SWEET POTATO STORAGE HOUSE AT COUNTY HOME

Do you have trouble keeping sweet potatoes? Of course you do if you keep them in earthen hills. Besides causing you to lose on an average 50 per cent of your potatoes, the earthen hill method requires a lot of extra and unpleasant work every year. Call by the County Home within the next few days and have Mr. Brown show you the sweet potato storage house recently built there. Then go home and do likewise and thus end your troubles in keeping sweet potatoes. As to the cost of building it will depend upon the size, and also in a large degree to your ability to look after the building of it yourself. On the average it shouldn't cost more than 50 cents per bushel of storage capacity. And it will pay for itself in one to three years. A blue print of any size house you may desire, with bill of material needed, may be had free for the asking. Build a potato house, raise enough potatoes to last you the year round, (and a few extra for sale) and you will have made quite a step forward in solving the boll weevil problem.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss. While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Don't burn coal yet— use Kerosene

James J. Storrow, Fuel Administrator of Massachusetts during the War and special coal consignee during the present coal shortage, has issued a timely warning against drawing on the meagre coal stocks until absolutely necessary. Mr. Storrow makes the following suggestions, among others:

"Don't burn a pound of coal this month or in October."

"Cook and heat water for your household with a kerosene stove or gas stove. Buy a portable kerosene heater. It is handy. It is cheap. It can be moved easily from room to room. It will save coal and money. It will perhaps keep you out of the coal line next winter."

"Cooking by kerosene stove is cheaper than coal. It is more comfortable during these warm days.

"Kerosene can be bought anywhere. Kerosene stoves and heaters can be bought today at any hardware or probably any house furnishing store or general country store in the state."

The coal shortage is already causing much inconvenience. How much actual suffering and hardship it will cause next winter no one can say. Certainly, the expedient thing to do is to save every bit of coal you now have by cooking and heating with other fuels. Tens of thousands of families are already conserving coal by burning Aladdin Security Oil—the perfect kerosene. If you need a cookstove or heater look at the improved Perfection line.
