Messrs. Johnnie Snipes and Stanley Brown spent a few hours in Woodland Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Lois Cole of Roxobel spent the week-end with her friends Misses Elsie Cowan and Ida Belle Baker at this place.

The teachers of St. John's township met at the Menola school building last Saturday and held their final teachers' meeting.

Mr. Ephraim Parker who has been in feeble health for several months, died at his home near here last Thursday. The funeral services were conducted at his home Friday afternoon amid a host of friends and relatives. He was buried in the family burying ground. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

TRANSPLANT WEBSTER TREE

The United States Chamber of Commerce is to have a new building at Seventeenth and H Streets, in Washington. One of the buildings being torn down to make room for it is the old Corcoran house in which lived Daniel Webster many years ago. In the yard is a boxwood tree under which Webster often sat to read. This historic tree is now being dug up to be transplanted to the grounds of the Lincoln Memorial.

'NUFF SAID

'An Irishman came home one night with a blackened eye, a broken nose and a split lip.

"Tim Sullivan done it," he told his wife, as he began to bathe, the wounds.

"Shame on ye!" Bridget cried. A big feller like you to be licked by a hard-drinkin' cockroach like Tim Sullivan! Why he—

"Whist," said Pat, "don't spake evil of the dead."

DEATH OF MRS. HERBERT LASSITER

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in Ahooskie for several years occurred Monday afternoon when the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. Herbert Lassiter and took his loving wife to the Great Beyond.

Mrs. Lassiter was a native of Chowan county and moved to Ahooskie about five years ago. She was a Mrs. Ward when she moved here and was married to Mr. Herbert Lassiter about one year ago. Mrs. Lassiter was known to be one of the best Christian women of the community and was a member of Myrick Swamp Baptist church. She leaves a husband, two small children by her first husband, a baby about a week old by her last husband, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn the loss of a dear one.

Funeral services were held at Myrick Swamp Baptist Church, Chowan County, Tuesday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in the church cemetery.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband and children.
