Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Parker motored to Murfreesboro Sunday afternoon. While there they went over the new auditorium at Chowan College. This new addition to the college is one of the handsomest and most commodious auditoriums among the colleges of North Carolina.

FORD CAR DOES A QUICK SOMERSAULT

John Faison, colored, escaped with less injury to himself than did the Ford car in which he was riding last Sunday afternoon when it turned completely over on the St. Johns road in front of the home of M. R. Sumner. The car was badly demolished. Faison escaped with minor injuries.

Faison, according to Mr. Sumner who witnessed the accident, was driving at a fast clip, and as he passed the latter took off enough time to speak, forgetting for a brief moment his steering wheel. The front wheels cut in the sand, and as Faison attempted to right it, and at the same time stepped on his brake, the car buckled, quivered for a moment and went completely over.

NORTH CAROLINA GARDEN OF EDEN

(Farm Forecaster)
The Tar Heel State is recognized as being one of the most diversified states in the Union so far as the different kinds of crops, livestock and plant growth are concerned.
The year 1923 is resulting in the best crops, generally speaking, that the State has ever grown. The small grains, cotton, tobacco, hay, corn and most all except fruits are unusually good, so far as production are concerned.
The good Lord has been bountiful to North Carolina this year. Prices of cotton, tobacco and most all of the farm products are good. Seldom do we see a farmer in a pessimistic attitude and most of them show by their countenance that they are satisfied even in spite of high taxes.
North Carolina is already realizing that good roads, education and other public benefits made available by increased taxation are wise investments. Truly, with all of these conditions, North Carolina closely approaches the Garden of Eden conditions this year.

DIES OF PARALYSIS

Mr. R. R. Brantley, Hertford County farmer, living on route two from Ahoskie, died suddenly last Friday night of a stroke of paralysis. He was out in his yard when the attack came. Death was instantaneous.

CLUB WOMEN TO MEET

All members and those who are not members but who wish to know more about the work of the organization are invited to attend a meeting of the Ahoskie Woman's Club, to be held with Mrs. J. Stanley Leary next Wednesday afternoon, October 24, at half past three o'clock.

HERTFORD COUNTY BOY HAS ACCEPTED WORK

Mr. Julius C. Britton, youngest son of Superintendent of Schools N. W. Britton and Mrs. Britton of Winton, has lately become Raleigh representative of the F. W. Dodge Corporation of New York city, according to information contained in the News & Observer published in Raleigh.

The corporation for which he is working is one of the country's largest construction concerns. It also maintains a special bureau which collects and furnishes valuable data to builders and contractors about building construction all over the United States.

Mr. Britton has been in Raleigh for some time attending King's Business College, where he has completed his business training.

EVERYTHING READY FOR SUFFOLK FAIR

A program chock full of features for five full days and nights is complete for the Four County Fair has been announced by fair officials. Interest shown in exhibits in all the eleven departments is becoming greater daily and it is expected that the wonderful variety of products of field, farm and pasture this season will be unexcelled by any other fair in Eastern Virginia, for no other four counties can produce such a range of things as these counties, beginning with the earliest trucks and vegetables and ending with every product of the Piedmont belt.

The Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries will send their exhibit of wild game which includes all wild game of the state from the tiny partridge chick to Dismal Swamp bears and Virginia white tail deer.

On opening day, all children accompanied by parents or guardians will be admitted free. A line of special attractions are scheduled for this day, including a tournament. The World at Home shows carry seven riding devices and fifteen clean and new shows.

Every possible arrangement has been made for the convenience of the public and the large crowds will be handled with ease and consideration.

Trotting races will hold the track the first four days. Saturday will be given over to automobile racing in which seven stars of the direct track will fight for the dirt track championship of the state. The purses offered for horse racing amount to $4,000 and will prove an inducement for the fastest steppers within range of the Fair.

As only exhibits from the counties of Nansemond, Isle of Wight, Southampton and Gates are accepted for exhibition, the Four County Fair will prove a milestone showing the diversified interests of this section of the country and will be a show well worth seeing.

AHOSKIE FURNISHES AN EDITOR COLLEGE PAPER

Mayon Parker Is Elected Editor-In-Chief Of Wake Forest Newspaper

J. Mayon Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Parker, of Ahoskie, has been elected editor-in-chief of Old Gold and Black, official weekly publication of Wake Forest College. The first issue of the college publication tells about it in a paragraph as follows:

"J. M. Parker was unanimously elected editor-in-chief of the Old Gold and Black for the ensuing year at a meeting of the student body in chapel last week at which time other officers of the student body were elected. Mr. Parker is a senior as his position will indicate. He is from Ahoskie, N. C., and is a candidate for the B. A. degree. Mr. Parker has had much useful and practical experience in the newspaper business. He has served as a printer for eight years and also had a summer's experience as a reporter for the Logan Democrat at Logan, W. Va."

Mr. Parker began his career as a printer and understudy for the editor's office in Ahoskie working on the HERALD.

In his new office he has charge of the major portion of writing and editing a six column, four-page newspaper, or a publication one-half the regular size of the HERALD. He is a brother of J. Roy Parker, editor of this newspaper.

ATTENDING STATE FAIR

Mr. O. W. Hale, assistant cashier of the Farmers-Atlantic Bank, is attending the State Fair at Raleigh this week. Several others are also in Raleigh for the fair this week.

TOBACCO AVERAGES

Average prices listed in a quarter page advertisement by J. W. Emerson & Co. in this newspaper show that Ahoskie is selling tobacco at good prices. The average price paid at this warehouse one day last week was the highest on record at any tobacco market in the State.

ONLY FEW DAYS LEFT

October is more than half gone, and with it will go the chance of buying a year's subscription to the HERALD for One Dollar. Our records so far show about 250 persons to have taken advantage of the special offer, some paying for as many as five years in advance. Returns are picking up now, and for the remainder of this month they are expected to come at a rapid rate. It is positively the final call on a Dollar-A-Year subscription to the HERALD.

NOTICE OF EXECUTOR

Having qualified as executor of the estate of John S. Winborne, deceased, of Hertford county, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons holding claims against the said estate to present them to the undersigned executor on or before the 5th day of October, 1924, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment. This, the 5th day of October, 1923.
