RALPH DETERMINES TO GRADUATE FROM COLLEGE

Ralph would be six years old in one month, also in two months his school would begin. It was a hard thing for Ralph to wait. Just three days before his birthday Mrs. Martin, who was his mother, received a letter from her mother and father saying they would be there to help celebrate Ralph's birthday. Ralph was overjoyed, so many things going to happen.

In September Ralph started to school, he was very bright and soon began to learn rapidly, by Christmas he had finished the first grade, by the end of that year he had completed the second. That summer he had an enjoyable vacation, he went to see his aunt in Florida. School started so Ralph entered with a mind to complete two grades that year and at the end of that year he had finished the fourth grade.

By this time Ralph was growing pale and thin, Mrs. Martin knew he was doing too much work. So the coming school year he finished the fifth grade, he had not worked so hard that winter and he wanted to go to Europe so his mother, father and himself left for Europe. They came back in time for Ralph to start to school. That year he finished the sixth grade. Next year the seventh, then he entered high school. The following four years he studied hard and did not make anything less than B on his report card.

In his second year in College he received a telegram from his home stating his father was dead, and only two weeks after his death, Ralph's mother was taken seriously ill. Her illness of two months prevented his finishing his second year in college. When five months later his father's estate was settled which left his mother without anything and in one month his home would be sold, Ralph went nearly crazy. He felt as if he never would stand through it all. Next month Ralph's school would start and he knew that he could not go back. He went to work, it was the first time he had ever worked and it went pretty hard with him, but he knew he had his mother to take care of. He had rented a small house for her. After working one year he had saved enough to send him to college and take care of his mother the next year. So he went back to college, finished the part of the year he had left and also finished his junior year. At the end of the term he came home ready to go to work. He worked very hard the summer so as to make enough to go back to school. Ralph wondered lots of the time why his people never helped him, but he never mentioned it to anyone. He began when school started.

Three weeks before the end of his senior year he received a check for $15,000 from his people. This was the best graduating present that was ever given.

His uncle wrote him a letter telling him why they had not helped him before. It was like this: "My dear boy we knew to work a while would make a man of you."

Ralph went home, started a business of his own, bought a beautiful home and at his old mother in the home that she had always been used to. In a short time he was known as the most prominent man in that city.

Some months later he was married to his beautiful childhood mate who had helped him by her love and sympathy to keep up courage through the years of his sorrows and hardships.

HESPERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Hesperian Literary Society met Friday afternoon in the Sophomore class room, October 12th. Several new members were received each receiving an initiation. The roll was called and the minutes read. Then the following program was rendered:

1. Debate: "Resolved that Coonization of America would have been easier without the native race."
 Affirmative: Lum McKeel, Nell Horton.
 Negative: Horace Johnson, Rose Mitchell, Bessie Newsome.

2. A vision.
 On account of the initiation the program was cut short, but the debate was long, arousing much interest. The affirmative won. An effective report was given by the critic.

On Monday afternoon, October 8th, the Society unanimously elected Miss Bessie Gaddy as sponsor and with her assistance we are going to do some fine work this year, better than we have ever done before.
 The Society also decided to have a Scrap book.

REPORT OF THE COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Columbian Literary Society held its regular meeting in the school auditorium Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The roll was called and minutes read and approved by the society. A committee consisting of Mabel Claire Hoggard, Horace Garrett and Ben Mitchell was appointed to prepare and serve hot lunches Wednesday at noon.

The new members of our society were admitted for the first time, and each was introduced to his future society mates in an entirely different manner. This part of the program proved thoroughly enjoyable to both the new and old members and many were the shrieks of laughter which floated down from the auditorium.

The following program was rendered:
 Devotional exercises.....Chaplain King
 Song, "Columbian".....Society
 A short talk on Genoa.....Jack Gatling
 "Columbus' early life until his experience at La Ralra.....Pauline Cooke
 "Columbus' First Voyage".....Gilbert Howard
 Recitation, "Columbus".....Mildred King

"Columbus' Later Voyages".....Linwood Parker
 "His Imprisonment and Death".....Estelle Vinson
 "What We in America Owe to Columbus".....Sylvia Applebaum
 Song, "America".....Society

As will be noticed this was a Columbus program, celebrating the date of October the 12th, on which day he first sighted this great land of ours. It is needless to say that this program was enjoyed by all.

There being no further business to hold the society, it adjourned.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

On Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock, the members of the Junior class of Ahoskie High School met at the home of Randolph Dilday for the purpose of holding a class meeting.

After the arrival of the members a short business session was held in which the class motto, colors and flower were decided upon. The motto chosen was "B2"; colors, lavender and white; and flower, sweet pea. Robert Hoggard was then elected class reporter after which the business meeting adjourned.

Immediately following this, many games were played which furnished amusement for all. At 9:30 ice cream was served followed by a delightful fruit course. Randolph Dilday, president of the class then gave a toast to Miss Gayle.

"Here's to our teacher
 Whom we love so dear,
 We're so glad to have you to
 teach us this year,
 You are welcome among us
 And ever will be
 You will always be welcome in old
 Ahoskie.

We'll ever stand by you
 And give you our aid
 And support you and love you,
 Through sunshine and shade.
 We are your helpers who never fail;
 Here's to our teacher, Miss Emily
 Gayle."

Miss Gayle gave the following to the president:

"Here's to one we all know
 As a president so fine
 That we all like him so,
 Whether in rain or shine.
 He is always a friend so true
 That if we need aid
 This he is ever able to do,
 Our own president, Randolph!"

The guests departed having reported a most enjoyable evening.

BOYS' ATHLETICS

The Boys' basketball team met Friday, October 12th, for a short meeting to elect a manager and a captain for the season. Horace Johnson was elected manager and Horace Garrett appointed captain.

The Junior Athletic Association, composed of the boys from 12 to 16 years of age, have ordered a new basket ball. They will elect their officers soon, and in a short while it will be an interesting sight to watch these youngsters ring goals. They are small in size, but what they lack in size they make up in skill.

Every day at noon, and sometimes in the afternoon it is a common sight to see the Old Gold and Black jerseys flocking backward and forward on the basket ball court. Although they have played no games yet, they show better form all the while, and when the initial contest of the season comes off, Ahoskie expects to take somebody's scalp. C.A.M.

JOKES

Miss Gayle (on Latin review), "Harry, how may the four conjugations of Latin verb be distinguished?"

Harry—"I don't know, ma'am."

Miss Gayle—"Why don't you know, you learned it last year."

Harry—"Them days is gone forever."

Mr. Raynor—"Horace, what is a circle?"

Horace Garrett—"A circle is a round, straight line with a hole in the middle."

Mr. Raynor—"Mary, what are algebraical symbols?"

Mary—"They are things used when you don't know what you are talking about."

"Pompeii was destroyed by an eruption of saliva from the vatican," said Lum to his History teacher one day this week.

VISITING MINISTER HAS PARALYTIC STROKE

Winton, October 17.—Rev. W. A. Smith of Charlotte, who has been conducting meetings in the Baptist Church during the week was paralyzed in the right side Saturday night. He had preached a strong sermon, given the invitation and closed, sat down and had to be carried away unconscious and unable to speak.

Everybody here who has heard him preach seemed to be so much attached to him, so hearty in sympathy and so anxious to render him assistance. His wife reached him Sunday night and his son, Wallace, of University, Chapel Hill, came Tuesday morning. His brother-in-law, Dr. Dimett, of Gastonia came Tuesday.

Dr. Pollard is doing all possible and has called in Dr. J. H. Mitchell and Dr. Y. M. Barber. Consciousness is clearing and his condition is much more hopeful.

Mr. Smith has been preaching about 35 years. He held pastorates in Durham, Lexington, N. C., Berkeley, Va., and has been for 11 years pastor of Pritchard Memorial Baptist Church at Charlotte, N. C.

Rev. L. R. Pruett, pastor Ninth Avenue Baptist Church, Charlotte who has been holding a meeting in Seaboard, came to Winton Wednesday morning to see Mr. Smith. He was accompanied by Rev. R. R. Lanier and wife and Messrs. Long and Key.

As Mr. Smith could not preach Sunday, pastor Lineberry preached in the morning and evening.

Don't forget to pay the HERALD office call while you are in town on the 24th. You will find a welcome waiting you. We want you to see our machinery at work and say howdy.
