

STATE NEWS IN DIGEST

on the murder of his sweetheart and his rival at Franklin more than three years ago, has thrown himself upon the mercy of his Macon folks and requests them to plead for mercy before the Governor of the State.

Dr. W. C. Wicker, Professor of Education at Elon College, has been chosen for the new position as Field Secretary created at the recent session of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons. The appointment was made by Hubert Potat of Wake Forest, Grand Master of the Lodge.

Hon. Frank Page, Chairman of the State Highway Commission, left this week for Virginia, where he will open the campaign now being waged in that State for the issuance of fifty million dollar bonds for the building of highways.

A little more than $38,400,000 has been raised by the Baptists of the South since they launched their 75 Million Campaign three years ago, according to reports of the officers in charge. Prominent speakers will be engaged to push the collection drive during the last stages of the Campaign.

Wake Forest College alumni, wearers of the "W", are seeking to make a decided change in the coaching system at the college. They have offered to finance a plan by which a faculty member be added as official athletic mentor, and that an alumnus be added to the faculty athletic council of the college. Several names have been mentioned as probable appointees for the office of athletic director.

Horizontal reduction of all salaries of State officials and their clerical staffs of 10 per cent, the removal of a large number of departmental clerks, and reduced appropriations for State institutions and a stern resolve to have no more to do with the iniquities of the Revaluation Act were demanded of the House Finance Committee by R. W. H. Stone, president of the State Farmers' Union, last Friday.

Carey J. Hunter, Sr., prominent citizen of Raleigh and a leader among the Baptists of the State, died in his Raleigh home last Wednesday. Trustees of Elon College in a meeting last week agreed on a $600,000 program to be started immediately, $300,000 of this fund to go for new buildings made necessary by the recent fire, and $300,000 to be added to the permanent endowment fund.

Announcements are being made from northern mill owners that they will soon begin an extensive program of building plants in the South. Several North Carolina towns and cities are making bids for the mills, many of which will come here from Massachusetts.

Eastern Carolina is better off agriculturally than any section in the South, E. W. Gaither, district farm demonstration agent, of Wilmington, told the New Bern Rotary Club last week. "And the reason for this is the diversification of crops."

Messrs. J. B. and B. N. Dukes, rich tobaccoists and prominent Methodists, have sent Elon College $10,000 to aid in the campaign for funds to erect buildings recently destroyed by fire.

Citizens of the towns of Beaufort and Morehead City are discussing the floating of a bond issue for the construction of a bridge across the Sound which divides the two towns. To get from one town to the other, it is necessary to drive several miles by a roundabout way.

All efforts at recovering the body of H. A. Grissom, Greensboro druggist, whose automobiles was found overturned in a Florida creek, have failed. The theory that he met foul play has been abandoned, and it is now thought he accidentally ran into the creek, when the road on which he was traveling came to an abrupt end.

Capital punishment should be abolished because of its futility, Dr. Hastings Hart president of the American Prison Association of New York, told the members of the North Carolina Conference for Social Service in session at Raleigh last week.

James B. Hursey, young Durham man, shot and killed his sweetheart, Miss Blanche Bullock, last Saturday, after she had refused to accept his proposals for marriage. Later he shot himself when officers appeared on the scene to arrest him.

Former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo has wired N. G. Bartlett, manager of the Eastern Carolina Exposition, that he may be able to fill a speaking engagement before the exposition which will be held in Wilson during the month of March.

Representative Cohoon of Pasquotank County has introduced a bill in the legislature providing for an experimental farm in the county, and the creation of a county board of agriculture to direct the activities.

Actual revenue operations shows a deficit of $1,853,895.41 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, but balanced against prospective income tax collections due March 16, 1923, the State's finances may show an actual balance or surplus, declared the annual report of State Treasurer E. R. Lacey.
