TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the musky mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

VICTIMS RUSH TO MEET SWINDLERS

Worthless Certificates Are Eagerly Grabbed Up by Innocent Dupes.

OIL STOCKS STILL SELLING

Modern Inventions Help Crooked Salesmen Unload Stock on Unsuspecting Buyers—"Wildcat" Brokers Make Fortunes.

New York.—In years gone by, the old brick artists and oil stock salesmen were so successful that P. T. Barnum once remarked that a "sucker is born every minute." Today, with modern inventions and a public just as eager to be "stung," the "sharps" find the birth rate even higher, and their profits are so much the greater.

It has been estimated that in the last year more than $800,000,000 has been thrown away by the people of the United States on "wildcat" schemes that range from oil stock to making metal from horses' hoofs and extracting gold from sea water. According to statistics, there are more "suckers" in the country today than Mr. Barnum imagined.

During the last year, hundreds of stock brokers have been arrested in various cities for selling "wildcat" stocks. In many cases, however, the "brokers" were tipped off that they were being watched, and, like the Arabs, they folded their tents and silently stole away. With them went the money of ministers, department store clerks, stenographers, telephone operators, housewives, and staid business men.

There are at the present time, it is estimated, approximately 1,000 "bucket shops" in the United States. If these 1,000 shops are to remain open, they must have $100 a day each, which, in a year of 300 days, means an income of $30,000,000 annually for office expense alone. This is to meet the expense of wire and ticket services and blackboard boys, with the gullible paying the cost.

A Favorite Trick

A favorite trick of the bogus stock salesmen is to secure from the telephone list or directory the names of physicians, ministers, and school teachers. The salesman makes a call and, by his persuasive voice, is usually able to sell at least ten shares of a certain stock for $1 a share. A few days later another agent calls and offers $2 a share for the stock, but the buyer, instead of reselling, buys more stock from the second salesman. The slick salesman then disappears and the buyer realizes that wastepaper is much cheaper than the paper he has purchased.

A mushroom bucketshop in Philadelphia a year ago played a wonderful game while it lasted. Out of the telephone directory the operators took 2,000 names, and to these addresses they sent trade letters. To 1,000 of the addresses these so-called brokers stated that a certain stock was due for a sudden rise. To the other 1,000 persons went similar letters stating that this self-same stock was due for a fall. In this manner, the bucketshop keepers made 1,000 friends who thought the brokers knew what they were talking about when the stocks did go up. This was followed by telephone calls for orders and many shares were purchased. The 1,000 persons who were told the stock would go down were not bothered again.

Prominent Names a Factor

A favorite trick of the stock swindlers—that is the mushroom variety that bloom overnight, fleece the "innocents," and then depart either to a prison cell or parts unknown—is to adopt the trade name of prominent deceased bankers, or the name of a building in which they establish luxuriously furnished suites. Then they sit back and listen to the dollars clinking into their coffers from the pockets of the unsuspecting, who believe they are dealing with the sons of the financial wizards of a generation ago.

Any secret process to manufacture anything is one of the favorite foundations on which to construct a swindle. It seems to cloak chicanery and furnish a tempting appeal to human credulity. Not long ago a company was formed in one of the large eastern cities to make cosmic bearings for automobiles and airplanes. The process was to be kept secret, it being decided not to even patent the process because of the danger of its being stolen.

When the secret was revealed at a directors' meeting, after the proper amount of stock had been disposed of, it read as follows: "To 100 pounds of metal add four ounces of horse-hoof parings, three ounces of borax, two ounces of powdered glass, and one ounce of sea salt. After copper, lead, and tin are fused, put in horse-hoof parings and stir well, then add glass, borax, and sea salt combined, then stir."

A Good Formula.
Not the least amusing thing in relation to the formula was that it is all right. The company expected to make the concoction at a cost of 15 cents a pound, and sell it at 85 cents, but a subscriber to the stock who could not quite fathom where the horse-hoof parings came in began an investigation, despite the fact that he had been sworn to secrecy. He learned that foundrymen throughout the country had been using this formula for half a century, and that the product could be sold by them for 11 cents a pound, or 9 cents cheaper than it cost the company to manufacture it. The officials of the stock company were arrested, but, it is said, they had taken in more than $575,000 through the scheme.

"BEHEADED" MAN NOW O. K.

Knife of Chinese Executioner Only Wounds Hand—Man's Pain Soon and is Healed.

Siangtang, Kansu Province.—One Wong Ah-yai, not so long ago a captured bandit under sentence of death in this little Chinese community, walks the streets a free man today, and his is a figure that commands a certain measure of awe and respect due to odd circumstances.

With six companions he was captured while engaged in a lawless enterprise and, in accordance with the swift justice of the Chinese, he and the other six were promptly convicted and led out to be executed. The heads of the six were quickly chopped off, but by a mischance when the knife descended upon Wong's neck it did not sever the head but merely inflicted a gaping wound. This was taken as a sign that some special spirit was acting as Wong's guardian and neither the executioner nor any other dared again swing the knife.

Wong was taken to the yamen of the magistrate, who also was impressed, so much so that the official not only granted the culprit a full pardon, but he also gave Wong a letter of introduction to those in charge of the mission hospital. The Christian doctor in charge there restored Wong to well-being and so he goes about today a free man and one to be respected.

BIG JAP STUDENT TOO MUCH

Washington Freshman Tried to Haze Him, but He Was Too Strong.

Seattle, Wash.—All Japanese are not easy marks, as fifteen boys of the freshman class at the State university here can testify.

Last fall a real sport matriculated in the person of Tajiro Ogawa, a burly Japanese boy, who stands nearly 6 feet high. He is a giant in strength too, and had been employed all summer in a railroad section gang in Montana. He is thirty years old and has been in America ten years.

This year he decided to enter the university to study engineering, and as soon as the freshmen learned of this they planned to haze him.

The plan failed. More than thirty-five of the young bloods of the university captured the Japanese and attempted to shackle him. He broke one boy's nose, blacked more eyes than he has fingers and toes, tore a part of the scalp off Andrew Barker and severely injured eleven other boys. At least 15 of the class were unable to resume school work, while the smiling face of Ogawa appeared as usual in the classroom.

LONDON CLUBS GOING BROKE

Times Are Hard and Members Are Sending in Resignations by Hundreds.

London.—London clubland has for a long time been in a bad way financially, and something like a crisis seems to have set in at the end of the year. It is said that resignations from prominent clubs have been pouring in by hundreds, and that club secretaries are at their wits' end how to carry on. One club has already sent out an S. O. S. to its members, begging them to pay their dues for 1922 during the current month, failing which there will be a foreclosure on the club premises.

Old Couple.

Atlanta, Tex.—Living upon the plantation of V. D. Glass, near here, is a negro couple who are believed to be the oldest man and wife in the state. Joe Knight is one hundred and nine years old and his wife is one hundred and eight years old. They were married in slavery times eighty-five years ago. "Uncle Joe," as he is called, still potters around the farm.

Thirteen Ducks With One Shot.

Williamsport, Md.—Jacob Adams, while gunning along Potomac river for wild ducks, shot into a flock and killed thirteen black Mallards with one shell. His gun was loaded with No. 10 shot.

Guards Cemetery Daily, Though 107 Years Old

New York.—Although one hundred and seven years of age, and the oldest man in New York, James Murray, even in most severe weather, is daily at his post as gatekeeper at Trinity cemetery. For more than 50 years Murray has guarded the Amsterdam avenue gate, and the one dark cloud on his otherwise sunny disposition is due to two days of absence recently because of a fall.
