TWO CARLOADS GRAVEL FOR FRAZIER'S ROAD

J. R. Garrett, Ahoskie township road commission, has decided to maintain the only piece of gravel road in his township-Aboskie to Frazier's Cross Roads. At Monday's meeting of the road board he made a motion, which was passed without a dissenting vote, that two carloads gravel be shipped to Ahoskie, to be used in filling small holes and washouts that dot the road in question.

Little or nothing has been done this spring on this or any other roads in the township except where construction work is going on. Maintenance has suffered on account of the construction projects. The gravel ordered for Ahoskie will be used on that portion of the road outside of the town, according to Mr. Garrett's statement at Winton Monday.

FORMER ROAD MAN NOW CONTRACTING

"I never worked so hard in my life as I did while superintendent of roads in Hertford County," said F. G. Hines, former employee of this county, Monday morning. Hines was spending a few hours in Ahoskie on business, and, as usual, was free to discuss the changes that have been made in the road work in the county.

He does not believe this county will reap anything like a fair return from its half million dollar bond issue, so long as the affairs are conducted as at present. He was posi- tertainer, ranking along with the end. tive in his belief that more attention other popular plays given here. The would have to be given to maintenance, and to completion of roads which have already been graded.

Mr. Hines is now engaged in the road construction business, having recently organized his own company. It is know as the F. G. Hines Construction Company. Two carloads of road equipment, and about thirty mules have been acquired by him.

His company has a contract for the grading of a road from Carrsville to Courtland, Va., an eight-mile section of the Virginia highway from Suffolk to Franklin. This road will be hard surfaced as fast as the work of grading proceeds.

THURSDAY LAST DAY OF ELECTRIC SERVICE

There will be no further day service provided by the municipal electric plant. The retired members of the town council ordered the current switched on for 15 days in May, and an accurate record of cost of operation kept, both for night service only and for full time.

This record has been carefully kept by the superintendent of the plant, and may be presented to the new board. Future action depends upon whatever action the new board takes at its first meeting.

CHAUTAUAUA CLOSES ITS FOURTH YEAR IN AHOSKIE

Committee To Secure 1924 Guarantors Working For One Hundred Signers

After four years of consecutive entertainments, every year of which has been signalized by a loss to each individual guarantor of from $8 to $15, it looks like Ahoskie will not make possible the return of Swarthmore Chautaugua for Suffolk Sunday. the year 1924.

Wednesday night, between acts of the play, a heroic effort was made to secure one hundred signers of the contract, making each signer liable for $13 worth of season tickets. When all the returns were in and a count made, only twentythree persons had placed their of Gatesville. They reported an enname on the dotted line. A joyable time. short meeting of those who had signed was held immediately after the play, and committees were appointed from among a B. Y. P. U. meeting. them to solicit other signers Friday.

Revs. E. J. Isenhower, and S. Barber, pastors of the local churches, made strong pleas for the return of chautauqua in 1924, each pledging his name and support for a return engagement. Frank P. Meadows, secretary of the chamber of commerce also made a strong talk in which he told his hearers "a few Ahoskie people were tired of bringing chautauqua back to Ahoskie for the other fellow to enjoy:" and he plead for the signing of the contract by those who had never before supported it.

Whether it returns will be entirely dependent upon the work of the canvassing committee that is working here today. The same experience has been Ahoskie's each year chautauqua Richard Theatre. kAAA has come here. Last minute rallies have saved it, after the cause looked hopeless.

The programs this year have been good, including musical numbers and lectures. Especially good were the Swiss Yodlers; and the lectures of Dr. Frank Dixon and Frank Pearson. The lecture by Dr. Dixon attracted a large crowd both from Ahoskie and the nearby towns.

Wednesday's programs, both afternoon and night, were perhaps the best of the entire six days here. In the afternoon, the Junior Chautauqua Pageant was presented, and, as usual, the boys and girls gave a fine entertainment. It was followed by child impersonation, given by Esther Lois Schenkel. This was one of the very best attractions of the week.

"Crossed Wires", a comedy drama played by a group of the Provincetown Players, closed the chautauqua program. The play lived up to the reputation of its predecessors as being the best drawing card of the chautauqua. It also shone as an enchautauqua tent was filled to its capacity, and mirth and fun filled the tent during all three acts of the play.
