CLOUDS WITHOUT DUST.
For twenty years the assertion of Dr. Aitken, based on a series of beautiful experiments, that clouds cannot form in the air without dust particles to serve as nuclei for condensation has been accepted, but now Dr. Aitken himself has made a little sensation by disposing of his own previous statement. He has found that certain gases, such as hydrogen peroxide, sulphurous hydrogen and chlorine, when present in the atmosphere are converted by the action of sunlight into nuclei, upon which clouds condense and take place. Accordingly, although dust is ordinarily necessary for cloud formation, yet clouds may form in dustless air miles above the earth. It should be added that when his original conclusion was published Dr. Aitken admitted the possibility that sunshine might create gaseous nuclei, but he has only recently established the fact that it does.

Preserving Timber.
A series of experiments have recently been conducted in Germany for the purpose of testing the relative merits of lime, coal tar and carbolineum to preserve timber from rotting. Lime was found to be the least valuable, while coal tar preserved the exterior or surface while it did not facilitate the interior decay. Carbolineum, however, gave excellent results. Where the timber had been charred and dried before application was made. Coal tar has been found to possess any value as a preservative except as it excludes water. It does not penetrate the wood at all, and since it is waterproof any moisture in the wood when coated cannot escape and hastened decay. The action of carbolineum is unlike this; hence its greater efficacy.

Business Before Pleasures.
John Mitchell told a story recently in the Clover Club of Philadelphia which was of a certain grim humor.
He was talking about the seriousness of life, and his story bore out his view. He said there were two sisters, seamstresses, who lived in a little room and earned their bread by sewing. They were sunny and bright, but they seldom laughed.
They never wore costly clothes.
They did nothing but sit in a stooped attitude, sewing all day and a good part of the evening. One night when she was quite worn out with labor the younger said to the older sister: "Oh, dear! I wish we were both dead!" The older sister's mouth took on a grim smile as she returned: "He still and work hard. Business before pleasure."

A Daring Ex-Queen.
The most original and interesting member of the ill-fated house of Bourbon is the ex-Queen Sophia of Naples, sister of the murdered emperor of Austria. Thirty years ago she was a woman of remarkable beauty and daring and was the idol of the Neapolitan army. When the Sardinians were storming the fortress of Gaeta, the queen donned a uniform and fought bravely against them, showing her contempt of danger by coolly smoking a cigar while the bullets were raining around her.
She was also one of the bravest horsewomen in Europe and at one time on one occasion she rode a circus back and executed the most dangerous back-bend of a circus rider.

His Nose Burst into Flames.
A man was walking along the Boulevard St. Michel, Paris, one day recently and stopped to light a cigar.
Suddenly his nose burst into flames, which spread to his beard.
A crowd assembled, while the unfortunate man screamed with pain until a policeman took him to a pharmacist's shop, where his burns were treated. An examination of the nose showed that it was made of celluloid, the unscrupulous dealer who sold it having fastened it on his client instead of the horn nose, which had been prescribed.—New York Medical Journal.

The Transformed Laundry Table.
The colonial laundry table, which can be bought in many of the shops for a trifle over $4, would fail to recognize itself when transformed by clever treatment into a highly prized piece of decorative furniture.
The particular one in question is stained to a most satisfying shade of green. The movable broad table piece is turned backward and forms the high back of this original valued seat. There is a skillfully carved celtic border surrounding the seat, and the seat and sides of the bench part are carved even more elaborately in the same style. Even without the two handsome leather pillows this piece of furniture would cost close to $100.

Creamed Calf's Liver.
Into a pan put five tablespoonfuls of butter. When it is melted, put into it one pound of calf's liver cut fine, salt and pepper; brown carefully and cook for fifteen minutes.
Take up the liver and place it on a hot platter. Add one slice of onion to the gravy and let it cook one minute. Add one tablespoonful of flour and cook until it begins to brown. Drain the pan back and gradually add one pint of milk and cook one minute, stirring all the time.
Put the liver in the pan with the gravy and stew very slowly five minutes longer.

Table Covers.
Crimson table covers match the coverings of bedroom furniture.
These are made to the latest of ways, and only the best of French creations are used. A border of heavy lace or a knotted fringe is incorporated in the design usually as an edging around the cover.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE!
Some Suggestions as to the Proper Care of Lamps.
A lady who believes in having her "light to shine" says in a form paper:
As a general thing, as much wit goes to the care of lamps as to the boiling of eggs. In the first place, they should receive due attention every day. Leave their large silk or paper shades in the parlor or living room except when it is necessary to take them out of doors to use a flame hairbrush for cleaning the dust from their folds or flutings. Carry the lamps to the kitchen and set them down upon double folded newspapers. If they have porcelain shades, wipe these as you take them off and set aside with the chimneys.
Should they need washing put them into a basin of hot water which you have softened with a little ammonia or borax. Don't use soap, as it is apt to make them cloudy. This done, turn up the wicks of the lamps and with a bit of stick or a match scrape out the charred edges. Do not cut them unless the wick is very uneven. Remove the rims that surround the burners and wipe them off with the old flannel or soft cloth you reserve for your lamps.
Now fill the lamps, and do it carefully to avoid an overflow. The best plan is to keep a small funnel with the oil can and, inserting the point of the tube in the opening provided for filling in the side of the lamp, pour cautiously until the reservoir is full. The lamps that are made with reservoirs which fit into other jars are decidedly the easiest to fill.
Whatever kind you use, wipe the outside of the reservoirs after you have filled and closed them, but do not persistently pouring oil any more to exclude. Be very sure no drops of oil have trickled down upon the outside of the lamps to make their way to the bottom rim or feet and leave a greasy place on the stand or shelf.
Give a final rub to the outside of each lamp, replace the rim, chimney and shade.
Sometimes it will be necessary to give the lamp a thorough washing in hot water and ammonia. Nothing but a free use of a powerful alkali will remove the clinging grease.
When a lamp burner is clogged and gives a poor light, hold it for an hour in water with a lump of washing soda or a little borax.

Portable Fountains.
German fountains of various forms may now be seen in many gardens, both small and large, and the manner in which the water is forced to ascend into the air is very pretty.
The devices are metal plated and ornamental and can be adapted to tubs or pipes of any size.
Moreover, they are constructed differently from the others, and thus any one who has a natural spring or brook on his land or who cares to make an artificial pond on his lawn or in his garden can by means of these ingenious metal apparatus sprinkle his flowers and give for a great distance and can also keep the air cool on warm days by a series of fountains. Being of so many forms, these fountains are a very pretty sight and answer both to artistic taste.—New York Herald.

Comets of the New Year.
Eight comets are due to pass a perilous course in 1905. In fact, the perihelion date of one, the Tempel-Swift comet, fell in December, 1904, and that of another, P/Arrest's, comes in January, 1905.
Seven of them made their last previous visit in 1903 and one, it is not expected that all will be visible to the eye. Some will be hidden behind the sun, and some are approaching to the sun's surface, and under the influence of Jupiter, Uranus and Neptune. The comet

Some Boston Humor.
Talk about names! Mr. Longtime and Mrs. Lemon, who live in a western Massachusetts town, spent Sunday with friends in another town. Now I wonder if the mannion has been a long time in fact, and if the woman has an and nature. If she has, she'll be a comet in a long time. And I want to know why the Malted Milk Club of that town met with Miss Pearl Fish the other night. And did Miss Fish and Miss Lemon have a meeting of the Eaton club another night? Were they a Longtime Eaton? Of course, if Mrs. Longtime was there she was a Longtime Eaton. Did Miss Lemon have a Lemon-and was the seat to him?—Boston Home Journal.

Are You An Antisarcophagist?
In the Conservator, a paper which is by no means so conservative as its name suggests, we find a word which will become very useful if credulous about food continue to flourish—antisarcophagist. This means one who eats fish, eggs and milk as distinguished from the flesh eater and from the vegetarian. The suggestion of sarcophagus is accidental, but infelicitous.

A Platform Speaker.
"That man," remarked Smithers, "makes a hundred speeches from the platform every day."
"Such a great 'political' leader?" asked Smithers.
"No," replied Smithers, "street car conductor. He says, 'Move up forward, please,' every time any one gets on his car."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Mark Twain's Skull.
Mark Twain announces that he is giving his skull to Cornell university, where it can be studied for the enlightenment of future generations. "I am getting pretty old," said Mr. Clemens recently, "and shall probably not use the skull after next Christmas, I suppose. But if I should, I will pay rent."

OUTGREW HIS SKIN.
Joseph Powell, thirteen years old, whose home is in New Albany, Ind., has grown twelve inches in height in the last six months and broken his skin, which did not increase in size at a rate as fast as that of the rest of the body. During some of the time that he was growing he was at the point of death from typhoid fever. "That he was growing fast" is the explanation given by his mother, and she has a list of the things he has eaten. He had not been outside for a week, and he had 28 lbs. of beef on a table.
The boy's mother says that he had a fever of 104 degrees, and he had been in bed for a week.
A trial for the fever came, and the boy began to improve, but he did not grow so fast as the bones, and the flesh began to crack and separate, particularly on the arms and legs. He suffered greatly from this stretching of the skin, which became as tight as a drumhead, and finally burst. The breaks in the skin are now healing, and the physicians think that scars may not be left.

Every Man Can Be His Own Moral Master.
A man once lived in New York for the purpose of making a study of the character of his fellow men.
Young, the woman said. "What was the result of your study?" He said that he had found that men were naturally and usually good, but that they were made bad by the influence of the environment. The practical consequences of accepting such a theory of life are so unobscured that most sane people reject it with horror.
Every man has his own moral code of values, in the sense of his conscience. That is necessary, as but for the sign of man's conscience is not the same thing as being that man.
