PURE BRED PIGS ARE MAKING GOOD RECORDS

(By H. L. MILLER)

It hasn't been so awfully long ago since some of our farmers thought that a 75 to 100 pound hog at a year old was a pretty good hog. It would have been hard to convince these fellows that a hog can be made to gain 71 pounds in one month, but that is what Miss Mary Sykes of Harrellsville did with her club pig last month. This record gain wasn't made by the haphazard method of feeding the pig anything to fill it up. The pig was fed a proper ration and plenty of it, which after all is the cheapest and most sensible way to feed a pig.

Several of our club members' pigs made creditable gains. Among those reported were: Mary Sykes, pig gained 71 pounds; Gilbert Whitley, pig gained 50 pounds; Reuben Warren, pig gained 35 pounds; Claud Brett, pig gained 34 pounds; Robert Futrell, pig gained 30 pounds; and Kate Harrell whose pig gained 28 pounds. Some other members for one reason or another didn't get their proper feed to start on the first of October and therefore didn't have a fair show, but this month we want every member to be on the honor roll with at least a 30 pound gain.

The cheapest hog that you can raise is the one that you rush to a marketable size of 175 to 250 pounds in 6 to 8 months. This is just as easy to do as to go it the haphazard way and grow a 200 pound hog at two years old, and you will find the two year old hog a pretty expensive piece of meat. Feed your hogs a balanced ration and notice the difference in the gains and in the profit. Write for a feeding chart if you haven't one.

The above mentioned gains were made at a cost, varying from 3 to 7 cents per pound, depending on whether or not the pig had a good pasture to run in.
