FORMER PASTOR, DEAD

In Fatal Wreck at Smithfield Last Thursday

Mrs. Britt, mother of Rev. F. T. Collins, former pastor of the Ahoskie Baptist church, is dead as the result of injuries received in an automobile wreck at Smithfield last Thursday afternoon. She died at 8 o'clock Monday morning, having never regained consciousness. Mrs. Collins SASH, DOORS, BLINDS, WINDOW and her young child are both in the Smithfield hospital, suffering from innext Monday for their regular busi- juries received at the same time. ness sessions. It will be the regular Rev. Mr. Collins and the two-yearold son were not hurt except for a few slight scratches.

> When news of the accident reached Ahoskie, within a few hours after the wreck, there was genuine sorrow expressed by the townspeople, especially among those who are members of the Baptist church where Mr. Collins was pastor for three or four years, having gone to Smithfield married while in Ahoskie, and during his pastorate here his first child was born. His mother, Mrs. Britt, was close to the hearts of those who knew her.

> Late reports from the hospital indicate that Mrs. Collins is gradually improving, although she was unconscious for several days. The youngest child lost its right leg just below the knee, and sustained a badly bruised face. Mrs. Collins did not receive any cuts or bruises and is suffering from shock and internal injuries Mrs. Britt's death resulted from the shock and pneumonia.

According to news despatches, the accident occurred within the town limits of Smithfield. When Mr. Collins rounded a curve near the railroad crossing, he saw a train approaching on one of the tracks. The A. C. L. railroad being double tracked there. He stopped his car on one track to allow the shifting engine to pass. The engineer thinking everything was safe proceeded to the crossing with his engine. Just as the engine was upon the crossing, Mr. Collins' car lurched forward into it, and the erash came. Mr. Collins says his engine choked down while upon the track.

Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Britt, and the oldest child were thrown to the ground clear of the tracks; the youngest child lay upon the cross ties with the right foot across one track; and Mr. Collins was caught upon the cow catcher and carried about fifty yards before the engine stopped.

At the Baptist church here last Saturday morning, special prayers were offered for Rev. Mr. Collins and his family, and a committee of Rev. to convey the sympathy of the church to the stricken family. Several former members of his church have sent messages of sympathy, and have otherwise exhibited interest in the welfare of the injured members of the family.

Dr. C. G. Powell and Mr. J. A. Wil-liams left here last Saturday night for Smithfield to visit Mr. Collins and others of the family. They spent Sunday with them, returning here early Monday morning.
