It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism.

Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it.
Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c. of any druggist and have it in the house —against Colds, Sore and Swollen Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. Buy a bot-

Magnificent New Year Banquet

Young Men of Ahoskie Starts Annual Custom of Yearly Entertainment For Friends.

The 1914-15 Banquet was by far the greatest social event during the holidays, and eclipsed all social functions of the past year. On New Year's night a honteous banquet was spread in the dining hall of the Manhattan Hotel, and was enjoyed by a large number of Ahoskie's young ladies and men, together with several visitors from nearby towns.

The guests began to arrive at about 9 o'clock, and by 9:30 all were enjoying themselves in conversations in the parlor. Sharply at ten o'clock all present were invited to the dining hall, to partake of the feast, which had been carefully prepared under the supervision of Mr. E. M. Wooten. The dining hall was beautifully decorated in a red, white and blue scheme, with a large Christmas bell hanging over the center of the z-shaped table. The table was laden with cut glass ware and was doted here and there with beautiful Lilies of the Valley.

Mr. Lloyd Parker acted as Toastmaster, and immediately after the crowd was seated at the table announced that the purpose of this banquet was to unify the social life of the town, and to bring the young people of the town closer together in their relations.
He also announced that it was the purpose and intention of the promoter that this be made an Annual Banquet on New Year's night of every year.

After these remarks by Mr.
Parker, the following menu was served:

Chop Suey, Lunch Crackers, Oyster Cocktail, Dill Pickles, Olives, Soda Crackers, Chicken Salad, Oyster Salad, Avon Crackers, Broiled Mackerel, Crackers, Roast Turkey, Cranberry Sauce, Celery, Hot Rolls, Ambrosia, Cake, Cellibub, Coffee Cheese.

Between the courses the company was entertained by a few short speeches from several of those present, who were introduced by the Toastmaster. The following speeches were made in their respective order: Attorney E. T.
Snipes, on the florishness of this banquet; J. O. Carter, on our banking houses; J. H. Copeland, on U. S. Mail service; Pembroke Baker, on his Northern tours; J.
Roy Parker, on college life and literary societies; Miss Wenona Bell, of Chowan College, on behalf of visiting ladies; Miss Mina Hol-lomon, on being introduced by Miss Jessie Garrett, expressed the appreciation of the ladies to the young men in preparing for them such a gorgeous affair.

At a few minutes to two o'clock the entire company retired from the dining hall to the parlor, and hall on the second floor. Here, for the next hour everyone present was free to do what they desired, and at a quarter to 3 o'clock the crowd began to break up and go home to begin a new year with a joyful heart and a satisfied appetite.

Those present and potaking of the banquet were: Miss Pattie Leary with Lloyd Parker; Miss Jessie Garrett with Clarence Perry; Miss Irma Boyette with Lee Copeland; Miss Ama Brown with Lee Parker; Miss Nancie Leary with William Myers; Miss Florence Gerock with Walter Sumner; Miss L. Norfleet, of Kelford, with John Askew, of Harrellsville; Miss Wenona Bell with Pembroke Baker; Miss Mina Hol-lomon with E. T. Snipes, and Miss Janie Belle Baker with Roy Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H.
Copeland; stags, J. H. Robertson, Eric Garrett and Tal Baker.

The success of the Banquet is due to Messrs. Clarence Perry and Lloyd Parker, who by their untiring efforts made such an affair possible. Thanks are also due Mr. E. M. Wooten for his services in having the menu served, and also for a beautiful display of fireworks carried on incessantly while the banquet was in progress.

In Memory of Mr. W. Q. Copeland.

The death of any one is a sad event, especially to those who stand in close relation to the one deceased, and when a good man is taken the awells with unutterable emotion and the tongue is dumb under the sorrow death has awakened. Such was the case on Dec.
24; 1914 at 7 o'clock a. m. when the spirit of Mr. William Q. Copeland went home to rest after many long months of intense suffering, aged 45 years. A good and useful man, a man in whom his friends trusted, has gone from among us. He had many friends who with a wife, three step chilren, and family connections, mourn his departure and miss him sadly; but their loss is his gain. He lited to die and leave his love ones so much, but as the end grew nearer he begged the Good Lord to take him home where his sufferings would be ended. In his death the Baptist church and Sunday School (as well as the community) has suffered great loss, as he was a faithful member devoted and untiring in its service until disabled by failing health, but we know he was triumphantly passed to the Saints everlasting rest, and is numbered among the church triumphant where nothing can debar him from its eternal joys, still his death has cast a gloom over the whole community and many homes, other than his own are sad on account of his departure, but while family and friends mourn their loss they are rich with the legacy of his life and with the hope of a Heavenly reunion, his influ-ces for good will live among us as a fitting memorial to one who was always interested in his fellowmen.

Mr. Copeland was a faithful member of the Masonic Fraternity, also of the O. E. S. Chapter, where he will be greatly missed.

The funeral services were conducted at the home on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by his pastor Rev. H. H. Honeycutt among a large crowd of sorrowing loved ones, and as "Home sweet home" (by his request) was softly sung, the Masons bore his body to the church yard where he was laid to rest with Masonic honors.

We extend to the bereaved wife and relatives our sincere sympathy in this sad hour of trouble, praying that the comforting influence of the Holy Spirit may brood over and sustain each one of them.

"Servants of God well done Thy glorious warfare's past, The battle's fought, the race is run And thou art crowned at last."
E. M. B.

Wilson-Evans.

Murfreesboro, Dec. 31.—The home of Mrs. M. E. Worrell was tastefully decorated for one of the most beautiful weddings of the season, when Miss Susie Evans became the bride of Mr. Harry Wilson, at eleven o'clock Tuesday morning.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. M.
E. Worrell sang "I Love You Truly." Following him Miss Eva Lawrence sang "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. J. S. Lawrence. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bridal party entered, first Misses Elizabeth and Frances Evans, little nieces of the bride, attired in white handembroidered lingerie dresses with pink ribbons, formed an aisle with ribbons. Following them, Miss Eunice Evans, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, in white net over pink charmeuse, carrying pink carnations and ferns, then the groom, with Mr. Edwin Evans, his best man, entered; then, accompanied by Mr. E. N. Evans, her brother, by whom she was given in Marriage, came the bride, attired in a traveling suit of midnight blue silk broadcloth, carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. B. Slaughter, pastor of the

In Memoriam.

Miss Mary Louise Bazemore died at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bazemore on Sunday night December 27, 1914 after a lingering illness of several months aged 18 years.

There is something peculiarly pathetic in the death of a young girl when life seems most full of promise, but much of the sting is taking away when she has realized the meaning of life and given herself to Christ, she joined Bethlehem Baptist Church when 12 years old, and has ever been faithful to her vows, she was a regular attendant until health failed her last May, during that time her pew was vacant but her young heart was there. All through the long months of suffering she bore it with christian fortitude for at times she was very ill and suffered pain almost unbearable yet she never murmured, she was anxious to get well, but God in his infinite wisdom saw fit to take her Home to suffer no more pain or sorrow, and while we are sad at her going and her seat is empty at home and in the church we know she fills a seat in heaven, therefore our loss is her eternal gain. She was the youngest daughter of a family of ten children and the first to break the family ties therefore it is so sad to give up one so devoted to father, mother, brothers and sisters, indeed she was a great favorite in the home, as well as among friends, for none knew her but to love her. Her childhood love of truth and right made her a daily delight to her parents and other loved ones, and her early going away brings a keen sense of their sad loss, but while she could not stay with us, we can go to her as we know where to find her.
Before she died she called all her loved ones, leaving out none of her friends, telling of the Glory Land and its beauties, and singing beautiful anthems that crushed the hearts of those about her.

The funeral services were conducted at the home on Tuesday afternoon by her pastor Rev. C. L.
Dowell in a very impressive manner, and her body laid to rest in the cemetery by her relatives who acted as pall bearers, the large crowd present attested her popularity.

We commend the grief stricken family to Him who doith all things well and may they all live such lives as to meet their loved one in the morning of the resurrection where there will be no more sorrow, no more parting.

"We shall meet beyond the river, Where the surges cease to roll, Where in all the bright forever, Sorrow ne'er shall press the soul."

We shall meet with all our love ones, Yorn on earth from our embrace,
And we'll listen to their voices,
And behold them face to face."
E. M. B.

M. E. Church.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as the recessional.

After the congratulations of their many friends, the bride and groom with their attendants went in autos to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Evans where luncheon was served.

Mrs. Wilson is the attractive, popular daughter of Mrs. Bettie O. Evans, of Murfreesboro.

Mr. Wilson is a promising young business man of Morganton.

After a Southern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at home in Morganton, N. C.

Afternoon Tea And Musical.

An entertainment which will rank as one of the most delightful given this season was the Tea and Musical given by Mesdames J. W.
Godwin and J. A. Morris, Supts. of the Cradle Roll and Home Dents. of the Ahoskie M. E. Sunday School at the formers attractive home on Church Street Saturday afternoon.

The hostesses furnished automobiles to bring the guests to and from the entertainment.

The guests were met in hall by Mrs. J. W. Godwin who showed them into the dining room.

The decorations in dining room were unusually attractive, the color scheme pink and white the Cradle Roll colors, predominating in both the decorations and refreshments.

The table had for the central ornament a floal cradle in which a baby kupid nealed.

The color scheme was further carried out by a wreath encircling the chandelors comerebed by streamers of pink and white ribbon extending to the corners of the table and held by an artistic arrangement of flowers.

Here tea was served by Mrs. J.
A. Williams and Mrs. C. G.
Powell, and each baby was given a pink siple threaded with white and pink ribbon.

Mrs. J. A. Morris directed guests to library, where Miss Blanch Gerock kept the Cradle Roll bank and received the offering.

"The Seven Ages of Women" illustrating "From the Cradle to the Grave" was shown the guests by Miss Ida Henry who afterwards gave dainty favors of baby kupid to each.

A musical program followed: Song—Greeting to the Babies and Mothers by Mary Sumner, Agnes Brett, Kate Brett and Rose Mitchell.

Recitation—Welcome; Mary Sumner.
Scriptur Reading and Prayer, Rev.
J. A. Morris.

Recitation—Annabel; Kate Brett.
Duet—"In Thy Love," Mrs. P.
H. Mitchell, Miss Nellie Baker.

Recitation—Lost, Rose Mitchell.
Recitation—I Steped In your Steps all they way, Agnes Brett.

Solo—Lead Me Gently Home, Mrs. J. P. Brett.

Piano—Mrs. S. J. Boyette, Benediction—Rev. J. A. Morris.

War and Religion.

(Utica Press.)

As has been said before, the war in Europe has a great many different influences on this country.
A few and hitherto undiscovered one is that found by Rev. John H.
Jowett, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City. He says that since the war began there has been growing tendency among the people to be more exacting in their spiritual duties. He expresses the confident expectation that if the war continues there will be an increased improvement in church attendance.

Just why Americans should go to church more because the Germans and the allies are fighting each other on the other side of the world is perhaps not manifestly apparent, but if it is so, it is occasional for congratulation. Perhaps they go to give thanks because the United States is at peace with itself and all the rest of the world. The natural supposition is that this would promote a feeling of complacency and self-satisfaction.

As a rule, people seek the con-solutions of religion only when they are in trouble, or feel they are about to be. Generally they put off seeking divine aid until such a time as they are satisfied they cannot get sufficient assistance from themselves or their friends. It would be interesting to know if the increased interest which Dr. Jewett thinks he sees is noticable in other churches.
