POSTAL EMPLOYEES TO MEET AT WINSTON-SALEM

Meeting Originally Scheduled To Be Held in Raleigh Has Been Changed, For The 16th

The conference-convention of the postal employees of the State of North Carolina will be held at Winston-Salem instead of Raleigh as originally planned, according to a statement made public today by the Post Office Department.

The meeting is scheduled to take place on Tuesday, January 16th.

Change in the conference-convention from Raleigh to Winston-Salem was made necessary because it was impossible to secure hotel accommodations at Raleigh for the fifteen hundred or more postal workers of North Carolina that are expected to be in attendance.

The Post Office Department will be represented by Third Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover

BELIEVES CHAIRMAN SHOULD VOTE TWICE

Como, N. C., January 8, 1923.

MR. EDITOR—I see in your last week's paper "The Cat" says that Dr. Mitchell seems to be the only one who thinks he had the right to vote twice in their meetings first Monday in December. Please tell the Cat that I, for one agree with the Doctor in exercising the right (as I understand it) that has been used by the chairman of our own national and state legislative bodies, and all other boards that elect one of their members to act as chairman all down through the ages. Never heard of any law, or custom, that disfranchised a member of any board, or convention, because he was made chairman. Suppose Mr. L. J. Lawrence, our representative, had been elected speaker of the House and thereby deprived of his vote, who would we have to represent our county? Suppose H. S. Ward had been elected speaker of Congress and thereby deprived of M. L. E. tarrndastea his vote, who would represent our district in Congress? Or suppose they were to say to these representatives, you may vote on general roll call, but can't vote to untie or tie a vote. How could our law making bodies proceed with any intelligence or assurance of proceeding at all with such a situation in existence? I am no lawyer, nor am I any parliamentarian, but, have served in several bodies whose presiding officers seemed to know their business and have heard them time and again refuse to entertain a motion as long as there was a motion before the house. Now suppose there was a tie vote, in any lawmaking body, whose chairman had been restricted to one vote, unless they invented some new parliamentary laws they would have to quit doing business until they disposed of the motion on which they were tied, as I can't see that getting tied on a motion disposes of it. I am not entirely sure that I am right in my position, but it does seem to me to be the common sense view of it and I would gladly be corrected if I am wrong. I hear our road board and board of commissioners have voted to restrict their chairmen to one vote which is unheard of (so far as I can hear) in any other county but this. Of course, each board has a remedy, in case their chairman becomes too dictatorial, or autocratic, by just impeaching the chairman and repeal his autocratic bills.

Mr. Frank Tayloe took the right position (in my judgment) in voting against the resolution to confine his chairman to one vote. I hope both boards will repeal their law to confine their chairmen to one vote, or they may get themselves in a position to be criticized as using parliamentary laws and rulings that have never been heard of since the foundation of our government. I don't think I would be willing to serve as chairman on any board with such restrictions.

T. E. VANN.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Drink Water If Kidneys Hurt

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back pains or Bladder bothers.

Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in uric acid, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.

Inactive Liver

"I have had trouble with an inactive liver," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols, of 4412 Spencer St., Houston, Texas. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. To get up in the morning with a lightness in the head and a trembly feeling is often a sign that the stomach is out of order. For this I took Thedford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. It not only cleans the liver, but leaves you in such a good condition. I have used it a long time, when food does not seem to set well, or the stomach is a little sour."
