While crossing the ferry the car with Mr. Waters in it, ran off the end of the ferry boat and Mr. Waters was drowned.

Many from Murfreesboro attended with pleasure and benefit the revival services held at Meherrin last week and which were conducted by that able and convincing speaker, Dr. Walter Johnson, of Raleigh. Circumstances Regretted.

Mr. Meekton—I'll never forget the day I proposed to my wife. I must have appeared very absurd.

Mr. Quall—Did she laugh at you? No. I sometimes wish she had. Maybe I'd have forgotten my embarrassment and changed the subject.

KNOWLEDGE NOT EVERYTHING
"Mrs. DeGrabb knows enough to keep her mouth shut, doesn't she?"
"Oh, yes; but she lacks control."

Willing to Learn.
"There, little boy," the said man said "I would not cry like that."
"Well, it's the only way I know: 'How would you cry?'" said Pat.

Puzzled Teddy.
Teddy—You haven't any whiskers or very much hair.

Sister's Hero—Well, what of it?
Teddy—Oh, I was only wondering how pa was going to manage it.
Sister's Hero—Manage what?
Teddy—He said he was going to mop the floor with you.

Right Back at Father.
"Well, daughter, what did Augustus say when you told him I didn't want another fool in the family?"
"He said he thought you ought to be willing to take a chance, father, as he is a much younger man than you are and he might outgrow it."

A Happy Match.
"She says he was just made for her."
"He has a million dollars, I understand."

Clearly Stated.
Hudson—There are the twin brothers over there.
Blake—Which is which?
"Well, the one who looks as if he might be the other is the one the other isn't."

His Method.
"Isn't it terribly difficult to write scenarios?"
"Oh, not very. I just think of a long-drawn-out kiss as a climax and then invent situations leading up to it."

Had High Opinion of Loved One.
Theodore Hook, though he died a celibate, had his share of love adventures; and it was only lack of courage at the last moment that kept him from the altar. He had actually posted a letter of proposal when his heart failed him, and he recovered the missive just as it was starting on its fateful journey.

On being reminded one day in later years, after a long and bitter trade against matrimony—"If a certain lady had been alive, even you would to-day be the 'slave of a woman,'" he retorted: "A woman, no, no! She was not a woman, but an angel."

POISON BAITS WILL KILL OFF CUTWORMS

White Arsenic or Paris Green Will Prove Efficient.

Insects Are Especially Fond of Tomatoes, Cabbage, Lettuce and Other Vegetables—They Are Voracious Feeders.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Cutworms can readily be controlled by the use of poisoned bait, the United States Department of Agriculture has demonstrated. This is the way to prepare and apply the poison:

To one bushel of dry bran add one pound of white arsenic or paris green and mix thoroughly into a mash with four gallons of water, in which has been stirred one-half gallon of sorghum or other cheap molasses. This amount will be sufficient to treat four or five acres of cultivated crops. After the mash has stood for several hours scatter it in lumps of about the size of a marble over the fields where the injury is beginning to appear. Put it about the bases of the plants which have been set out. Apply the mash late in the day, so as to have the poison in place around the plants before night, when the cutworms are active. Apply a second time if necessary.

Cutworms destroy hundreds of thousands, even millions of dollars' worth of crops every year throughout the United States. They especially attack tomatoes, cabbage, lettuce and other vegetables that have been started under glass and transplanted. Cutworms sometimes appear in great numbers in the spring and early summer, and frequently do severe injury before their ravages are noticed.

Their method of attack is to cut off the young plants near the ground. They are of large size and are voracious feeders, capable of destroying many plants in a single night. Often they cut down more than they can devour.
