In regards to the Bonus Bill, we should say that the spirit was willing, but the Treasury weak.

It seems impossible to produce a picture that will have a healthy effect on public morals and the same effect on the box office.

All Herald correspondents are urged to try to have their copy in by Tuesday night, to prevent delay in publication. It is important that this be kept in mind.

Not safe to depend on March weather. Nor on Hertford county roads. Both of these factors were the cause of the postponement of the "big day," in Ahoskie, staged for Saturday, March 4th. Travel with roads and weather of the sort we have been favored with for the last month is virtually impossible. Poets sing of Spring; and well they might, with roads and weather in their present condition.

We are at a loss to know just what adjectives to apply in describing the streets, or what used to be the streets, of our town. Ordinary descriptive phrases fail to put the idea over. For the past two months, Ahoskie's name has been "mud," while the "lizzies" have all rusted up during their long period of rest. It is hoped that Spring weather will hasten possible the working of the thoroughfares of our town, for, most assuredly they are sorely in need of attention.

With this issue, a slight change occurs in the Herald force, as regards to the writing department; the editor having journeyed to a far country, leaving the remainder of the force with the bag to hold. However, it will be the purpose of the ink slingers now in charge to maintain the same high standard which has characterized the Herald for so many years past, and to keep in mind at all times the interests of our readers, as has been the policy of this paper since its initial issue, 12 years ago.

Court week is always attended with unexpected happenings. The "twelve good men and true" probably have, or have not, revived from the shock sustained last week, when an Ahoskie citizen testified that the character of the average man in Ahoskie was on an equal with one whose name suggests anything but character, and is familiar to all. The question is, whether the impression left on outsiders by this unprecedented statement was taken literally, or regarded as preposterous. If the former was, and is the case, pity be with the men of Ahoskie; that is, in the eyes of outsiders. It is still unknown as to whether the citizen who made the above mentioned statement considers himself an "average citizen" of Ahoskie, or above the average? Evidently "above the average," and several miles above, is the word, for it goes without saying that no self-respecting citizen would make such a statement, unless in his own sight, he was far beyond the pale of ordinary men, as regards to "character," of the town upon which he thus threw reflections. Which all goes to prove the theory that county courts, instead of being a bar of justice, are fast becoming a rendezvous where corrupt lawyers meet, and disregard their calling, the quest of justice at all cost, and allow the power of money to stand between them and the enforcement of the written law of the land, the enforcement of justice.

Watch that label on your paper.

NEW MANAGEMENT TAKES CHARGE

This is the first week the Hertford County Herald has been under new management in the past seven years. Mr. J. Roy Parker, former Editor left us last week for Logan, West Virginia, where he has accepted a position as city editor of the Logan Democrat, daily paper of that city. Well, I guess Mr. Parker was a right big man for a small town like this, but this is good enough for me, and I intend to stay here until I get rich or starve or die or old age. The new management wishes the hearty co-operation of the good people of this entire section, and with your help we will try to give you one of the best weekly papers in the state. We are aware of the fact that we have got to move on us to give you as good a paper as you have been receiving, but we intend to do our best. We wish Mr. Parker all the success that a man could have in a new field, and we sincerely hope he will honor us occasionally with a contribution from his pen.

JAMES S. VINSON,
Managing Editor.

27,371 VETS GET CANADA LAND

Loans of $97,495,815 Given Soldiers Who Took Farms Under Relief Act.

Ottawa.—Exactly 27,371 Canadian war veterans have been settled on the land under the provisions of the soldier settlement act, says an official report of the dominion government. Of these, 21,246 have been granted government loans totaling $87,495,815, an average of more than $4,000 per settler, for the purchase of land, permanent improvements thereon, stock and equipment. The remaining 6,125 were settled on land without financial assistance. The report adds 467 settlers already have repaid their loans in full. The work of getting the returned soldier back to the land is still progressing. There have been 22,430 applications for the privileges of the act, the report states, and 44,772 of the applicants have qualified. There are 520 men in training in agricultural schools and 3,110 have completed training and are awaiting allocation to farms.

ICELESS REFRIGERATOR

This invention will keep milk or other liquids cool without the use of any ice. It is made of concrete. The evaporation of water trickling over the outside from the container on top keeps the contents of the refrigerator cold. The hotter the weather the better it works.

WORLD LANGUAGE IS URGED

Prof. Gilbert Murray Says League of Nations Is Babel of Tongues.

London.—Prof. Gilbert Murray, vice chairman of the executive committee of the League of Nations, says the necessity of an international language was forcibly borne upon him when attending the recent meetings of the League of Nations at Geneva. "If you spoke in English," he said, "it was translated into French; if in French it was translated into English, and if anybody knew neither English nor French, that was his own lookout." On the whole, he thought the natural way out of the difficulty would be for the league to recognize one of the two artificial international languages, either Esperanto or Ido.

249 CHILEAN QUAKES IN 1920

Occur 35 Hours Apart on Average, Reports Seismological Service.

Santiago.—Two hundred and forty-nine earthquake shocks were recorded in Chile in 1920, according to a report just published by the national seismological service. The average interval between shocks was 35 hours, while in the year previous a shock was registered every 28 hours. The greatest seismic activity in 1920 was the area embracing the Aconcagua and Malpo valleys, in which the principal cities are located. The most pronounced shock was recorded on July 26, the center of which was in the Aconcagua valley.

Rare Horse on Exhibition.

Calgary, Can.—A unique specimen of the equine species, "Wild Lizzie," which has a coat that is exactly like a fine quality of Persian lamb, is on exhibition in Calgary. She is owned by Charles Jackson, a local pioneer and philanthropist, who gives every cent of the proceeds to worthy objects. Besides possessing this peculiar fur coat, "Wild Lizzie" is a bad actor and defies the best bronco busters of the district.

Moonshine Makes Rabbits Defy the Whole World

Pasco, Wash.—Officers investigating a story sent by a Pasco correspondent concerning the prevalence of rabies among rabbits have found that the police in making a raid just outside the city, dumped several barrels of corn mash out on the sagebrush covered prairie. The embryo moonshine at once became the diet of hundreds of rabbits. Crazy bunnies ran pell-mell into standing automobiles, frantically gnawed at telephone poles and did some dancing. The people concluded that the rabbits had rabies.
