Local and Personal.

Miss Blanche Coffin returned from Richmond last week. Mr W J Scarborough went away Monday on a business trip. Mr Hugh McCain is visiting his daughter Mrs J S Ridge.

Mr D B McCrary made a business trip to Troy last week. Mr T J Winslow went to Greensboro yesterday. Born to Mr and Mrs George Barker a fine baby girl.

Crown Billing Company Changes Here. Mr C C Crawford bought out the Crown Billing Mill yesterday of Mr C J Cox. Mrs. Anna Gates Getting Dead. The Greensboro Correspondent writes that Mrs. Anna Gates, who died in Decatur, Ill., passed the Asheboro roller mill until recently when he sold out to Mr Arthur Ross.

MARRIAGES. On last Sunday morning Miss Ida Ely daughter of Mr and Mrs Ebenezer Winslow was married to Mr Frank Phillips. The ceremony was performed by Rev W E Swan at the home of the brides parents. At the bride's home in Burlington Miss Belle Stafford to Mr James Chock of Durham. Miss Stafford is very well known in Asheboro having spent several weeks here last winter during her sister, Mrs Bunch's illness.

Deaths of Horses. In the last ten days six horses have died in Asheboro. Messrs E G Morris and M S Davis lost one each as mentioned in last week's paper. Melborell Bros lost one next; then Mrs Morgan, widow of the late John Morgan, sent one to town with a load of lumber. It was taken sick and died here. On Saturday night Mr Jesse Miller lost one, and yesterday Mr Otis Rich. Mr Rich's horse had been sick with pneumonia for the last ten days.

Asheboro's Growth. The school authorities have just finished taking a census of the corporate town and the figures show a very gratifying increase in population. The last legislature extended the limits on three sides of the town but making allowance for new population taken in by the extension. The returns show an increase of nearly 65 per cent over the figures of 1900. Asheboro's growth for the past few years has been rapid and substantial as it ought to have been for it is one of the best towns in the state.

Graded School Opening. The Asheboro graded schools begin today, and it is important that there be a full attendance at the beginning of the term. Let every parent in Asheboro send all his children of school age from the beginning, and make a sacrifice, if necessary, to do so. You may leave your children houses and homes, lands and tenements, and vast estates in stocks and bonds, but these frequently slip from the hands of the owners, but an education is a priceless gift, it cannot be stolen or swept away. It may be used for good or evil as the mind may be inclined. An education properly directed is worth more to your boy or girl than any inheritance of lands or money.

The Misses Moring Entertained. The Misses Moring entertained the young people at their home Tuesday night in a very unique way. The entertainment was given to the "Hamblers" and their escorts, and visitors in town were also invited. The young couples got together and were given hats and trimmings and the young men were requested to trim hats and let the ladies wear them. After the hats were trimmed, the couples paraded so that the judges might decide who the best milliner. Miss Etta Blair wore the hat that was awarded the prize—it was trimmed by Mr J A Spence who showed talents above the average man in "hat trimming."
