

STATE NEWS IN DIGEST

"If the federal prohibition force in North Carolina were doubled and the state and county officials doubled their resolutions to co-operate with us, it would be possible to have a real enforcement of the Volstead Act," said E. A. Kobless, federal prohibition director for North Carolina, last Saturday. Instead of approximately fifty men operating in different sections of the state, the enforcement brigade should be large enough to place a man in each county, the director thinks.

A permit for the burial of Henderson Cole, Wilmington merchant, was issued by health authorities last Saturday when a new death certificate signed by Coroner Holden was presented. The county health officer had declined to issue a death certificate signed by a Christian Scientist practitioner.

Ranking as seventh customs port in the United States, with New York first and Philadelphia second, Wilmington's port rises from eighth place in 1921 to its present rank for the fiscal year 1922, by collecting $4,722,279.10, according to a comparative statement just issued by Deputy Collector S. E. Highsmith.

Contractors contending for the job of building the Halifax-Northampton bridge across the Roanoke river for the State Highway Commission last Thursday came nearer to submitting identical figures than has been the case in the record of the road building forces in the State. On the initial figures two bidders were within six cents of each other but a careful examination widened the difference to $375.06 and the low bidder was the Pensacola Shipbuilding Company, at a price of $349,692.74. Two other contracts were let in the First District none of which were in Hertford County.

Gillam Grissom, collector of Internal Revenue in North Carolina, stated last Friday that he had asked the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in Washington to request the Attorney General to instruct each district attorney in the United States to proceed with suits for the collection of "genuine taxes" from all persons arrested on charges of violating the Volstead Act who have not made proper settlement. Approximately nine hundred persons, it is said, are liable for civil action under this procedure.

Express and railroad agents at Kinston say that heavy shipments of fruit trees had been received through Kinston offices during the past few weeks. Chamber of Commerce men boosting the planting of orchards as one means of combatting the boll weevil there, took the information as an indication that the "Kinston program" of diversification was having effect.

Dr. J. F. Rhem, recorder of Sudan Temple at New Bern, has sent out several thousand programs to Shriner in Eastern North Carolina as the first step toward the annual midwinter ceremonial that will be held there Thursday, December 28. Only one day will be devoted to the affair this year.

So gratifying have been the results obtained in the Bolton Drainage District, a tract of land in Columbus County which was drained and put to agricultural purposes several years ago, that the Wacamac Lumber Company is planning for a new district of several thousand acres. The first district comprised twenty-eight thousand acres.

The Workmen's Compensation Act is certain to come up before the General Assembly in January. The State Federation of Labor will sponsor it, and other suggested pieces of legislation.

A mass of splintered wood and smashed and broken bottles, from which arose a sickening odor of alcoholic spirits is all that remained of the $100,000 rum cargo of the British schooner, Messenger of Peace, destroyed at Wilmington last Thursday.

Full power to eliminate grade crossings when in the judgment of the State Highway Commission their continued use will increase the hazard of highway travel and police powers for highway patrolmen to enforce the regulations of traffic and road maintenance have been written into the suggested amendments to the state road law by the legislative committee of the commission.

The present year will pass into history as one of the most brilliant in the constructive development of the City of Asheville, with business developments announced, in course of construction or completed, totaling approximately $7,500,000.

The E. Hogshire Son & Co., of New York City, will begin the operation of a regular boat service between Washington, N. C., and Baltimore and New York cities January 1. They will give a regular list of sailings, issue negotiable bills of lading and give the shippers safety from loss or damage while in transit.

If Back Hurts Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat, also take glass of Salts before breakfast occasionally.

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites the kidneys; they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region; you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to help neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in correcting kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
