

CARD FROM MR. HINES

EDITOR HERALD:

Dear Sir: Will you allow me space in your paper to correct a report? It has been reported to me by several reliable men that there is a report in Ahoskie, and same is being circulated all over the county, that my pay roll for the month of February for labor, was nine thousand dollars. This is an absolute falsehood. It was not this amount in February nor in any other month. This same party also stated that I had cleared an acre of land on my farm with the convict force. This is also false. No convict has ever "struck a lick" of work on my land except to cut wood for the convict camp.

I have never stayed on this farm twenty minutes at a time since I bought it until last Sunday except from between nine o'clock at night until five o'clock in the morning. I also understand that I left trucks out last winter and allowed the water to freeze in the radiators and burst them.

Now all this is false and the worthless cur who started it is unworthy to breath the breath of a common hound and is not half as much as a gentleman. I understand all this is a part of a frame-up to elect a new Commission. I think if he is a campaign manager for any candidate, that candidate is already defeated. If this report is started to defeat the commissioners, why don't they hit them instead of me. If I was half as mean and dirty as the one who started this report, I would not want a job as road superintendent in the county. I would be out robbing the banks and be a professional thief and liar as he is.

Respectfully,
F. G. HINES, Road Supt.

FOURTEEN CANDIDATES IN THE THIRD DISTRICT

The Raleigh News and Observer reports that fourteen men, either by their own initiative or through the interest of their friends, have been projected into the race that has broken out in the Third Congressional district for the seat vacated by the death of Congressman S. M. Brinson. Every county in the district save Pamlico has from one to four bidders.

HENRY FORD'S EDITOR AT BUIE'S CREEK SCHOOL

The commencement program of Buie's Creek Academy is completed with the announcement that Hon. W. J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, Dearborn, Mich., will deliver the literary address on Thursday, May 18th. Other announcements of special interest are that Dr. Paul Bagby of Wake Forest College will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, May 14th, and that Dr. Alston Ellis of Raleigh will deliver the Alumni address, Thursday, p. m., May 17th.

This unusually attractive array of speakers, together with the special Alumni announcements, is expected to draw a great crowd of old students and friends of the institution from all sections. Arrangements are being made to provide for five hundred Alumni expected at the alumni luncheon and ball game. Several changes in the program this year will be of interest to the Alumni and friends in all parts of the state. Beginning with the exercises by the primary grades on Saturday, May 13th, followed by sermon on Sunday. The program for the remainder of the week is as follows:

New Job Type Just Received

We have recently added to our Job Printing Department three complete series of new type. The addition of this new type with our modern machinery and skilled workmen puts the Job Printing Department of the HERALD on par with any printing office to be found in eastern North Carolina including towns two and three times the size of Ahoskie.

Our aim is quality and service at a reasonable price. Quality in character and style of work done and paper used. Service in printing when you want it—delivered on time. No exasperating waits and delays, we make a specialty of this feature.

Our prices are based on the Franklin fair price list and will compete with good printer's prices anywhere.

If you want some good stationery, send us your idea and we will make up a form for your approval. We can handle anything from a visiting card to a form 30 inches wide and 44 inches long.
