The following is clipped from the News & Observer:

"Mrs. Horton is the daughter of the late James H. Page, sheriff of Martin county for several terms, and a young woman possessing those traits of character which the world loves and praises whenever found. She has been prominently connected with the business life of the town for some time, having been bookkeeper of the Farmers and Merchants Bank, where close application to her duties has won respect and confidence. Her host of friends in North Carolina are wishing her happiness in this new life.

"Mr. Horton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Horton, of Ahoskie, N. C., and for several years has made his home in Williamston. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College, where he took his degree in law, later becoming junior member of the law firm of Dunning, Moore, and Horton. He has taken a leading part in the affairs of the community and at one time was mayor of the town, and success is assured where merit counts.

THANKSGIVING WAS A QUIET DAY HERE

Little business was transacted in Ahoskie on Thanksgiving Day, although many of the stores remained open. A few were closed in the afternoon, giving their salesmen a half holiday. The postoffice and banks were closed for business during the day, and the rural letter carriers took a day off.

Several attended the football games at Chapel Hill and Norfolk, others went hunting, and others spent the day at home. Special Thanksgiving services were held at the Baptist church in the evening. A large contribution for the Thomasville Orphanage was taken.

Copeland's Drug Store donated 10 per cent of their gross sales to the orphans, dividing it equally between the Oxford orphanage and the Thomasville orphanage.

NEW TYPE FORD IS NOW BEING MADE

The Ford Motor company has announced an addition to its line of cars—the Tudor sedan which brings to the public an entirely new style of Ford enclosed body.

It is a distinctive type designed to carry five passengers in complete comfort. The roof line is low and straight which with the larger radiator, now standard on all Ford cars, gave Ford designers an opportunity of effecting most graceful lines at the same time a most sturdy construction.

Besides its general appeal and high quality aspect, the Tudor sedan has several features which promise to win immediate favor.

The two doors are unusually wide, 28 3/4 inches, to be exact, and are set at the front of the car, hung in exceptionally heavy frames and swing open forward on either side in line with the driver's seat.

Because of the location of the door, the driver has convenient access to his seat without folding up the extra seat along side. The gasoline tank is located under the driver's seat making it unnecessary for him to disturb any other passengers when filling the tank.

Interior fittings are attractive. The upholstery is in special Ford fabric of dark brown with floor rug to match. Both the doors and side windows have been equipped with revolving window regulators of the same design as those used in cars of much higher price.

Sealing-Wax Jewelry

The furore for things Egyptian brought in a whole new line of ornaments and costume jewelry that will make novel and welcome Christmas gifts. The tallman pictured is fashioned of sealing wax and glass pendants and hangs from a black silk cord. It is the size of a silver dollar and the Sphinx head and globules are painted on, with sealing-wax paints, in any colors desired.

HOW TO RUN A NEWSPAPER

(Contributed)

To run a newspaper all a fellow has to do is to be able to write poems, discuss the tariff and money questions, umpire a baseball game, report a wedding, saw wood, describe a fire so that the readers will shed their wraps, make $1 do the work of $10, shine at a dance, measure calico, abuse the liquor habit, test whiskey, subscribe to charity, go without meals, attack free silver, wear diamonds, invent advertisements, sneer at snobbery, overlook scandal, appraise babies, delight potato raisers, minister to the afflicted, heal the disgruntled, fight to a finish, set type, mold public opinion, sweep out the office, speak at prayer meeting, and stand in with everybody and everything.

AMERICAN FOODS BEST SAYS FAMOUS DOCTOR

Athens.—American standard food-stuffs are the best in the world, says Dr. Mabel Elliott, famous woman physician, who for the past two years has been medical director of American orphanages in the Near East. From the standpoint of purity and high food value, she asserts that no European nation can compete with the United States, and for this reason she insists on American products in all orphanages and hospitals. In order to meet adequately the needs of undernourished children.

Dr. Elliott's annual report, summing up the results of the care of 50,000 children in orphanages as well as clinics for 50,000 additional children in refugee camps and homes, says:

"Stable American foods are now the backbone of all our menus for rebuilding children who became weak and anemic during the refugee exodus from Asia Minor. Our menus contain, not only bread made from American flour, and corn grits in porridge and stews, but also the liberal use of corn syrup, American condensed milk and American cocoa and macerol, thus making a balanced ration to meet all the scientific requirements as to relative food values, calories and vitamins.

The favorite orphanage pudding is composed of corn grits with cocoa, sweetened with corn syrup, and made more nutritious and palatable by adding a sauce of American condensed milk. Such a pudding has a high food value and is very economical—no other equivalent food value could be obtained from other foods at twice the cost. Moreover, it is so palatable that children eat it eagerly several times a week, and never seem to tire of it. The American people, in providing for these parentless children such pure and wholesome foods from their own tables, are certainly making a practical application of the golden rule."

Dr. Elliott has recently returned to America to arrange for the publication of a book of her experiences under the title of "Beginning Again at War."
