

CHOWAN COLLEGE

Chowan College opened September 12th with unusually fine prospects for the year's work. The faculty and student body were especially pleased with the improvements which have been made since last year.

The library has been enlarged and now occupies the space of the old chapel. Miss Eunice McDowell, who for three years has been dean of the faculty, is librarian and devotes her entire time to the library. Many plans are on foot to secure more books. A club has been organized, the basis of membership of which will be the gift of a book each month.

Miss Inez Matthews, an alumna of the college and for two years a student of Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, is a member of the music faculty. Miss Matthews is taking the place of Miss Mattie Macon Norman, who has entered the W. M. U. Training School in Louisville, Ky.

The students are very much interested in the Chowanian, a bi-monthly paper which will be published during this year. Every alumna and former student who wants to keep in touch with the college is urged to subscribe to the college paper.

Miss Robinson, professor of science is very much encouraged over the prospects of her department. She is offering two new courses this year, one in advanced chemistry and one in hygiene.

The Y. W. A. reception is an event the old girls always look forward to. This reception gives them a chance to show the new girls that they are indeed welcome as members of the student body. Both the faculty and student body enjoyed the social hour Saturday evening in the college parlors where games were played and the students really became acquainted.

Miss Sue Brett of the class of '21, was a visitor at the college last week. For two years Miss Brett has been a member of the faculty here. She left September 18 for Chapel Hill, where she will pursue work for a degree at the University.

Misses Bessie Jordan, and Emma Riddick Parker of the class of '23 were week-end visitors. Misses Jordan and Parker are teaching in the Severn school.

Mr. Rowland Hayes, of Suffolk, Va. and Misses Alice and Winnifred Smith of Gates were visitors of Miss Glenn Smith Sunday.

Mrs. W. K. McLean spent the week end at Potocasi. Mrs. McLean is taking work at the college while her husband is principal of the Potocasi High School.

Among the girls who spent the week end at home were Misses Elizabeth White and Anna Lee Evans of Aulander, Miss Florence Barkley of Severn and Miss Letha Carter of near Murfreesboro.

Mr. Roy Ordway of Murfreesboro, Tennessee was a college visitor Tuesday.

Misses Elsie Benthall and Lulu McCullers of Woodland and Mr. Harry Vaughan of Scotland Neck were visitors of Miss Lane, Sunday.

Messrs. Lester Rountree, Roy and Ray Winslow of Hobbsville, Mr. L. L. Bridgers of Conway, Mr. Paul Woyrell of Seaboard, Messrs. Ellsworth Jones and George Harrell of Franklin, Va., called at college during the week.

Mr. Freeman Beasley and Misses Thelma and Geraldine Wade of Margarettsville were Sunday visitors.

We are especially glad to have Misses Ruth and Edith Oakley and Miss Gladys Clary of the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage, in our student body.

Mr. B. T. Bridger of Lasker called at the college Monday.

WHAT'S DOING AT NATION'S CAPITOL

(By PETER KEEGAN)
PRESIDENT COOLIDGE is not going to let Governor Pinchot run away with the Republican nomination or anything else just because he settled the hard coal strike. In congratulating the Pennsylvania governor on the settlement, Coolidge thanked him for his "co-operation." This didn't please Pinchot and he declined to give the text of the telegram to the press. He thought he should have all the credit for himself.

PINCHOT FOLLOWED up his first success with an appeal to all state governors to see that there was no profiteering on coal and for a federal investigation of freight rates. But the President let it be known that this was old stuff as far as he was concerned, and that he had told the United States Coal Commission several weeks ago to find out about the costs of transporting coal and to inquire into the cause of high prices. It is now Pinchot's move and there are reliable reports here that he has something good up his sleeve.

JOE PRELIGHUYSEN, who used to be a Senator from New Jersey until his constituents returned him to private life, thinks freight rates are to blame for his coal prices, and he has a plan to prove it. All the details have not been made public, but the writer is informed that one of the features of the plan is to haul a truck load of coal from the Pennsylvania mines to the point of consumption to see if it can't be done cheaper by motor than by rail. If the operators won't sell him any coal, Prelighuysen will haul a load of rock. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is going to help him, but whether or not he will drive the truck has not been decided.

WHILE THE REST of the country was pledging thousands of dollars for the earthquake victims in Japan, there was a row here over the management of the relief campaign itself. The American Red Cross jumped into the breach within a few hours after the first news of the disaster reached the United States, but along came Herbert Hoover, with the veteran organization which he used in Europe as the American Relief Administration, and wanted to take charge. Both organizations demanded the limelight and there was considerable shoving and wrangling and ill-feeling until an amalgamation was effected, but Hoover gets his name in all the communiques issued to the press by the Red Cross.

THE NEW ENGLAND pie myth has been shattered—meaning that President Coolidge doesn't eat pie for breakfast. His breakfast menu is the old-fashioned American standard: Ham and eggs. One of his favorite breakfast companions is Seldon P. Spencer, the Missouri Senator who is sure there will be a revolution in this country unless Congress lets the people have plenty of beer and wine.

THE BIGGEST SCANDAL in Washington just now is the story of the wild corn liquor parties in the offices at the Capitol reserved for Congressmen. One of the parties waxed so violent that a young man had his head mashed. To put a stop to the gaiety, the authorities are closing the House Office Building to all visitors after five o'clock in the evening.

"THAT TROUBLE isn't in your oil"

Trust this live experience!

Say "Polarine" -not just "a quart of oil"

OVERHEATING? The Fleet Boss knew the oil wasn't to blame, for it was giving entire satisfaction in all the other cars. Matter of fact, the water pump was nearly worn out and the radiator partly clogged up. Drivers marvel at the unflinching accuracy of the Fleet Boss' advice. "It's just long experience and common sense," he tells them.

Polarine is the finest oil you can get today, because the men who make it have been through the school of common sense and long experience. You can trust the unflinching quality of the oil they give you. If you use Polarine regularly you're sure of one thing about your car—the oil is RIGHT. Experience has, in quantity production and efficient distribution, kept it moderate in price, too.
