IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

A negro met an acquaintance of his, also colored, on the street one day and was surprised to see that his friend had a new suit, new hat, new shoes, and other evidences of prosperity.

"Hey, boy," he said, "How come you dressed up that way? Is you got a job?"

"I've got somethin' better'n a job" replied the other, "I've got a profession. Ise a orator."

"What's a orator?"

"Well, I'll tell you what a orator is. If you was to walk up to a ordinary nigger and ask him how much was two and two, he'd say, "four," but if you would ask one of us orators how much was two and two he'd say, "When in de cou'se of human events it becomes necessary to take de numeral of de second denomination and add it to de figger two, I says unto you and I says it without fear of successful contradiction dat de result will inval'ly be four."

SOME FAMOUS WOMEN OF CHOWAN

"The good that men do, lives after them". This has ever been the case with Chowan College. Character building has ever been the case with Chowan College. Character building has always been her aim. She is recognized as great, because of her finished product. The noble women who have gone out from her walls in the past prove that her aims and Christian endeavor have not been in vain.

A few of her former graduates are:

Class of 1854
Elizabeth Hargrove (Mrs. I. B. Lake) now living with her son, Professor James Lake, head of the department of physics at Wake Forest. Mrs. Lake's husband was for many years president of the Roanoke (now Averett) College at Danville, Va.

Class 1855
Amaret Reese (Mrs. P. S. Henson). Dr. Henson was a teacher in the institution for a number of years. Soon after his marriage after the war, he went to Philadelphia, and was for a number of years pastor of the great Walnut Street Baptist Church there. Later, he went to the first Baptist Church of Chicago, and from there, he became pastor of the Tremont Temple Baptist Church, Boston. Mrs. Henson is now living at Lincoln, Ill.

Class of 1856
Fannie G. Brinson, married Dr. T. H. Pritchard, a prominent minister in North Carolina, and for many years the president of Wake Forest College.

Class of 1858
Louisa Cobb, married Mr. N. B. Cobb. She was the mother of Dr. Collier Cobb, professor of geology at the University of North Carolina.

Class of 1860
Fannie Neal is now Mrs. F. M. Saunders of Washington, N. C.

Class of 1861
Annie P. Thompson, now Mrs. T. B. Boushell, is living in Norfolk, Va. She is the mother of two of Chowan's most loyal alumnae, and of Mr. Joseph Boushell, Raleigh, N. C.

Class of 1867
Dora Askew, Mrs. T. G. Wood, is now living in Winton, N. C. Mrs. Wood's father and sisters were always loyal friends to the college, and Mr. Wood at one time was trustee of the college and pastor of the local Baptist church. He was always a loyal friend of the college.

Class of 1868
Angie B. Ferebes, one of the first trustees of the college and at the same time a warm and ardent friend of the institution.

Lucy H. Owen, Mrs. D. A. Robertson, is now president emerita of Greensboro Women's College. Mrs. Robertson has done a wonderful work for the cause of education in North Carolina. She was president of the college when it was burned on the night of February, 1904. Through her undaunted courage undomitable perseverance, she led the alumnae in the struggle to rebuild, and the institution will ever be a tribute to her. She is still teaching in the institution.

Class of 1869
Pauline Mitchell, Mrs. C. W. Mitchell, is now living in her home in Aulander. She is a daughter of W. W. Mitchell, second president of the college and for years was the main spring of its existence. She married Mr. C. W. Mitchell, a farmer president of the college, who was also one of the greatest friends the college ever had.

Bettie Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Vann, is now living near Aulander, N. C., and is a sister of Mrs. C. W. Mitchell.—The Chowanian.

SUPERIOR COURT TO ADJOURN THURSDAY

Superior Court which has been in session at Winton since Monday, October 15, is due to finish business today, Thursday. Litigants have been lawing, lawyers have been arguing, and the court has been acting arbiter in the crowded civil docket all this week. Many cases have been postponed until a later date for trial. Few attendants have been in court this week.

Judge Kerr's resignation has not yet been announced, although it is known that he will retire from the bench when he quits today at Winton. Governor Cameron Morrison has already made the appointment of the successor to Judge Kerr. He is Attorney Thomas M. Pittman, of the Henderson bar.

If one bee collected a pound of honey, it would travel 43,776 miles to gather sufficient nectar, says C. L. Sams, specialist in beekeeping for the State College and Department of Agriculture.

OCCUPY NEW HOME

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Mercer have moved into their new home, recently purchased from Geo. J. Newbern, and located on First Avenue, near the school building. Mr. and Mrs. Mercer have been staying at the Howard boarding house.

In September a total of 3,781 herds comprised of 9,361 head of cattle were tested for tuberculosis in North Carolina by workers of the State College and Department of Agriculture. Seventy reactors and six suspects were located.
