STATE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Raleigh, July 9—The United States Government has again, through the Office of markets, selected the Textile Department of the State College, Raleigh, at which to make a series on a large variety of different grades of cotton.

This Department is frequently referred to as the North Carolina Textile School, and has at various times previously been selected by the United States Government at which to conduct special cotton experiments. The tests this year are extensive and will be of great value to the Cotton Manufacturing Industry.

This work is directly under the direction of W. S. Dean, who is a graduate of the Textile Department, Class of 1909. With him are associated three experts of the Office of Markets.

Another interesting fact is that the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers has again awarded the Student's Medal to this Textile Department, being the only Textile School in the South to receive same.

The medal is given to the student having the highest excellence in his studies and work, and this year was awarded to M. W. Stough, Cornelius, North Carolina.

GROW A SECOND CROP OF IRISH POTATOES

The fall or second crop of Irish potatoes is one of the means by which the production of one of the most important food crops may be increased. For a number of years, this second crop of Irish potatoes has been an unimportant item in the food supply of North Carolina but with emergency times at hand, Mr. W. N. Hutt, Horticulturist of the North Carolina Experiment Station, urges upon the growers of the Eastern section of the State the importance of putting in an extra crop.

In Extension Circular No. 49 prepared by Mr. R. G. Hill, Superintendent of the Truck Station at Willard, N. C., careful instruction in the growing of this crop is given.
The problem of seed is one of the most serious questions confronting the average grower but it has been found that when seed from the first crop are spread out on the floor in some sheltered place where they are exposed to a strong light but not to direct sunlight, and are turned at frequent intervals until they are greened or sprouted, they are then ready to plant. This method insures against injury from rot caused by moisture and allows the culling out of stock showing signs of disease. In this case a good stand is secured.

Tests have shown that the best time to plant the second crop is from the middle of July to the middle of August. In a favorable fall they might be set as late as September first, but there is always danger of late plantings being caught by frost before maturing.
Additional information in regard to the second crop of potatoes and copies of the circular 49 may be had on application to B. W. Kilgore, Director, Agricultural Extension Service, Raleigh, N. C.

ALSO CHILDREN

Speaking of dogs also reminds of children. Nine states in the Union tax dogs in order to educate children. They derive from this source annual revenues for their school funds ranging from $30,000 in Rhode Island to $210,000 in Michigan. In South Carolina the dog license tax fund is around $65,000 a year, and in Virginia about $90,000.

An effective dog tax law is statewide, but the revenues are retained within each county and applied to county common-school support.
A law of this sort brings home to each man in the county the issue of Dogs versus Childr en, and gives the heft of the argument to those who set a higher value on children than on dogs.

If a man is rich enough to keep dogs now-a-days, he is certainly rich enough to pay school taxes liberally.
Besides the homes that have the most dogs usually have the largest number of children to be educated, and the fathers that pay the heaviest dog taxes would reap the largest benefit in schooling for their children.

Twenty-two counties in North Carolina had dog license taxes in 1916, and derived revenues ranging from less than $10 in New Hanover to more than $2,000 in Alamance, Forsyth, Halifax and Pitt.

These counties would all do well to enforce the law more stringently and turn the revenues into the county school funds.
After all, people love children better than they love dogs.
Since 1908 we have had about 1,500 patients in our Pasteur Institute in Raleigh trying to save their lives from the bite of mad dogs. And mark you, these patients are mostly women and children.
All told, the expenses for travel and treatment cost the victims and their families some $25,000 year by year in North Carolina—to say nothing of the deaths and the agony of suffering and suspense.

We vote for Children versus Dogs. Not that we love dogs less, but children more.—University News Letter.
