

Commissioners Hear

the commissioners were taken aback at the amount, although it was their opinion that nothing could be done but approve the budget. The chairman wanted to levy the same amount as last year, and, if the board of education did not accept it, "go to the courts" for settlement.

It seems that the board of education has already acted on the assumption that the commissioners would approve the budget, which was the subject of a joint meeting of the boards May 28, in the auditorium of the courthouse. At that meeting the commissioners assented to the expenditures for money for trucks and for new building and the board of education has already spent some of the money or bargained to do so.

Attorney Boone explained that final approval had not been given, and that the commissioners cut some of the proposed expensive features of the school budget. But, no detailed examination was made of the budget and nothing was lopped off. Dr. Mitchell wanted to cut it down to the levy of 1922, or take it to court. "I'll pay the costs of court out of my own pocketbook before I will agree to any such levy," he said, when some bystander observed that it would involve the boards in a lot of expense to have it threshed out in court.

E. H. Eure, Winton member, moved to adopt and approve the budget. His motion met no second. A conference held between Dr. Mitchell, chairman, E. W. Whitley of Murfreesboro, and W. H. Vaughan of St. Johns, all of whom retired to the courthouse auditorium, leaving behind Frank Taylor and Mr. Eure, resulted in a motion made by Mr. Vaughan and seconded by Mr. Whitley that the matter be deferred until John Askew could be on hand. The motion was passed without dissent. Friday morning was set as the date.

MURFREESBORO NEWS

Let us smile along together

Be the weather
What it may
Thru the waste and wealth of hours,
Plucking flowers
By the way.
Fragrance from the meadows blowing,

Naught of heat or hatred knowing,
Kindness seeking, kindness sowing
Not tomorrow, but today.
—James W. Foley.

If Kidneys and Bladder Bother

Take Salts to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.
