous place. At the close of the contest Mesdames J. L. White, B. E. Copeland and M. D. Curtis, acting as judges, decided that Mr. J. H. Robertson was the tuckiest man in the room. Accordingly he was presented with a box of chocolates by Prof. J. L. White.

The young men and ladies then chose their partners for supper in a very unique way. A number of strings of ribbon were run through a heart suspended from the center of the doorway, with small piece of mistletoe on one end, and holly on the opposite end. Each boy drew a piece of holly and each girl a piece of mistletoe, after which the heart was cut, and each boy followed up his ribbon and claimed his partner for supper. After supper, which consisted of frozen cream and cake, the crowd again retired to the parlor.

An advertising contest, in which each one present was given an envelope containing several parts of an advertising scheme, was next taken up. Mr. Lloyd Parker won the prize for efficiency in this contest, he having put together his advertisement first. Prof. J. I. White in very fitting and appropriate words presented him with a box of candy.

In a short business session Mr. Lloyd Parker and Miss Pattie Leary were elected to serve as an entertainment committee. All business being attended to, the company began to break up. In a few minutes as midnight approached the last couple was saying good night.

Commence The New Year Right.

If delinquent subscribers of newspapers would commence the year by paying up all arrears and renewing their subscriptions for another year, as they ought to do, what clear consciences they would have for the whole year, and what joy would reign in every newspaper office in the land.

The business man that does not advertise has lots of time for meditation but his thoughts are anything but cheerful. The business man that does advertise does not of course have very much time to spend in thoughts but they are sure to be of a sunny and hopeful character, because business goes well with him.

Miss Blanche Vinson Becomes Bride of Mr. Frank Howard.

A very beautiful and impressive wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vinson on Tuesday, Dec. 29, at 3 o'clock, when their daughter, Blanche Love, became the bride of Mr. Frank Leon Howard.

The parlor was beautifully decorated in ferns, Christmas holly and mistletoe. The guests were received at the door by Mrs. O. L. Vinson, sister of the bride.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Mrs. Paul D. Sewell, gowned in blue charmeuse, sweetly sang "If I Only Knew", accompanied by Miss Edna Parker, dressed in a combination of red messaline and velvet. The bridal party entered to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, in the following order: Little Estelle Vinson, baby sister of the bride, entered with Master J. H. Vinson carrying a basket of bride's roses and ferns; Miss Grace Parker with Mr. Rufus Storey; Miss Julie Benthall with Mr. Thomas Storey; Miss Janie Parker with Mr. Fred Parker; Miss Ross Howard with Mr. Fred Vinson. Next came the bride, wearing a handsome going away gown of navy blue chiffon broadcloth, hat and gloves to match, the only ornament being a Lavalierre consisting of a beautiful cameo and pearls, a gift of the groom. The bride was leaning on the arm of her sister, Miss Ursie Vinson, who was dressed in silk chiffon over pink mesaline. Then came the groom with his best man, Mr. A. Leigh Copeland, both wearing conventional black with gray gloves. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the bride, Rev. C. W. Scarborough, Love's Pleadings leading into Melody of Love was softly rendered during the ceremony.

The bridesmaids wore white lingerie dresses draped with shadow lace. The groomsmen wore conventional black with gray gloves. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left for the home of the groom's father, near Union where a sumptuous supper was served.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents, consisting of china, cut glass, silver etc.

Miss Vinson is a daughter of Mr. J. H. Vinson, a prosperous farmer, who resides near Murfreesboro. Mr. Howard is a well known business man of Ahoskie.

Our best wishes go with this popular couple for a long and happy life.

Colds are Often Most Serious Stop Possible Complication

The disregard of a Cold has often brought many a regret. The fact of Sneezing, Coughing, or a Fever should be warning enough that your system needs immediate attention. Certainly Loss of Sleep is most serious. It is a warning given by Nature. It is man's duty to himself to assist by doing his part.
