LITTLE CHILD DIES

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tayloe of near Ahoskie who lost their only little child, Hiram Beecher, during the Thanksgiving holidays. He little son was about twenty months old, was born April 4, 1921, and died Thursday morning, November 30, 1922. His illness was very brief and no one suspected its serious nature until near the end.

The following lines taken from a great poem in memory of his daughter's death will fittingly express our sympathy for the bereaved parents.

"There is no death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal
Is but a suburb of the life Elysian,
Whose portal we call Death.
He is not dead—the child, of our affection,—
But gone unto that school
Where he no longer needs our protection,
And Christ himself doth rule.
In that great Cloister's stillness and seclusion,
By guardian angels led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sins pollution,
He lives whom we call dead.
A loving friend,
NELLIE McKEEL."

FOUND OUT

An old Ahoskie lady, in Norfolk for the first time in her life, saw a glaring sign on the front of a high building, which read: "The Brown Manufacturing Company."

"Lawks a mercy," she remarked to her nephew, "I've heard of Browns all my life, but I never knew where they made 'em."

"Well! Strong!"

Mrs. Anna Cloves, of R. F. D. 5, Winfield, Kans., says: "I began to suffer some months ago with womanly troubles, and I was afraid I was going to get in bed. Each month I suffered with my head, back and sides—a weak, aching, nervous feeling. I began to try medicines as I knew I was getting worse. I did not seem to find the right remedy until someone told me of CARDUI The Woman's Tonic."

I used two bottles before I could see any great change, but after that it was remarkable how much better I got. I am now well and strong. I can recommend Cardui, for it certainly benefited me.

If you have been experimenting on yourself with all kinds of different remedies, better get back to good, old, reliable Cardui, the medicine for women, about which you have always heard, which has helped many thousands of others, and which should help you, too. Ask your neighbor about it; she has probably used it.

For sale everywhere.

Tell a girl that her newly bobbed hair is becoming and she thinks you are lying, and if you tell her that it isn't, she stops speaking to you. Life ever has a deep problem.
