ADVICE ON STORING SWEET POTATOES

Raleigh, N. C. July 7.—Pick the sweet potatoes, handle them carefully and be sure they are dry before trying to store them for winter.

The sweet potato is very easily damaged by handling and once the skin is broken or the root bruised, it is very easily attacked by disease.

No potato should be put up for storage if it has on it dark blotches, soft spots, or rotten ends.

The problem of ventilation should be carefully considered for when potatoes have been dried they should not be allowed to sweat or get wet again.

Cotton Graders Should Be Provided in August.

Raleigh, August 7.—In order that cotton graders may render the most efficient and satisfactory service, it is necessary that ample time be given them to properly prepare for the work.

According to Mr. O. J. McDonnell, who has the cotton grading work in charge, it is not probable that a grading office will be established in any county that does not come in early.

Amounts which counties are required to furnish in order to receive the service vary according to the production of cotton. The total cost to Hertford County would be fifty dollars.

Conserve Sweet Potato Crop.

Raleigh, August 6.—Despite the fact that the sweet potato is one of the surest and easiest to raise, it is also one of the hardest crops to keep in storage.

In Extension Circular No. 30, Mr. R. G. Hill, of the Division of Horticulture discusses methods of overcoming these serious troubles and gives plans for a storage house which was found successful at the Pender Branch Station.

COMMISSIONERS PLACE SHERIFF ON SALARY

The Hertford County Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting held in Winton last Monday voted unanimously to place the Sheriff of the County on a salary basis and placed the county funds in a bank which will act as Treasurer for the County.

The new arrangements go into effect on the first Monday in September. The salary of the Sheriff as fixed by the aforesaid act was twelve hundred dollars per year and process fees, which will probably total about eighteen hundred dollars per annum.

Only a small delegation was present when the action was taken and there was very little open opposition to the measure.

A committee was appointed by the Commissioners to audit the books of the Treasurer, and have the finances in proper shape for the transfer of the account in September.
