POWELLVILLE NEWS

Mr. J. J. Alston was in Ahoakie on Monday. Miss Laura Leigh Riddick spent the week end at Gatesville to see her father. Dr. J. B. Ruffin has returned home from the Tri-State Medical Association. He reports a large attendance and an interesting meeting. Mrs. Met Harrell continues very ill. A trained nurse will arrive to-day. Roads are still impassable. Those attending Winton court from here and other places go on carts, wagons and other vehicles drawn by horse and mules. Miss Helen Phelps from near here has returned from the hospital markedly improved. Little Cecil Holloman, while attempting to jump on his father's wagon missed his footing and the wagon containing five hundred bricks and persons rolled over his shoulders. Fortunately, so far no serious results have been reported. Dr. Ruffin says "The escape was miraculous". Mrs. J. J. Alston visited her parent near Crema a few days last week. Mr. A. S. Wynns has completed in stalling his new mill and it is in operation. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Evans and Mrs. J. E. Wynne were visitors at Crema a few days ago. Miss Pigg, from Mars Hill, returned home Sunday afternoon from Madison where she was summoned to the funeral and burial of her father. She has our sincerest sympathy. Mr. L. E. Dailey passed thru Sunday afternoon enroute to Center Grove to fill his appointment. Miss Barker spent the week end at her home in Ahoakie. Mr. Henderson Miller was in town Monday. Mr. Charles Overton was in Norfolk last week on business. Quite a number of our young folks went to Mars Hill Wednesday night to attend the Washington's birthday celebration. Mrs. H. C. Waters is still on the sick list. Miss Riddick entertained her class at the school building Friday evening. Refreshments were served. Miss Perry is visiting her brother Mr. J. E. R. Perry. What Mrs. Brenninger, of New York, Says About Rat Poison. "Tried preparations that kill rats but RAT-SNAP is the only one that prevents disagreeable odors after killing. Also like RAT-SNAP because it comes in handy cakes, no-mixing with other food. You do not have to dirty your hands, it's the best for household use." Try RAT-SNAP. Three sizes, 35c., 55c., $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Copeland Drug Co., and E. J. Gerock in Ahoakie.—Advertisement.

QUEER LINGO OF CATTLE MARKET

Sheep and Hogs Also Come in for Their Share of Weird and Strange Expressions.

"SLUNK" CALF UNMARKETABLE

"Butcher Hogs" Are Most Popular and Must Be of Right Weight and Quality—"Mutton Sheep" Are Fat Ewes and Wethers.

In the marketing of cattle, sheep and hogs, often queer terms are used. Reporting the markets daily causes many a weird term to be coined and eventually adopted into the language. Here are given a number of common terms used in the course of live stock marketing. Even their users, in some instances, will be enlightened as to the full meaning:

Cattle Terms and Classes.

"Beef cattle" are the heavier, older, heifers or bulls, largely bought by the bigger slaughterers. "Butcher cattle" are usually trim weight stock, either cows, or steers or heifers, carrying good flesh weighing 550 to 1050 pounds and highly desirable for the city butcher trade. "Prime finished" heaves are those that have been made strictly fat, generally of 6 to 12 months liberal feed on grain, cake, molasses or other tried rations. "Ripe" is a similar term. "Fancy" heaves are those that have the prime or ripe finish referred to above and in addition carry full quality due to being high grade or pure bred stock. "Good," "fair," "medium," "plain," "common" and "inferior" are terms applied to livestock in varying degrees of flesh, condition and quality as they range down the line under the grade of prime. "Corn fed" heaves usually refer to cattle that have had two to three months or longer ration of generous grain feed.

Prime Finished Heaves.

"Short fed cattle" are those that have had from two to three months (time varying) of fairly generous rations.

"Warmed up cattle" are those that have been fed for a very brief period, generally three to six weeks—time varying.

"Grassers" are cattle presumably fitted for market on the range or pasture alone.

"Canners" are poor thin animals, furnishing only low grade meat suited only for marketing in the form of canned product.

"Cutters" are animals one grade better than canners, but yet not carrying enough flesh to class as beef types.

"Scalwags," "shells," etc., refer to emaciated stock.

"Heretics" is a term mostly applied to inbred southern cattle between the Butcher Hogs.

vent and yearling stage, weighing generally 150 to 300 pounds.

"Slunk" is a prematurely born calf—unmarketable.

"Yearlings" refer to cattle beyond the calf and under the two year class.

"Heavy yearlings" (southern) are stock generally weighing 275 to perhaps 450 pounds.

"Light yearlings" (southern) are cattle generally weighing 150 to 275 pounds.

"Muley" cattle are those that are without horns.

"Dogey" cattle are fine boned, trim southwestern stock, usually susceptible to quick finish on feed.

A "quiline" steer in the trade parlance is a poor, inferior animal having every appearance of disease, usually extremely inbred.

"Sausage" or "bologna" bulls are those not carrying flesh enough to be classed as beef types.

"Stocker" cattle are those suited to go back to the country primarily for feeding. Weights vary as to conditions, often reaching up to 850 pounds.

"Feeder" cattle are those with sufficient growth and flesh to make them suitable for placing immediately in the feedlots. Weights usually 550 pounds upwards.

ROWING COWPEA IN COMBINATION

Greater Variety and Larger Yield of Feed is Obtained and Easier to Cure.

CORN USED QUITE GENERALLY

Excellent Mixture for Silage and is Being Extensively Used on Dairy Farms—Sorghums and Kaffirs Also Favored.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Although the cowpea can be satisfactorily grown alone, it is more advantageously grown for hay in combination with other crops. When grown in this manner, not only is a greater variety and larger yield of feed obtained, but the mixed hay is much more easily cured and handled. Corn is used quite generally with cowpeas, but only to a slight extent for hay. The crop most widely used with cowpeas for hay is sorghum, both sweet sorghums and kaffirs, although other crops, such as sudan grass, Johnson grass, soy beans and millet, are used Cowpeas and Corn.

The cowpea is an excellent crop to grow with corn for silage, and it is being used extensively for this purpose on many dairy farms, especially in the northern part of the cowpea area.

If grown with corn for other than silage purposes, cowpeas are allowed to ripen a fair percentage of pods, which are gathered for seed and the remainder pastured. This method not only gives a crop of corn but also sufficient cowpea seed for sowing the next season, and the residue makes either a hay crop or a fair amount of grazing for stock. In many parts of the South, especially in the sugarcane districts of Louisiana, cowpeas instead of being pastured are harvested for hay after the corn has been gathered.

Cowpeas and Sorghum.

Cowpeas grown in combination with sorghum make an excellent hay or silage crop. As a hay crop this mixture is more easily cured than cowpeas alone, constitutes a well-balanced ration, and is relished by all kinds of farm stock. Both the sweet sorghums and the kaffirs are used. The Amber sorghum is most generally favored. When grown in rows, the Sumac and orange varieties of sorghum are fully as good as the amber since they grow larger and stronger plants. The whippoorwill, iron, unknown and clay varieties of cowpea require about the same time to mature as the sorghums and therefore should be used in place of the earlier sorts. Harvesting with a mowing machine is most satisfactory.

Cowpeas growing with Sorghum.

When sown "broadcast" for hay, the sowing is best done with a grain drill on well-prepared land, the two kinds of seed being well mixed and sown at the same time. Usually the best rate to sow is about one bushel of cowpeas and half a bushel of sorghum seed to the acre. Where the grain drill is not available for sowing, the cowpeas should be disked or harrowed in and the sorghum should then be sown while the land is rough, the seed being covered with a drag harrow or weeder.

Excellent results are obtained by sowing cowpeas and sorghums together in cultivated rows 2 1/2 to 3 feet apart. This method requires about 45 pounds of cowpeas and about one-third of a bushel of sorghum seed to the acre.

MILK SAMPLES FOR TESTING

Only Fair Way Would Be to Make Average of Two to Four Milkings—Cows Will Vary.

A fair sample of milk for a test should be an average of two or four milkings. Cows do not always give milk of the same test. Lots of cows test lower in the morning milking than at night. The only fair way is to take an average and a sample of more than one milking is necessary to get this average test.
