Lesson Passage Isaiah 2:2-4

BY REV. M. F. HODGES

This word was brought to the prophet in a vision. What he saw was that relating to the last days, that is to the days of the coming Messiah, when His kingdom should be set up in the world at the end of the Mosaic economy. In the last days of the earthly Jerusalem the heavenly Jerusalem should be established. These days were long in coming, great while waited for by the Old Testament saints but finally they came as had been foretold by more than one of the prophets.

We are not to look for any other dispensation of Divine grace except that of the Gospel which we now have. What greater could we wish for? Nothing greater could be done for the race than has been done. The prophet here foretells.

1. The setting up of the Christian Church and the planting of the Christian religion in the world. Christianity shall be "the mountain of the Lord's house," where that is professed and possessed God will at all times grant His presence and receive the homage of His people. Christianity shall be openly professed "in the tops of the mountains," that is, in the view and hearing of all. No longer will God's voice and presence be within closed walls and behind curtains and sounded in obscure language; but will be open and free to all. What has been done by the immediate followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene and by those who follow Him now has been and will continue to be a beacon to a lost world and not hid in a corner. It shall be firmly fixed and rooted, it "shall be established in the tops of the mountains," that is, built upon a solid rock and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. "And shall be exalted above the hills—will tower above all competitors, will outshine all the wisdom, philosophy and politics of the world.

2. The bringing in of the Gentiles, the nations shall be brought in. The middle wall of partition shall be broken down. "All nations shall flow unto it."

They shall have liberty, liberty which can be enjoyed only by those who are made free by the Gospel. Multitudes shall embrace the Christian religion. There will be no means of force used but those who accept it will do willingly. Every false religion has some way by which its adherents are forced to accept the principles of the same. Not so with the religion of Jesus Christ.

3. There will be mutual helpfulness. Those who seek communion and fellowship with Christ should be anxious to bring others to this knowledge. "He will teach us His ways." God's ways are to be learned in His church, by the proper use of its ordinances and communion and fellowship one with another. It is well worth all the time and pains of a lifetime to seek this means of grace. How anxious men should be to go up to the sanctuary and there be taught of the great teacher, there to learn of His will concerning and us how to do His will.

4. "Out of Zion shall go forth the law." This refers to the New Testament law—the law of Christ; it is the law of faith, faith that worketh by love; it is the word of God and should therefore receive our very best attention. Christ began his work in Galilee. When the Apostles were commissioned they began at Jerusalem. This honor was allowed even after Christ had been crucified, because of what it had been.

5. "He shall judge among the nations." He shall judge among the souls of men and rule in them if permitted to do so. He shall in justice and order rule the affairs of the world for the advancement of His Church. Whether we believe it or not the Church will finally triumph over all its enemies.

6. "They shall beat their swords into ploughshare." Instruments of war shall become implements of husbandry. "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation." "Neither shall they learn war any more." This does not mean that in the days of the Messiah there shall be no wars. The Jews urge this against the Christians that Messiah has not come; that the promise has not been fulfilled. This was in part fulfilled when Christ was born—note the taxing as recorded in Luke 2:1-2. The design of the Gospel is to make peace and slay all enmity and hatred and lusts of men that breed war. Nothing is said as to how long this period spoken shall last. It is evident that we are living in the Gospel dispensation, the time spoken of in this prophecy. We might reasonably expect the literal fulfillment of this prophecy had it not been for the things that are the enemies of the Gospel of Christ. "The kingdom come, Thy will be done." We pray this every day and then do but little to bring it to pass. This condition must exist in our hearts. Millions of earth's population today are ready and anxious to hear the Gospel of the Son of God while we are at home are careless and indifferent to the claims of the Gospel. Let us begin in our own hearts and in the community of which we are part, and in the Church we claim to love to establish the principles of Jesus Christ as laid down in the law of the New Testament. Agencies are at work in the world today for the converting implements of war into things for peace and usefulness. When will these agencies succeed? When may we expect them to materialize? They will all avail something when the nations of the earth recognize Jesus Christ as Prince of peace, own God as our father and ruler of all things. God help us work for this new and better day.

A LESSON FOR ADVERTISERS

Just the other day we saw an article which read something like this—"Once upon a time, a man had a furnace that was not heating his home with satisfaction. One day he became angry and going down to the basement, stood before the furnace and exclaimed: 'Not another lump of coal will you get until you give me more heat.' The poor fellow froze to death.

Herein is a lesson for advertisers. Some men put a little ad in the paper, and if it doesn't immediately bring the results he expects—"I won't advertise again until the other fellow freezes to death." So the poor fellow freezes to death.

If you want still further proofs of this, look up statistics and compare the figures of failures among advertisers with the figures of failures of non-advertisers—those who freeze to death. You'll soon catch the full meaning of the age-old slogan—"It pays to advertise."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Waiting for Driftwood

In the early days an old man sat in the wilderness by a river. Fishing was good and the eddying current brought the driftwood to him. He grew indolent.

Across the river in a more unfavored location, settled another man. He fought for his existence; he fought for everything he got and in time he got everything for which he fought.

True success comes only through industry and thrift. Don't wait for things to drift your way—go after them. A savings account is one of the first steps towards success.
