

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is still afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant condition of the kidneys and bladder is not a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Cradle of Tears.

There is a cradle within the door of one of the great institutions of New York before which a constant pouring of tragedy is being enacted. It is a plain cradle, quite simply draped in white, but with such a look of cozy comfort about it that one would scarcely suspect it to be a cradle of sorrow.

And this cradle is the most useful and, in a way, the most inhabited cradle in the world. Day after day, year after year, it is the recipient of more small wayfaring souls than any other cradle in the history of the race. In it the real children of sorrow are placed, and over its more tears are shed than if it were an open grave.

It is the place where annually 1,200 foundlings are placed—the silent witness of more truly heart-breaking scenes than any other cradle since the world began. For nearly thirty-five years it has stood where it does to-day, ready-draped, open, while as many thousands of mothers have been shamed facelessly in and, after looking helplessly about, have laid their helpless offspring within its depths.

For thirty-five years, winter and summer, in the bitterest cold and the most stifling heat, it has seen them come—the poor, the rich, the humble, the proud; the beautiful, the homely—and one by one they have laid their children down and brooded over them, wondering whether it were possible for human love to make so great a sacrifice and yet not die.

Still the tragedy repeats itself, and year after year, and day after day the unlocked door is opened and dejected virtue enters—the victim of ignorance and passion and affection, and a child is robbed of an honorable home.—Theodore Deiser, in Tom Watson's Magazine for May.

Best For Children.

Mothers, be careful of the health of your children. Look out for Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Contains no opiates. Sold by Standard Drug Co., J. T. Underwood, Ashboro.

Can You Eat?

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Christman, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles, I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures. Sold by Standard Drug Co., J. T. Underwood, Ashboro.

For the Housewife.

In housekeeping liberality is often the best economy, particularly at the beginning of winter, when the wise expenditure of a considerable sum on the season's food supply may mean the saving of many a dollar. Some practical advice in this direction is given by Isabel Gordon Curtis in the October Delinquent, which contains many features of housewifely interest. "Hallow'en Party Novelties," illustrating delicacies for Hallow'en refreshment and entertainment, is a reasonable item, and other culinary topics are "Serving Game Dishes," "Celery Novelties," "Home-Made and Whole-Wheat Bread," and "A Rice Roundelay." In addition, Mary Taylor-Ross has some helpful notes on "Little Things of Housekeeping."

Numerous and Worthless.

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. U. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for itches. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by Standard Drug Co., J. T. Underwood, Ashboro.

Japanese Precepts.

The seven precepts which the Emperor of Japan laid down for the guidance of his soldiers twenty-three years ago are really very interesting to every company after roll call, after which each company recites in concert. The precepts are as follows:

- (1) To be sincere and loyal and guard against untruthfulness.
- (2) To respect superiors, keep true to comrades and guard against lawlessness and insolence.
- (3) To obey the commands of superiors, irrespective of its nature, and never to resist or disregard it.
- (4) To prize bravery and courage, and be diligent in the performance of duties, and guard against cowardice and timidity.
- (5) To boast not of brutal courage, and neither quarrel with nor insult others, which will incite general hatred.
- (6) To cultivate virtue and practice frugality and guard against extravagance and effeminacy.
- (7) To prize reputation and honor and guard against vulgarity and greed.

THREE JURORS CURED.

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving as a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, Alabama, county seat of Choctaw county. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some small and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that that medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the first I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale by Standard Drug Co., Ashboro, W. A. Underwood, Hightower, Ala.

The Fatherless Home.

Again the death angel has come to our old and beloved brother Taylor. He passed over the river last Thursday night Sept. 14, 1900. He had been sick for several months and all through his sickness he bore the bitter and cutting pain of cholera with much patience. He often spoke of that glorious city beyond the river and the sweet hope which he had of reaching it. The sweet consolation was with him that he was ready and willing to go and meet with his loved ones that have gone on before him. He was a man that always had a kind word for every body. He was a kind and noble neighbor and a loving father in his home. The community will miss him in many ways and we would extend a word or two to the pained and grieving wife and children that are left behind to comfort the loss of husband and father. You have our heartfelt sympathies and we bid you that the Lord greet and the Lord take away. Remember that at the longest it will not be long a few years and we shall see you in that better city beyond if we will only be faithful and do what the blessed Saviour has given us the privilege of doing. Just to true, faithful Christians a few more years and we shall all meet our maker with no shame, no mourning, no farewell but all sweet peace.

May God in his loving kindness visit and comfort and keep the family in their grief and kindly leave in the grasp of a strong hand.

Laura E. Taylor.

Some Tried Recipes for Irish and Sweet Potatoes.

POTATO BALLS OR MARBLES.

After paring your potatoes thoroughly wash and cut into balls by the use of a French cutter. Boil in water in which you have thrown a little salt. Have ready white sauce composed of two tablespoons of butter and two of flour with one cup of milk and a seasoning of salt and pepper. When well blended pour over the marbles, adding a tablespoon of chopped parsley and serve.

NOIRLAND CROQUETTES.

Take a cup full of mashed potatoes the same amount of very fine bread or cracker crumbs and the same of finely minced cheese and mix all together. Set the mixing bowl on the stove and stir in one-third of a cupful of butter, a little cayenne, a teaspoonful of salt and two eggs. Form into croquettes, roll in egg, then in cracker crumbs, and fry in hot fat.

SWEET POTATO SOUPS.

Mash sweet potatoes (boiled) until there are four cupsful, and mix into quart of flour in which has been sifted two teaspoonful of salt. Mix this with milk enough to make a dough, turn out onto the board, roll and cut in eight pieces. Bake in a quick oven for ten minutes.

Strange Superstitions About the Hair.

It is said that more fair people than dark ones remain unmarried, and people residing in the country have lighter hair than those who live in towns, owing to the fact that they are more in the sun and fresh air. Black hair was most esteemed by the ancient Jews, while the Greeks and Romans gave the preference to the golden shades. Those with dark hair work best, those with fair hair think the most. Red hair is a sign of passion, jealousy, and arbor, and arbor shades indicate delicacy and refinement of taste; dark brown hair combines strength and susceptibility; while black hair denotes hasty temper, self-will, and revenge. Black haired people are the most liable to consumption and heart disease; red haired to pleurisy, pneumonia, ague, and neuralgia, and fair haired persons to skin diseases. Cloudy curled hair denotes vivacity and excitability; hair curling in irregular rings on the face indicates good nature and vitality; hair parting naturally down the center and falling over the temples denotes feminine element, and genius of a certain kind; straight hair in cultured persons indicates evenness of character, honesty of purpose, a clear head, and good talent.

Good hair, like good teeth, runs in families, and it is noticeable that mothers with a fine head of hair generally transmit it to their daughter. In some families the hair of the men and the women turns grey at an early age.

As with families, so with races, and good hair may be looked upon as a national characteristic. At all events a magnificent head of hair, perfectly alike in color and texture, is a sight for "sair een," and, next to her eyes, is the theme which poets have delighted in dwelling upon since first they sang their praise of woman.
