SOME ADVANTAGES OF A NINE-MONTH'S SCHOOL

As our eight-month's school is drawing to a close those who have been concerned in the school work during this term are forcibly reminded of what benefits a longer term would give.

Among these we might mention a wider and more thorough curriculum. In many subjects the pupils are forced to cover the ground at such a rapid rate that the course is not as thorough as the instructors wish, therefore in the fall after a four month's vacation so much more time is devoted to review than is necessary in a longer term school.

Again we would be able to give more satisfactory programs. So many programs have been prepared in a hurried manner because the pupils have lacked time to prepare their parts.

We could give a wider scope to athletic contests. Our school has made a most creditable beginning already with basket-ball, tennis and volley ball. But with a longer term our school would have more time to develop county athletics and who knows but what our school could support full field sports and have prizes awarded by the citizens of our own community for community contests?

This year the commencement entertainment given by the grades has been abandoned because of lack of time to prepare the operetta which had been selected. With a longer term this difficulty could be overcome by arranging a schedule which would give every one a time to practice and enable each teacher to fulfill her dream, whatever it be.

Then, too, so much more importance is attached to a nine-month's term. People regard it as a higher class school. The State of North Carolina regards it in just that light. Ahoskie has now gone as high in state rating as it can go with an eight-month's term. But we could easily be raised to Class A, Division II if the length of term should be extended one month longer. We respectfully call the attention of the patrons and friends to this urgent need of extending the school term, and earnestly request them to make such provision as is necessary for its insurance next term.

THE BASKET BALL TEAM OF AHOSKIE

FIRST

The captain is a youth most tall
 With something steady in his gaze,
 But if you watch him handle the ball,
 Those of both sides he will amaze.
 In shooting goals he is supreme
 While he's always calm and cool;
 This Holloman of Ahoskie's team
 Who never willingly breaks a rule.

SECOND

Another player just let me say
 Has a clear grey eye and pleasant smile.
 His long suit is keeping things his way
 By jumping center, and he's there in style.
 If you want the rules, just refer to him
 Because he is honest as can be
 Nothing will he ever skin—
 Our sure, steadfast, steady C. C.

THIRD

But the one of them all having most pep
 Goes by the famous name of Horace.
 Whoever he guards must watch his step
 Because I tell you he will win the chase.
 He's sometimes hasty, you will think,
 But always loyal, true and tried.
 With a bounding jump, as quick as a wink
 O say, it's fine to be on his side.

FOURTH

This black-haired one is slight and slender;
 But swift as a dash the ball is his,
 Way down to our goal he'll always send her.
 A playing chance he will never miss,
 His friends all call him Greene.
 But don't let this fool you in any way!
 He's there with the goods, I mean!
 A true sure player just hear me say.

FIFTH

A dreamy artist, poetic fellow
 With steady smile and talking slow,
 But I tell you he'll never prove yellow,
 Just watch Hoggard's game, he has the go.

In a guard's place he's near the goal,
 But sometimes he seems everywhere,
 From the crown of his head down to his sole
 Winning applause while not seeming to care.

SIXTH

And this one's place? Do I hear you ask?
 Well no game can be complete without him.
 To plan time, place and cash—is his task
 And wherever he passes all say nice things about him.
 As the team comes in sight we hear,
 "There goes Leary."
 With handclasp firm and happy smile,
 While a large chorus of girls call him "Cleary",
 His many friends back him firmly, all the while.

SEVENTH

Now last of all—and best of all
 Comes our champion referee—K. T. Raynor.
 His eagle eye always follows the ball,
 He smiles like a king—when Ahoskie is gainer.
 Should anyone try to be unfair,
 Any strangers treat us too unjust,
 He'll say to them, "Just do if you dare,
 Be square with us—you simply must."

EIGHTH

And here let us cheer this noble team
 Such invisible wearers of gold and black!
 May they always be just as they seem
 May truth, courage and honor they never lack!
 We wish as the years pass along
 Their names will be famous in History's story.
 Remember both in rhyme and song
 Rewarded richly with fame and glory.
 —EMILY GAYLE.

HESPERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Hesperian Literary Society met April the 6th at three o'clock in the 9th grade class room.

The meeting was called to order by the president.

The chaplain read a beautiful passage of Scripture, after which the Lord's prayer was repeated in concert by the society.

The roll was then called and the minutes read by the Secretary.

The following program was then given:

"What the Hesperian Literary Society Means to me," Sailey Burgess.

Recitation, "College Oil Cans" — Marion Bazemore

An Imaginary wedding — Ruby Coleson

Essay, "Aim High" — Alene Early

Stump speech — Horace Johnson

"Autobiography of a cob pipe" — Columbus McKeel

"A fresher's opinion of a senior" — Lock Craig Johnson

Uncle Remus Story — Lowell Powell

Debate: "Resolved that boy is more useful to the home people than a girl." Affirmative: Elizabeth Dilday, Cling Odom. Negative: Mae Holloman, Vida Edwards.

The program as a whole was very good and seemed to be enjoyed by every one.

The critic's report was given, and showed that we have improved considerably since we organized our society, and we feel that we are making a success of it.

The judges of the debate cast their votes in favor of the negative.

There being no further business the Society adjourned.

COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Columbian Literary Society met Friday, March the sixth in the school auditorium.

The meeting was called to order by the president, after which the minutes were read and roll called by the secretary.

Two girls were appointed by the president to make candy to sell the coming week.

The society was reminded of the fact that individual copies of the Columbian had not been printed. The president stated that the matter would be attended to soon.

It was suggested to the members that the Columbian Society help buy the declamation and recitation contest medals to be given at commencement. A vote was taken and motion passed.

As Ernestine King, the critic, had to take part on the program, Thomas Baker was appointed to act as critic during this meeting.

The program for next meeting was read after which the following program was rendered.

Devotional exercises — Chaplain Song "There's Music in the Air" — By the Society

Current event — Bailey Vaughan

Instrumental solo — Mary Hoggard

"Some accomplishments of the School during the past session," — E. C. Hobbs

Dialogue — Estelle Newsome and Harry Copeland

Prophecies — Sallie Newsome

"Autobiography of a box of candy" — Ina Mae Odom

Pen pictures — Viola Odom

Soliloquy — Joseph Matthews

Reading — Ernestine King

There was no debate on this program but each number was well rendered.

The humorous numbers were very enjoyable to each member of the Society, as every one likes something different.

The Critic's report given which was indeed very justly rendered.

As there was no further business the society adjourned.

BOY SCOUTS ORGANIZE

Last Friday evening Mr. Meadows, Secretary of the Ahoskie Chamber of Commerce, organized a troupe of boy scouts. The need of this organization had long been felt keenly here, and many boys were eager to join when the opportunity presented itself. Consequently twenty-one youngsters answered to roll call Friday evening, and the following organization was perfected.

Scout master — To be selected

Troop Adjutant — Harold Yert

FIRST PATROL—EAGLE

Patrol Leader — Harry Copeland

Asst. Patrol Leader — Jack Gatling

SECOND PATROL—WOLVES

Patrol Leader — Haywood Phaup

Asst. Patrol Leader — Leo Alexander

THIRD PATROL—Incomplete, only four members

Another meeting will be called sometime during the present week, and enough new members are expected to complete the third patrol.

At this meeting membership fees will be paid, and a charter sent for. Other business affairs relative to boy scouts will be taken up. All boys interested are asked to come and talk the matter over and see if they want to join.

Those who have joined really mean business, and it seems that a real permanent organization is now under way.

The Boy Scout organization has for its object the training of boys in the line of citizenship, good morals, and some military life. It fits the adolescent youth better than any organization yet established, and it is with much pleasure and pride that we welcome its appearance here.

ATHLETIC NOTES

Even though no baseball ground has been found, yet the boys are undaunted, and expect to play a few aroundthun-o-ETAOIN ETAOIN NN games anyhow. Several schools around near have asked for games. Perhaps we shall play Lewiston Friday; it is not certain.

Volley ball is still raging on our campus. It is more popular on cool days, since it requires rather much energy to play it well. One thing which adds to its popularity is the fact that so many can play at a time. It is our intention to stage a game commencement if the weather be agreeable.

Tennis has made its appearance on our campus during the past week. A splendid court has been marked out, regulation size, and the older boys and girls are taking hold of the game nicely. This game has long been a favorite summer sport with us.

We have received a list of the athletic events to be held at the County Commencement, and expect to be represented fully in them. This means much practice for the different contests. As usual when the prizes are announced, Ahoskie will be there with her share. It is the purpose of the present school superintendent to cooperate with the county in the various school activities, and much interest in the athletic events will grow daily as this time draws near.

SCHOOL NOTES

Misses Emily Gayle and Louise Buffalo were shopping visitors in Norfolk, Saturday the 7th.

We were very glad to have with us last Friday morning, during chapel exercises, Mr. Meadows, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Mr. V. D. Strickland also a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Meadows talked to the boys about organizing the boy scouts in Ahoskie. Of course this greatly aroused the interest of many of the school boys from the ages of twelve to eighteen years. His talk was greatly enjoyed by all, including the girls.

Candy was sold in the hall of high school building, Tuesday, April 3rd. The proceeds which were one dollar and sixty cents, were deposited with the treasurer of the Columbian Literary Society.

Misses Goldie Lassiter and Alpha Newsome are confined to their homes with measles. Miss Beatrice Overton is also kept at home with mumps. These three are all members of the Freshman class.

The Freshman Class of Ahoskie High, went on a hike to Stony Creek, last Wednesday afternoon. Supper was eaten at the creek, and all started back on their long, long trail about seven o'clock. Unfortunately they were caught in a terrific storm and were thoroughly drenched. We truly believe that most of the green was washed off.

Miss Beesie Gaddy, and Messrs. K. T. Raynor, T. R. Bain, and Columbus McKeel, were the guests of Mrs. D. L. Myers Saturday evening.

Mr. K. T. Raynor was the guest of Miss Margaret Sessoms at dinner, Sunday evening, the 8th.

Scholarship Medal

On Friday morning, just after chapel exercises, the students of the High School received a very gratifying surprise in an announcement by Mr. V. D. Strickland to this effect. The Chamber of Commerce has offered a scholarship medal to the Senior who has made the highest average during the four year's course.
