MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR SUCCESSFUL TERM

Dr. Chas. Weaver, president of Chowan College, was in Ahoskie a part of two days this week, Monday and Tuesday, in interest of the college. He is making personal visits to the Chowan College Clubs in this territory, advising with them on the campaign now under way or soon to be launched for the securing of a number of scholarships for the 1923-24 session.

Doctor Weaver says he is looking for a full enrollment this fall, some of the students signing up coming from Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia. This will be one of the aims of the new president—to broaden the scope of activity and have among the students representatives from other sections of this State, as well as from other States.

He expects the new building to be ready for the school opening. It is under construction now, and includes a swimming pool, besides dormitory rooms, class rooms, and auditorium.

Railroad Program

meeting was well attended, and every expression made was favorable to the project.

Murfreesboro has been waiting for an opportunity to let itself be heard on the proposal, and today, Thursday, the promoters are meeting there with the town's citizens. It is presumed that a similar proposal will be outlined there today. According to advance information, Murfreesboro has anticipated the promulgation of the movement, and that its citizens and financial interests have already made provision for the raising of funds to aid the road building, by stock subscription. Other smaller communities along the proposed route will be presented with the plan at later dates.

Upon the showing made by the several towns through which the railroad would be built depends the future action of the promoters, and the success of the project. Messrs. Spear and Calwell believe the prospects are bright and can see nothing in the way of the road's construction. They will formulate more detailed plans within a short while and begin actively to work on the culmination of the preliminary efforts.

Tentative plans call for a reorganization of the Wellington & Powellsville Railroad, with its present General Manager, Mr. J. A. Pretlow, of Franklin, Va., as President, the issuance of stock to townships, and the floating of a larger bond issue by larger financial houses.

INSURANCE and building materials

PERMANENT types of construction naturally reduce insurance rates. But their real value is in the insurance they themselves give—insurance not only against fire, but against deterioration, upkeep and replacement expense.

Your building material dealer's experience is an insurance policy that costs you no premiums, but instead saves them. Follow his advice as to types of building and building materials.
