DAIRY COW MUST RECEIVE ATTENTION

DAIRY COW NEEDS SPECIAL ATTENTION AND CARE

A Well Lighted Stall Should Be Provided for Dairy Cow and She Should Be Fed Regularly and Given Proper Kind of Food. Special Attention To Be Given During Freshening Period

(By Dairy Extension Office)

The care and management of the family cow plays a greater part than is usually supposed in her ability to produce a maximum flow of milk. First, the cow must be made comfortable, by furnishing her with a clean, dry and warm place in which to stay; she appreciates these things just as well other animals do and will pay for it by producing more milk than she would under the opposite conditions. The stall in which she is kept should be cleaned and bedded each day, or at the least fresh bedding should be added each day, so as to enable the cow to keep clean and also to keep the stable from getting wet.

The stall in which the cow is kept should be so constructed that it will be light. The cow does not like a dark stall, and besides, it is a good breeding place for disease germs which may injure both the cow and the people who consume her milk. The stall should be so constructed that it will be tight for the first four feet above the floor, thus preventing cold draft from passing over the cow's body while she is in the stall and especially while she is lying down. Above this there should be plenty of windows to insure an abundant supply of fresh air and sunlight.

During the summer months, the cow should be provided with plenty of shade. She should be allowed to do her grazing during the cool parts of the day and then allowed to go to a cool shady place during the hot hours of the mid-day. The cow always suffers when forced to stay in the hot sun for any great length of time.

The cow should be in good flesh at the time of freshening, and should be dry for about 6 weeks. These two things will enable her to start at a high level of milk production after freshening, also the dry period gives her body a rest which it needs. As to the cow's feed during the dry period before the freshening, if she is in good flesh and has plenty of good pasture, no particular attention need be paid to her ration but if she must be fed entirely on dry feed, a laxative feed such as wheat bran or linseed meal should be added to the ration.

If the cow freshens during the winter months, she should, of course, have a warm box stall and for the first few days after freshening should be fed rather lightly, and her feed can then be gradually increased until she is back to a full feed.

The cow's udder may be swollen and hard for a short time before and after freshening, in which case it should be bathed at least three times each day, using water as hot as the hands be kept in, after which it should be well massaged with vasoline.

METHODISTS OF AHOSKIE ARE PLANNING FOR A NEW CHURCH HERE

At Conference Sunday Night It Was Unanimously Decided to Erect A New Building At An Early Date

Rev. M. F. Hodges, the new pastor of the Ahoskie Methodist church, has interested his congregation in the erection of a new building; and, at a conference held immediately after last Sunday night services, vote was taken, and as a result it was the unanimous consensus of opinion that a new building be erected, to take the place of the present inadequate building. At the regular Quarterly Conference to be held here on next Saturday, January 28, the local congregation will seek the approval of that body to carry out the proposed project here. Having secured the necessary approval by the Conference, plans will be immediately drawn up; and within a few weeks work may begin on the new edifice.

It will be remembered that plans were submitted by the former pastor, Rev. J. J. Barker, about two years ago, whereby a new building was to be constructed; however, nothing resulted from the movement. The former plan was to dispose of the church property on Main Street, using the proceeds from the sale to aid in financing the new building which was to be located on Church Street. Whether the new plans will be along similar lines is not known.

The Methodists of Ahoskie now own some very choice property, both on Main and on Church Streets. The church is located on the former street, while the parsonage is on the

The cow should not be milked quite dry the first one or two milkings after freshening, especially if the udder is inclined to be feverish and swollen. She should always be milked regularly twice each day as near the same hour each time as may be practical and always milked dry after the first one or two milkings after freshening. It is good practice to leave the calf with its mother 36 or 48 hours and then it should be taken away and placed in a very clean well lighted stall.

MISS TUTTLE, OF WELFARE COMMISSION MAKES TALK TO MOTHERS

She Also Brings Three Young Children Here, Where They Will Be Adopted by Rev. J. J. Barker

Miss Emeth Tuttle, a member of the State Welfare Commission, came to Ahoskie Tuesday bringing with her three young children, Rose, Ronald and R. P. Bolton, a niece and nephews of Mrs. J. J. Barker, of this city. The children, who have been motherless for about 5 years will be cared for by Rev. and Mrs. Barker. Two other children of the same family were placed by Miss Tuttle in a home at Greenville.

Miss Tuttle, the accomplished daughter of a Methodist minister, also spoke to the ladies of the Mothers' Club here Tuesday afternoon, the meeting being held at the home of Mrs. Roberts Jernigan in East Ahoskie. She spoke to the mothers about placing on sale the sandwiches at the local graded school; and urged the members of the club to undertake this work.

Following the discussion by Miss Tuttle, the Club voted to undertake the scheme. They are now making efforts to secure some lady who will provide the sandwiches and lunches.

This is by no means a new movement; as many other of the schools now make provision for the school lunches. It has been on the program of the County Home Demonstrator, & is generally accepted as one of the advanced movements in the school program.

CHAIRMAN JEWISH RELIEF

Rev. J. J. Barker, upon request by the headquarters, has accepted the chairman ship of the Jewish Relief Movement. He will begin at once to solicit subscriptions, and will endeavor to secure the $250, which is the quota allotted to Ahoskie.

FORMER HERTFORD MAN WANTS TO LOCATE RELATIVES IN THE COUNTY

Mr. L. W. Holloman Left Hertford County 30 Years Ago And Has Been Back Only One Time Since.

The following letter was received by the HERALD this week, and we are publishing it with the hope that some of the older citizens of the county can furnish Mr. Holloman with information about his relatives:

"Mr. Editor: A copy of your paper dropped in my office at the hands of my friend, Mr. W. E. Dunstan, of Elizabeth City, N. C., a former Hertford County boy. I was also reared in Hertford County, on or near the road that leads from Ahoskie to St. Johns; and well do I remember when Ahoskie had only two buildings, one being the home of Dr. Jessie Mitchell, and the other an old log house under a beach tree, not far from the old church.

"There is a family of Holloman's in your county that I would like to locate. It may be that the older ones are all dead. The man was Joe Holloman. He married Miss Sallie Holloman, the daughter of Abner & Sallie Hill Holloman. Mollie was a sister of Kindred and William H. Holloman. Mollie Holloman died near Union, N. C.

Joe Holloman, her husband, moved after her death near the old Billie Mitchell place, on the road to Aulander, also near the Abner Adkins home. I think Mr. Tom Vann now lives at the old Mitchell home. He married a daughter of Mr. Mitchell. Mrs. Mollie Holloman was an aunt of mine and I would be delighted to find the address of any of her children, if living; also her husband, if he is still living.

As I already stated I lived in Hertford County until I was 21 years old, at Frazier's Cross Roads. I am now 51 years of age. I have seen Hertford County but one time since leaving, and that was the year after my leaving the county the first time. I have lost sight of all my people on my father's side. If you know of any of the Holloman's that I speak of in this letter, I will thank you very much to publish same in the
